 ubiquitous computing security security isolation in software defined networking Problems With A Point: Exploring Math And Computer Science William Gasarch, Clyde Kruskal, 2018-12-26 Points questions stories and occasional rants introduce the 24 chapters of this engaging volume With a focus on mathematics and peppered with a scattering of computer science settings the entries range from lightly humorous to curiously thought provoking Each chapter includes sections and sub sections that illustrate and supplement the point at hand Most topics are self contained within each chapter and a solid high school mathematics background is all that is needed to enjoy the discussions There certainly is much to enjoy here CHOICE Ever notice how people sometimes use math words inaccurately Or how sometimes you instinctively know a math statement is false or not known Each chapter of this book makes a point like those above and then illustrates the point by doing some real mathematics through step by step mathematical techniques This book gives readers valuable information about how mathematics and theoretical computer science work while teaching them some actual mathematics and computer science through examples and exercises Much of the mathematics could be understood by a bright high school student The points made can be understood by anyone with an interest in math from the bright high school student to a Field

Crippled Frances Ryan, 2020-09-01 The austerity crisis and threat to disability rights New updated edition includes the impact of COVID on Britain's 14 million disabled people In austerity Britain disabled people have been recast as worthless scroungers From social care to the benefits system politicians and the media alike have made the case that Britain's 12 million disabled people are nothing but a drain on the public purse In

Crippled journalist and campaigner Frances Ryan exposes the disturbing reality telling the stories of those most affected by this devastating regime It is at once both a damning indictment of a safety net so compromised it strangles many of those it catches and a passionate demand for an end to austerity which hits hardest those most in need Studies in Intelligence
