Restorative Justice and Practices in New Zealand Gabrielle M. Maxwell,James H Liu,2010-09-01 The quest for justice has been a powerful driving force in all human societies In recent times the notion of restorative justice has gained currency To achieve restorative justice all those affected by a crime must be involved in finding a solution one that repairs the harm and restores the broken relationships This means striving to rebuild the damaged lives not only of those who have suffered but also of those who have caused suffering to others It means that healing of hurts the reconciliation of offenders and victims and the eventual reintegration into the community of those who have offended as responsible and productive members of society This is no easy task But it is vital to building a cohesive inclusive and fair society Moreover restorative practices need not be limited to the criminal justice arena They are equally applicable in other fields of human endeavour where people have been harmed and where the restoration of broken relationships is needed This book provides an account of how restorative processes and practices are being applied in New Zealand in the justice system education civil disputes and governmental responses to historical wrongs It will be a valuable source of ideas and inspiration for all those who are seeking to build a more restorative society

Winning Together Bruno Verdini Trejo,2017-12-15 Strategies for transboundary natural resource management winner of Harvard Law School s Raiffa Award for best research of the year in negotiation and conflict resolution Transboundary natural resource negotiations often conducted in an atmosphere of entrenched mistrust confrontation and deadlock can go on for decades In this book Bruno Verdini outlines an approach by which government private sector and nongovernmental stakeholders can overcome grievances break the status quo trade across differences and create mutual gains in high stakes water energy and environmental negotiations Verdini examines two landmark negotiations between the United States and Mexico The two cases one involving conflict over shared hydrocarbon reservoirs in the Gulf of Mexico and the other involving disputes over the shared waters of the Colorado River resulted in groundbreaking agreements in 2012 after decades of deadlock Drawing on his extensive interviews with more than seventy high ranking negotiators in the United States and Mexico from presidents and ambassadors to general managers technical experts and nongovernmental advocates Verdini offers detailed accounts from multiple points of view on both sides of the border He unpacks the negotiation leadership collaborative decision making and political communication strategies that made agreement possible Building upon the theoretical and empirical findings Verdini offers advice for practitioners on effective negotiation and dispute resolution strategies that avoid the presumption that there are not enough resources to go around and that one side must win and the other must inevitably lose This investigation is the winner of Harvard Law School s Howard Raiffa Award for best research of the year in negotiation mediation decision making and dispute resolution

Digital Justice M. Ethan Katsh, Orna Rabinovich-Einy, 2017 Improving access to justice has been an ongoing process and on demand justice should be a natural part of our increasingly on demand society What can we do for example when Facebook blocks our account we re harassed on Twitter discover that our credit report contains errors or receive a negative review on Airbnb How do we effectively resolve these and other such issues Digital Justice introduces the reader to new technological tools to resolve and prevent disputes bringing dispute resolution to cyberspace where those who would never look to a court for assistance can find help for instance via a smartphone The authors focus particular attention on five areas that have seen great innovation as well as large volumes of disputes ecommerce healthcare social media labor and the courts As conflicts escalate with the increase in innovation the authors emphasize the need for new dispute resolution processes and new ways to avoid disputes something that has been ignored by those seeking to improve access to justice in the past

Negotiated Risks Rudolf Avenhaus,Gunnar Sjöstedt,2009-04-28 The International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis IIASA has had risk as a research topic on its agenda right from its inception in 1972 Risk has played a jor role in the Energy Program with research being carried out both in house and in cooperationwith other internationalinstitutions like the InternationalAtomic ergy Agency IAEA and national research centers Research areas were primarily the evaluationof all possible risks within one categoryof energysupply like nuclear ssion or fusion or fossil fuels and even more important the comparisonof risks of different energy supplystrategies Later on an independent program was started which still exists today under the name Risk and Vulnerability There is a large amount of literature on risks to which IIASA s research programs have contributed signi cantly over the years and there is of course an abundance of published work on international negotiations part of which is a result of the work of the Processes of International Negotiation PIN Program There are however so far no studies on the combination of these two strands Therefore and as research on both topics is housed at IIASA we are happy that our PIN Program has undertaken the dif cult and important task of analyzing what the editors of this book have called negotiated risks Water Diplomacy Shafiqul Islam,Lawrence Susskind,2013 At the heart of these conflicts are complex water networks

The Politics of Fresh Water Catherine M. Ashcraft,Tamar Mayer,2016-12-08 Water scarcity is not simply the result of what nature has to offer but always involves power relations and political decisions This volume discusses the politics of the freshwater crisis specifically how access to water is determined in different regions and historical periods how conflict is constructed and managed and how identity and efforts to control water systems through development technologies and institutions shape one another The book analyzes responses to the water crisis as efforts to mitigate water insecurity and as expressions of collective identity that legitimate resist or seek to transform existing inequalities The chapters focus on different processes that contribute to freshwater scarcity including land use decisions pollution privatization damming climate change discrimination water management institutions and technology Case studies are included from North and South America Africa Asia Europe and New Zealand
