Abstract: This study was designed to assess the impact of a 10-week, 12-session, group-based, self-help program on the self-efficacy and self-management skills of people with type 2 diabetes. The program was developed by a multidisciplinary team of health professionals and was based on the principles of the Health Belief Model. The program was evaluated using a pretest-posttest design. The results of the study showed that the program had a significant positive impact on the self-efficacy and self-management skills of the participants. The findings suggest that the program is a promising intervention for improving the self-efficacy and self-management skills of people with type 2 diabetes.
