Visual Literacy David Mike Moore, Francis M. Dwyer, 1994 The Language of Pictures in Print Media Advertising Wilfried Pichler, 2002-03-07 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Today we observe a development in which the role of language is steadily decreasing whereas the impact of pictures is increasing This goes hand in hand with a development in which information relies more and more on visual concepts More and more language takes the part of explaining how to read the visual presentations more and more language takes the part of providing the background information which is necessary to understand the meaning of the visual foreground Kress and van Leeuwen 1998 argue that Today we seem to move towards a decrease of control over language e g the greater variety of accents allowed on the public media the increasing problems in enforcing normative spelling and towards an increase in codification and control over the visual e g the use of image banks from which ready made images can be drawn for the construction of visual texts and generally the effect of computer imaging technology Although we may be aware of this tendency we have not been taught in school how to read visual concepts and so most of us share some degree of illiteracy concerning a critical reading of information presented by images This is remarkable because we all agree about their influence on our lives but at the same time when we do not develop analytical tools for describing what kinds of strategies what kinds of concepts are working in visual presentations of information We tend to overlook the importance of visual concepts simply because we generally do not know enough about their code This paper analyses photos and language which are parts of ads which have definitely been designed for transferring messages because they have been made to advertise one specific product Images and the text of advertisements never are casual products like family pictures Although the photo in the family album is coded its coding is less elaborated than the coding of pictures in ads We have to keep in mind that many people experts in advertising experts in public relations were involved in the process of designing an ad before we can look at the final result This is why ads are definitely conceptually designed because they are meant to create a specific meaning in the viewer's mind It is a truism that no visual concept no photo of an ad was chosen by chance Photographs and language of ads are more likely to have been carefully constructed and selected according to the meaning they are supposed to create This is

Adaptive Technology for Special Human Needs Arlene Brett, 1995-05-04 This book provides an overview of the use of computers to assist individuals who have disabilities The book provides the reader with a comprehensive introduction to the possibilities and limitations inherent in the emerging field of Adaptive Technology

Infusing Technology into the Classroom: Continuous Practice Improvement Schifter, Catherine, 2008-05-31 Technology has impacted how many teachers develop methods of instruction in their classroom settings The Continuous Practice Improvement CPI professional development program introduces teachers to infusing computers into the curriculum and classroom activities seamlessly Infusing Technology into the Classroom Continuous Practice Improvement retells compelling stories of a successful computer related professional development program that was implemented into Kindergarten through eighth grade classrooms of a Philadelphia school Through an analysis of the study a theoretical model to guide technology infused professional development for teachers is discovered

Teaching Thinking Cathy Collins, John N. Mangieri, 2012-12-06 Comprehensively addressing the development of thinking from a wide variety of perspectives this volume presents original work from cognitive psychologists curriculum specialists federal government and business leaders politicians educational theorists and other prominent figures specializing in this complex field These experts provide directives for teacher education textbook development classroom activities administrative policies publication procedures business connections community education strategies and whole school projects as sample plans of action Designed to spark adoptions of the solutions it proposes this book suggests significant steps that can be taken to move toward more advanced thinking instruction in our educational systems Electronic Collaborators Curtis Jay Bonk, Kira S. King, 2012-12-06 Two developments in recent years have converged to dramatically alter most conceptions of the teaching and learning process First technology has become increasingly interactive and distributed such that individual learners have available the means to participate in incredibly complex networks of information resources and instruction As these technological advancements facilitate interaction across classroom university and worldwide learning communities in both real time and delayed formats various instructional design and implementation problems spring forth Second the conventional teacher centered model wherein knowledge is transmitted from the teacher to the learner is being replaced by social constructivist and learner centered models of instruction These new learner centered models place emphasis on guiding and supporting students as they meaningfully construct their understanding of various cultures and communities As a consequence of these developments teachers need guidelines from educational researchers about integrating collaboration and communication tools into their classrooms This volume presents research on such collaborative technology as it facilitates augments and redefines academic learning environments The studies illustrate how schools teachers and students are discovering employing and modifying the numerous new computer conferencing and collaborating writing tasks and tools and their effects on social interaction and resulting student learning Documentation is given that will help teachers to make decisions that productively transform learning environments Three key objectives underlie this volume to discover some of the electronic collaboration tools and formats currently employed by teachers in schools and universities and to situate these within a five level taxonomy of computer conferencing and collaborative writing tools and approaches to examine some of the sociocultural learning variables embedded in the use of electronic collaborative tools and approaches and to participate in a dialogue about the importance of student electronic social interaction and dialogue from a sociocultural perspective This is a must read volume for all researchers scholars graduate students and practitioners interested in such fields as sociocultural theory process writing cooperative learning learner centeredness distance education peer conferencing and tutoring mentoring electronic collaboration problem and project based learning collaborative writing and educational reform

Knowledge Asset Management Gregoris Mentzas, Dimitris Apostolou, Andreas Abecker, Ron Young, 2012-12-06 A new economy is emerging An economy that is transforming the fundamental rules of business An economy based on exploiting knowledge and innovation An economy where knowledge is the main source of wealth for regions nations enterprises and people This new economy is based on economic values far removed from those of the industrial economy Value has shifted towards intangibles and in particular towards increasing value by incorporating knowledge into services and products The advent of this new economy is rapidly changing the role and structure of global business. Winning enterprises are those best able to harness the benefits and opportunities of information and communication technology, capitalize on their knowledge base and move at the speed of the market. Knowledge management lies at the heart of the European Community's competitiveness strategy. The European Commission facilitates and supports applied research in knowledge management through its Information Society Technologies 1ST programme, a major theme of research and technological development within the European Union's Research and Technology Development Framework Programme. Specifically, the New Methods of Work and Electronic Commerce action of the 1ST programme supports long-term applied research in areas combining technological innovation with new work practices and advanced business and work models.
