Raise The Red Lantern Three Novellas:

Raise the Red Lantern Tong Su, 1993 This collection of three novellas includes Nineteen Thirty Four Escapes Opium Family and Raise the Red Lantern upon which the Academy Award nominated film was based Raise the Red Lantern Su Tong, 2004-07-06 The brutal realities of the dark places Su Tong depicts in this collection of novellas set in 1930s provincial China worlds of prostitution poverty and drug addiction belie his prose of stunning and simple beauty The title novella Raise the Red Lantern which became a critically acclaimed film tells the story of Lotus a young woman whose father's suicide forces her to become the concubine of a wealthy merchant Crushed by loneliness despair and cruel treatment Lotus finds her descent into insanity both a weapon and a refuge Nineteen Thirty Four Escapes is an account of a family's struggles during one momentous year plagued by disease death and the shady promise of life in a larger town the family slowly disintegrates Finally Opium Family details the last years of a landowning clan whose demise is brought about by corruption lust and treachery fruits of the insidious crop they harvest Bluebeard Casie Hermansson, 2009 Bluebeard is the main character in one of the grisliest and most enduring fairy tales A serial wife murderer he keeps a horror chamber in which remains of all his previous matrimonial victims are secreted from his latest bride She is given all the keys but forbidden to open one door of the castle This is a major study of the tale and its many variants in English from the 18th and 19th century chapbooks children's toybooks pantomimes melodramas and circus spectacles to the 20th century in music literature art film and theatre Adapted for the Screen Hsiu-Chuang Deppman, 2010-04-30 Contemporary Chinese films are popular with audiences worldwide but a key reason for their success has gone unnoticed many of the films are adapted from brilliant literary works This book is the first to put these landmark films in the context of their literary origins and explore how the best Chinese directors adapt fictional narratives and styles for film Hsiu Chuang Deppman unites aesthetics with history in her argument that the rise of cinema in China Hong Kong and Taiwan in the late 1980s was partly fueled by burgeoning literary movements Fifth Generation director Zhang Yimou's highly acclaimed films Red Sorghum Raise the Red Lantern and To Live are built on the experimental works of Mo Yan Su Tong and Yu Hua respectively Hong Kong new wave's Ann Hui and Stanley Kwan capitalized on the irresistible visual metaphors of Eileen Chang's postrealism Hou Xiaoxian's new Taiwan cinema turned to fiction by Huang Chunming and Zhu Tianwen for fine grained perspectives on class and gender relations Delving equally into the individual approaches of directors and writers Deppman initiates readers into the exciting possibilities emanating from the world of Chinese cinema The seven in depth studies include a diverse array of forms cinematic adaptation of literature literary adaptation of film auto adaptation and non narrative adaptation and a variety of genres martial arts melodrama romance autobiography documentary drama Complementing this formal diversity is a geographical range that far exceeds the cultural linguistic and physical boundaries of China The directors represented here also work in the U S and Europe and reflect the growing international resources of Chinese language cinema With her sophisticated blend of stylistic and historical analyses Deppman brings much needed nuance to current conversations about the politics of gender class and race in the work of the most celebrated Chinese writers and directors Her pioneering study will appeal to all readers general and academic who have an interest in Chinese literature cinema and culture Chinese Femininities/Chinese Masculinities Susan Brownell, Jeffrey N. Wasserstrom, 2002-01-07 Chinese Literature Lydia H Liu

Translating Chinese Fiction Tan Yesheng, 2024-06-28 Drawing on the cognitive translational paradigm this book introduces a situation embedded cognitive construction model of translation and explores the thinking portfolios of British and American sinologists cum translators to re examine their multiple voices and cognition in translating Chinese fiction By placing sinologists cum translators in the same discourse space the study transcends the limitations of previous case studies and offers a comprehensive cognitive panorama of how Chinese novels are rendered The author explores the challenges and difficulties of translating Chinese fiction from the insider perspectives of British and American sinologists and cross validates their multiple voices by aligning them with cross cultural communication scenarios Based on the cognitive construction model of translation the book provides a systematic review of the translation thoughts and ideas of the community of sinologists in terms of linguistic conventions narrative styles contextual and cultural frames readership categories and metaphorical models of translation It envisions a new research path to enhance empirical research on translators cognition in a dynamic translation ecosystem The title will be an essential read for students and scholars of translation studies and Chinese studies It will also appeal to translators and researchers interested in cognitive stylistics literary studies and intercultural communication studies The Literature of China in the Twentieth Century Bonnie S. McDougall, Kam Louie, 1997 This text surveys the literature of the Chinese mainland concentrating on fiction poetry and drama with background surveys on the historical social and cultural context and chapters on individual writers and their works It assumes no knowledge of Chinese Topics include the