Grieving God's Way Margaret Brownley, 2012-07-09 The loss of a loved one is devastating and the grief that follows is often crippling While modern Western culture has adopted an aren't you over it yet attitude toward death and the grief it brings the grieving process can take years Weeks and months go by with no visible improvement We might even wonder if God has forsaken us Then one day it happens We laugh We feel connected restless maybe even hopeful We're no longer consumed by our loss and our thoughts turn outward These are the first signs of healing Though the tendency in our fast paced society is to suppress our grief or ignore it all together Grieving God's Way inspires a different course of action In this 90 day devotional Margaret Brownley provides the framework for a methodical grieving process that follows God's plan Grieving God's way requires us to trust that He will lead us through the darkness heal our pain take away our weariness and fill our hearts with hope peace and new purpose From defining what grief is to validating its importance Brownley gives us the components necessary to find God within our sorrow and grieve with Him Divided into four sections Grieving God's Way offers insight into healing our grieving body soul heart and spirit Infused with scriptures and inspirational haiku by Diantha Ain this book motivates us to shift our grieving from man's way to God's way slow and often invisible but with truly amazing results So how long does it take to grieve As long as it takes God to heal

Grieving Beyond Gender Kenneth J. Doka, Terry L. Martin, 2011-01-19 Grieving Beyond Gender Understanding the Ways Men and Women Mourn is a revision of Men Don't Cry Women Do Transcending Gender Stereotypes of Grief In this work Doka and Martin elaborate on their conceptual model of styles or patterns of grieving a model that has generated both research and acceptance since the publication of the first edition in 1999 In that book as well as in this revision Doka and Martin explore the different ways that individuals grieve noting that gender is only one factor that affects an individual's style or pattern of grief The book differentiates intuitive grievers where the pattern is more affective from instrumental grievers who grieve in a more cognitive and behavioral way while noting other patterns that might be more blended or dissonant The model is firmly grounded in social science theory and research A particular strength of the work is the emphasis placed on the clinical implications of the model on the ways that different types of griever might best be supported through individual counseling or group support Helping Grieving People - When Tears Are Not Enough J. Shep

Dealing with Dying, Death, and Grief during Adolescence David E. Balk, 2014-02-18 For some life s introduction to death and grief comes early and when it does it can take many forms Not only does Dealing with Dying, Death and Grief during Adolescence tackle them all it does so with David Balk's remarkable sensitivity to and deep knowledge of the pressures and opportunities adolescents face in their transition from childhood to adulthood. In seamless jargon-free language, Balk brings readers up to date with what we know about adolescent development because over time such changes form the backstory we need to comprehend the impact of death and bereavement in an adolescent's life. The book's later chapters break down the recent findings in the study of life-threatening illness and bereavement during adolescence. And crucially, these chapters also examine interventions that assist adolescents coping with these difficulties. Clinicians will come away from this book with both a grounded understanding of adolescent development and the adolescent experience of death and they'll also gain specific tools for helping adolescents cope with death and grief on their own terms. For any clinician committed to supporting adolescents facing some of life's most difficult experiences, this integrated, up-to-date and deeply insightful text is simply the book to have. David E. Balk is professor in the department of health and nutrition sciences at Brooklyn College, CUNY, where he directs the graduate program in thanatology. He is the author of Adolescent Development: Early Through Late Adolescence, Helping the Bereaved College Student and several other books on death and bereavement. He is also co-editor of the 2nd edition of the Handbook of Thanatology (Routledge, 2013).
