Religious Plurality in Africa Marloes Janson, Kai Kresse, Benedikt Pontzen, Hassan Mwakimako, 2024 Grounded in ethnographic and historiographic research and taking a cross regional approach this book explores the complex dynamics of similarity and difference rapprochement and detachment and divergence and competition between practitioners of Christianity Islam and African religious traditions Across Africa Muslims Christians and practitioners of African religious traditions live in shared settings demarcating themselves in opposition to one another and at times engaging in violent conflicts but also being entangled in complex ways and showing unexpected similarities and mutual cross overs However while encounters and entanglements of African religious traditions with either Islam or Christianity have long been a central research issue the configuration as a whole has barely been taken into account even though Muslims Christians and practitioners of African religious traditions have long co existed and still co exist more or less peacefully in many settings in Africa Building on recent interventions to move beyond the compartmentalization of the study of religion in Africa this edited volume will spotlight why and how an integrated approach to Islam Christianity and African religious traditions is important Bringing together stimulating case studies from Kenya Nigeria Zanzibar Ghana and Mozambique that offer new directions for ethnographic and historical research the volume will not only shed light on an important phenomenon out there in the world the long overlooked ways in which Muslims Christians and practitioners of African religious traditions interact with one another in various majority minority configurations but will also engage with a critical rethinking of the study of religion in Africa and beyond and interpretations that are constantly negotiated For some RE means religious nurturing either tailored to parental views or meant to inculcate a uniform religiosity For others RE means learning about the many religious and non religious world views and secular ethics that exist not promoting one religion or another Some seek to avoid the ambiguous term religious education replacing it with terms such as education about religions and beliefs or the religious dimension of intercultural education

Putting Burdens on Broken Shoulders Ken Crispin,2023-03-22 Conservative Christian views on marriage and divorce are often presented as bulwarks against the tragedy of marital breakdown Yet the advice given to divorced Christians and those facing the disintegration of their relationships is often irresponsible and damaging Women fleeing domestic violence are told they are bound to their abusers by indissoluble spiritual bonds Some are sent back to face further violence Children are exposed to further abuse People are condemned to lives of unnecessary loneliness and second marriages are undermined A pall is cast over many lives Why Why should vulnerable people be given advice that is so damaging Those who protest are told that this is what the Bible teaches But does it This book critically examines the relevant texts revealing fundamental errors due to theological misconceptions and difficulties of understanding nuances of the original languages and the contexts in which crucial words were spoken Properly understood the relevant biblical passages do not lock people into intolerable situations Christians are called to be faithful in their marital relationships but not to pretend that former marriages still exist or refuse to recognize subsequent ones And we are called to embrace not condemn the brokenhearted
