Between Poetry And Politics Essays In Honour Of Enda McDonagh:

Between Poetry and Politics Linda Hogan, Barbara Fitzgerald, Enda McDonagh, 2003 The uniqueness of this collection is that it situates moral theology somewhere between poetry and politics and in so doing brings together authors whose voices are rarely heard together Artists poets politicians and theologians together reflect on the manner in which the imaginative political and religious intersect

From Jeremiad to Jihad John D. Carlson, Jonathan H. Ebel, 2012-06-06 Violence has been a central feature of America's history culture and place in the world It has taken many forms from state sponsored uses of force such as war or law enforcement to revolution secession terrorism and other actions with important political and cultural implications Religion also holds a crucial place in the American experience of violence particularly for those who have found order and meaning in their worlds through religious texts symbols rituals and ideas Yet too often the religious dimensions of violence especially in the American context are ignored or overstated in either case poorly understood

From Jeremiad to Jihad Religion Violence and America corrects these misunderstandings Charting and interpreting the tendrils of religion and violence this book reveals how formative moments of their intersection in American history have influenced the ideas institutions and identities associated with the United States Religion and violence provide crucial yet underutilized lenses for seeing America anew including its outlook on and relation to the world

War and the American Difference Stanley Hauerwas, 2011-10-01 How are American identity and America's presence in the world shaped by war and what does God have to do with it Esteemed theologian Stanley Hauerwas helps readers reflect theologically on war church justice and nonviolence in this compelling volume exploring issues such as how America depends on war for its identity how war affects the soul of a nation the sacrifices that war entails and why war is considered necessary especially in America He also examines the views of nonviolence held by Martin Luther King Jr and C S Lewis how Jesus constitutes the justice of God and the relationship between congregational ministry and Christian formation in America

Serve and Protect Tobias Winright, 2020-11-13 This collection of essays on policing and the use of force while written over the course of the last twenty five years remains relevant and timely Although issues in policing and questions about excessive force and brutality have been addressed by criminologists sociologists philosophers and criminal justice ethicists only a handful of theological ethicists treat this pressing matter While the Christian moral tradition has a voluminous record of theological attention to violence and nonviolence war and peace there is a dearth of references to policing And most considerations of criminal justice issues by Christians and their churches concentrate on prison reform or abolition and the death penalty but not policing These essays authored by a theological ethicist possessing professional experience in law enforcement seek to fill this curious gap They offer a framework for moral reasoning concerning the justification for police use of force and the just application of such force and they propose just policing as a model that is consonant with promoting a just peace in communities and society In addition they explore the implications of such an approach for wider international questions about just war terrorism the responsibility to protect and post war justice Religion and the Politics of Peace and Conflict Linda Hogan, Dylan Lee Lehrke, 2009-01-01 The connections between religion and violence are complex and multifaceted From the conflicts in Middle East and the Balkans to those in Southeast Asia and beyond religion frames and legitimates political violence Moreover in international relations since 9 11 religious language and metaphors have acquired a new significance In this context the emerging consensus appears to be not only that violence is intrinsic to religion but also that religions incite legitimate and intensify political violence However such an unambiguous indictment of religions is incomplete in that it fails both to appreciate significant counter examples and to recognize the diversity that exists within religions on the issue of violence particularly the religious roots of pacifism and the ethics of non violence This collection explores aspects of this ambivalence between religion and violence It focuses on traditions of legitimation and pacifism within the three monotheistic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam and concludes with an examination of this ambivalence as it unfolds in each tradition s engagement with the politics of gender

A History of Catholic Moral Theology in the Twentieth Century James F. Keenan, 2010-01-17 This is an historical survey of 20th Century Roman Catholic Theological Ethics also known as moral theology The thesis is that only through historical investigation can we really understand how the most conservative and negative field in Catholic theology at the beginning of the 20th could become by the end of the 20th century the most innovative one The 20th century begins with moral manuals being translated into the vernacular After examining the manuals of Thomas Slater and Henry Davis Keenan then turns to three works and a crowning synthesis of innovation all developed before during and soon after the Second World War The first by Odon Lottin asks whether moral theology is adequately historical Fritz Tillmann asks whether it s adequately biblical and Gerard Gilleman whether it s adequately spiritual Bernard Haering integrates these contributions into his Law of Christ Of course people like Gerald Kelly and John Ford in the US are like a few moralists elsewhere classical gate keepers censoring innovation But with Humanae vitae and successive encyclicals bishops and popes reject the direction of moral theologians At the same time moral theologians like Josef Fuchs ask whether the locus of moral truth is in continuous universal teachings of the magisterium or in the moral judgment of the informed conscience In their move toward a deeper appreciation of their field as forming consciences they turn more deeply to local experience where they continue their work of innovation Each continent subsequently gives rise to their own respondents In Europe they speak of autonomy and personalism in Latin America liberation theology in North America Feminism and Black Catholic theology and in Asia and Africa a deep post colonial interculturatism At the end I assert that in its nature theological ethics is historical and innovative seeking moral truth for the conscience by looking to speak crossculturally

