Transformational Tool Kit for Front Line Nurses, An Issue of Nursing Clinics of North America Francisca Cisneros Farrar, 2015-04-07 Nurses are faced with unprecedented challenges and opportunities. Healthcare delivery models are transforming that require adaptive and flexible nurses. The primary role of the frontline nurse is providing patient care. To be successful in this role, it requires numerous competencies supported by evidence-based data. Frontline bedside nurses are fundamental to the success of value-based care delivery models. These transformational models rely on robust nursing contributions for success. Most frontline nurses don't understand value-based care models and their role in promoting positive outcomes for reimbursement. This issue is a tool kit to empower our frontline nurses for challenges they are facing with transformations occurring at their bedside practice site. The articles will be a best practice handbook for frontline nurses by providing resources to develop clinical skills to provide safe, quality, and accountable patient care needed for new healthcare delivery models.

The COVID-19 Pandemic and Older Adults Edward Alan Miller, 2025-06-27 The rapid onset of the COVID-19 pandemic presented a multi-faceted challenge to older adults, carers, and care institutions globally. Despite a wide range of policies that achieved some success in protecting older adults from serious illness and death from COVID-19, older adults continue to bear the burden of risk for these most severe outcomes. Additionally, some early efforts to protect older adults often via extreme isolation measures both within care facilities and in the community yielded unanticipated health and psychosocial impacts on older adults and care and service networks and revealed systemic ageism in health and social policies worldwide. This book compiles research conducted both during and after the height of the COVID-19 pandemic on the impacts of immediate response efforts while delving into the longer-term differential effects across population subgroups and organizations. Four main areas examined in the volume's 25 chapters: Flexibility and innovation in early responses, ageism and isolation, long-term care, and the direct care workforce and disparities in access and experiences. Governments, agencies, and aging services organizations will benefit from fully considering lessons learned and incorporating them into future emergency response efforts, accounting for similarities and differences in manifestations and consequences across different subpopulations and organization and policy contexts.