role of writers and the function of literature in a modernizing society the long native Chinese tradition the emphasis on culture and propaganda in a modernizing state the relation of writers to their readers and writers general impact on modern Chinese society Contemporary Chinese Novels in Translation since 1978 Yun Wu, 2024-10-14 This book aims to complement the traditional focus of translation studies which has primarily centered on translating English into other languages It presents a comprehensive analysis of the reverse translation trajectory exploring the movement of Chinese literature into the core English literary domain The book aims to explore the ideological and sociological dynamics that underlie the translation of contemporary Chinese novels This is achieved through an examination of the translation selection process translation paratexts and the roles of translation agents Case studies are employed to illustrate specific linguistic literary and cultural challenges within translation It dissects the cultural and literary implications of translating genres such as women's writing science fiction and Internet literature The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature Beyond its literary implications the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government which aims to reshape China's image and bolster the nation's soft power through literary translation This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies comparative literature and Chinese studies     The Cambridge Companion to the Modern Gothic Jerrold E. Hogle, 2014-12-04 This Companion explores the Gothic across literature film television and cyberspace revealing how it has proliferated since 1900 as an expression of modernity Essays examine the role of Gothic in major struggles of modern life over sex and gender the intermixing of different cultures and the very nature of modernity     A Companion to American Gothic Charles L. Crow, 2013-09-10 A Companion to American Gothic features a collection of original essays that explore America's gothic literary tradition The largest collection of essays in the field of American Gothic Contributions from a wide variety of scholars from around the world The most complete coverage of theory major authors popular culture and non print media available     Reel Food Anne L. Bower, 2012-08-06 Reel Food is the first book devoted to food as a vibrant and evocative element of film featuring original essays by major food studies scholars among them Carole Counihan and Michael Ashkenazi This collection reads various films through their uses of food from major food films like Babette's Feast and Big Night to less obvious choices including The Godfather trilogy and The Matrix The contributors draw attention to the various ways in which food is employed to make meaning in film In some cases such as Soul Food and Tortilla Soup for example food is used to represent racial and ethnic identities In other cases such as Chocolat and Like Water for Chocolate food plays a role in gender and sexual politics And of course there is also discussion of the centrality of popcorn to the movie going experience This book is a feast for scholars foodies and cinema buffs It will be of major interest to anyone working in popular culture film studies and food studies at both the undergraduate and graduate level     The Troublesome Legacy of Commissioner Lin Joyce A. Madancy, 2020-03-23 In 1908 a very public crusade against opium was in full swing throughout China and the provincial capital and treaty port of Fuzhou was a central stage for the campaign This the most successful attempt undertaken by the Chinese state before 1949 to eliminate opium came at a time when according to many historians China's central state was virtually powerless This volume attempts to reconcile that apparent contradiction The remarkable albeit temporary success of the anti opium campaign between 1906 and 1920 is as yet largely unexplained How these results were achieved how that progress was squandered and why China's opium problem proved so tenacious are the questions that inspired this volume The attack on this social problem was led by China's central and provincial authorities aided by reformist elites and seemingly supported by most Chinese The anti opium movement relied on the control and oversight provided by a multilayered state bureaucracy the activism and support of unofficial elite led reform groups the broad nationalistic and humanitarian appeal of the campaign and the cooperation of the British government The extent to which the Chinese state was able to control the pace and direction of the anti opium campaign and the evolving nature of the political space in which elite reformers publicized and enforced that campaign are the guiding themes of this analysis Liu Zaifu: Selected Critical Essays Zaifu Liu, 2021-06-17 Liu Zaifu is a name that has already been ingrained within contemporary Chinese literary history This landmark volume presents Anglophone readers with Liu's profound reflections on Chinese literature and culture at different times The essays collected here demonstrate Liu's historical experience and trajectory as an exiled Chinese intellectual who persistently safeguards the individuality and the autonomy of literature refusing to succumb to political manipulation Liu's theory of literary subjectivity has opened ways for Chinese writers to thrive and innovate His panoramic view not only unravels the intricate interplay between literature and politics but also firmly regards the transcendental value of literature as a significant ground to subvert revolutionary dogmatism and criticize Chinese modernity Rather than drawing upon the existing paradigm he reinvents his own unique theoretical conceptions in order to exile the borrowed gods