The Rising Global Cancer Pandemic Andrea Vicini S.J., Philip J. Landrigan, Kurt Straif, 2023-01-10 The Global Theological Ethics book series focuses on works that feature authors from around the world draw on resources from the traditions of Catholic theological ethics and attend to concrete issues facing the world today It advances the Journal of Moral Theology's mission of fostering scholarship deeply rooted in traditions of inquiry about the moral life engaged with contemporary issues and exploring the interface of Catholic moral theology philosophy economics political philosophy psychology and more Gerald Goldberg Dermot Keogh, Diarmuid Whelan, 2008 Recollections from a variety of writers historians artists and politicians on the life of the ex Lord Mayor of Cork polymath and lawyer Gerald Goldberg Moral Theology for the 21st Century Julie Clague, Bernard Hoose, Gerard Mannion, 2011-08-11 Bothering to Love Vogt, Christopher P., Ward, Kate, 2024-08-28 A Cross-Shattered Church Stanley Hauerwas, 2009-07-01 In this work eminent theologian Stanley Hauerwas shows how the sermon is the best context for doing good theology He writes I am convinced that the recovery of the sermon as the context for theological reflection is crucial if Christians are to negotiate the world in which we find ourselves The book includes seventeen sermons preached by Hauerwas which he considers his best theological work and hopes exemplify the work of theology The sermons are divided into four sections seeing saying living and events Titles range from Believing Is Seeing and Was It Fitting for Jesus to Die on a Cross to Only Fear Can Drive Out Fear and To Be Made Human Each sermon includes where and when it was preached and references relevant Scripture passages EXCERPT I have increasingly come to the recognition that one of the most satisfying contexts for doing the work of theology is in sermons That should not be surprising because throughout Christian history at least until recently the sermon was one of the primary places in which the work of theology was done For the work of theology is first and foremost to exposit scripture That modern theology has become less and less scriptural that modern theology has often tried to appear as a form of philosophy is but an indication of its alienation from its proper work I am therefore making these sermons available because I think they are not only my best theological work but because I hope they exemplify the work of theology

History, Theology & Faith Tilley, Terrence W., 2015-05-05 Ecumenics from the Rim John D'Arcy May, 2007 John D Arcy May's achievements motivate these essays on ecumenics Amid today's scepticism about the ecumenical movement's relevance the authors demonstrate the necessity of working together for the betterment of all This book deepens our understanding of how theology peace and reconciliation studies and interfaith dialogue critically cooperate for the flourishing of earth's life The perspective of church unity amid ecclesial division is broadened to embrace interfaith and intercultural issues ecumenics becomes visible as the intellectual paradigm of our times Books Ireland, 2003 Jesus from Judaism to Christianity Tom Holmén, 2007-05-15 The volume fulfils the need for a more comprehensive way of looking at Jesus in his historical context explaining him expressly as a part of the continuum Judaism Christianity Tuning the Rig Fred Herron, 2012-07-10 To tune the rig describes adjusting a ship's rigging the rig of a well tuned boat allows the sails to function well This task must be performed to ensure the best performance by the ship Tuning the Rig takes that metaphor as a guide for Catholic educators and administrators as well as for the larger church It argues from a variety of perspectives rooted in the Catholic imagination that the rig constantly needs to be re-tuned to balance between visions of the church as teacher and learner Why should this matter to Catholic educators To Herron our understanding of the church as learner is at the heart of our understanding of ourselves as disciples One of the logical consequences of this era of baptismal consciousness is a rising awareness on the part of the laity that their task is not simply to pray and obey but to grow and journey in faith Herron's focus ranges from issues closely pertaining to Catholic schools to the larger questions of the Catholic imagination The underlying thread however is the challenge of maintaining the richness of the Catholic imagination of tuning the rig in changing times and the ordinary life of the church The Mennonite Quarterly Review, 2010 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2006 Sabbath Rest as Vocation Autumn Alcott Ridenour, 2019-12-26 Autumn Alcott Ridenour offers a Christian theological discussion on the meaning of aging toward death with purpose identity and communal significance Drawing from both explicit claims and constructive interpretations of St Augustine's and Karl Barth's understanding of death and aging this volume describes moral virtue as participation in Christ across generations culminating in preparation for Sabbath rest during the aging stage of life Addressing the inevitability of aging the prospect of mortality the importance of contemplative action and expanding upon the virtues of growing older Ridenour analyzes how locating moral agency as union with Christ results in virtuous practices for aging individuals and their surrounding communities By responding with constructive theology to challenges from transhumanist bioethical and medical arenas the volume highlights implications not only for virtue ethics but also for the goals of medicine The Autism of Gxd Ruth M. Dunster, 2022-12-02 The Autism of Gxd An Atheological Love Story is truly a love story the story of Ruth Dunster's autistic search for an authentic personal and theological Gxd In this it resembles Augustine's Confessions as a theological autobiography It becomes atheological however as Dunster reckons with what Denys Turner terms The Darkness of God This awareness leads her through the poetry of Medieval mystics to the mythic death of God theology of Thomas J J Altizer The search for faith is nonetheless very real in this strange territory Dunster hears her autistic Gxd speaking in art poetry novels and music and this further leads her into the territory of Literature Theology and the Arts where in Blanchot's words the answer is the poem's absence Indeed Dunster calls the book a strange poem or even a hymn Weaving an autistic mythology out of a rigorous survey of clinical autism this book abounds in challenge and paradox It offers a fascinating view into how an autistic poet becomes a theologian and what more mainstream theologies might learn from this disabled Gxd
