Barbara Ann Teer and the National Black Theatre Lundeana Marie Thomas, 2015-12-22 While chronicling the development of Teer's National Black Theatre of Harlem this study explores the National Black Theatre's quest to develop a new black theory of acting Teer's theory of performance was realized in a theater that combined elements of Pentacostal worship and African ritual melding spontaneity from the performers percussive music singing dancing emotional expression from both actors and audience and spectacle The National Black Theatre's major achievement is the creation of an original art form that helps African Americans identify with their roots and invites spontaneous audience interaction The study offers the National Black Theatre as a model African American community theater with valuable lessons for other theaters The innovative methods of the National Black Theatre provide a model for enlightening and sensitizing audiences to cultural diversity A pioneering institution the National Black Theatre has proven itself over its 25 year history to be a cultural treasure and the quintessential theater in Harlem Also includes maps Bibliography and index foreword by Dr Winona Fletcher Professor Emeritus of Theater and Drama and Afro American Studies Founder of the National Black Theatre

Black Playwrights and Heightened Text Jacqueline Springfield, 2025-04-03 Black Playwrights and Heightened Text When Shakespeare Ain't Enough breaks down the misconception that heightened text sits only within a white tradition and brings the work of Black playwrights from across history to the forefront by highlighting the use of heightened dramatic text in their work Interrogating the use of linguistic techniques often seen in heightened text such as enjambment assonance and consonance author Jacqueline Springfield looks at the ways in which these techniques allow the text itself to have a kind of permanence in audiences minds and works to reinforce a character's objective within the play The book presents examples of works from a plethora of Black playwrights including Langston Hughes Lorraine Hansberry Amiri Baraka August Wilson Katori Hall Marcus Gardley Tarell Alvin McCraney and many more as well as providing the context in which they're writing Theatre artists who read teach direct and perform the work of Black playwrights answer key questions in their own words in interviews with the author Interviewees include Dominique Morisseau Ron OJ Parson Mfoniso Udofia Zora Howard and many other theatre practitioners Taking a chronological approach the book examines the history of heightened text in the works of Black playwrights and re-defines the ways in which theatre students and scholars can understand the techniques of heightened texts outside of a purely Eurocentric and white perspective Ideal for students of theatre history acting playwriting and text analysis as well as researchers of African American theatre
