McMeekin, 2024-09-12 Three decades since the Soviet Union's collapse prompted Francis Fukuyama to proclaim the End of History things look different Russia may no longer be Communist but Stalin is more admired there than at any time since his death in 1953 The United States has bled power and prestige in uncanny parallel with China's rise in economic strength and global influence not least in the US itself Liberal democratic capitalism seems moribund while Chinese Communism assimilates the world How and why did this happen In his sweeping history Sean McMeekin investigates the evolution of Communism from the seductive ideal of a classless society into the ruling doctrine of tyrannical regimes From Marx's writings to the global resurgence of Communism in the twenty first century McMeekin argues that despite the endurance of this political system it remains deeply unpopular Where it has arisen it has always arisen by force Blending narrative with cutting edge scholarship To Overthrow the World revolutionises our understanding of Communism an idea that seemingly cannot die

I Glanced Out the Window and Saw the Edge of the World Catherine Halsall, 2020-07-08 This book is about WAR not the causes and results not the planning and the campaigns not the artillery and the bombs It is about the heinous crimes committed by the combatants the horrifying experiences of civilians the devastation of cities and villages the killing and the dying the glory leading to revulsion and guilt and the assimilation of suffering that either ends in death or in the triumph of the soul It looks at the struggle of the church to remain faithful and the servants of the church who seek to bring sense and solace to the victims It discusses antisemitism racism and war itself from biblical perspectives It reveals the unjustifiable reasons for engaging in war and how this brings catastrophic results for all peoples the mental instability of the survivors and the loss and grief of those on the home front In war how can men and women carry out the actions that they do As Viktor Frankl writes After all man is that being who has invented the gas chambers of Auschwitz however he is also that being who has entered those gas chambers upright with the Lord's Prayer or the Shema Yisrael on his lips

AP Foreign Correspondents in Action Giovanna Dell'Orto, 2016 Through extended portraits of AP foreign correspondents this book documents the practices and constraints shaping international news since World War II

American Journalism and International Relations Giovanna Dell'Orto, 2013-03-29 American Journalism and International Relations argues that the American press disengagement from world affairs has critical repercussions for American foreign policy Giovanna Dell'Orto shows that discourses created circulated and maintained through the media mold opinions about the world and shape foreign policy parameters This book is a history of U S foreign correspondence from the 1840s to the present relying on more than 2 000 news articles and twenty major world events from the 1848 European revolutions to the Mumbai terror attacks in 2008

Americans' perceptions of other nations combined with pervasive and enduring understandings of the United States' role in global politics act as constraints on policies. Dell Orto finds that reductive media discourse as seen during the 1967 War in the Middle East or Afghanistan in the 1980s has a negative effect on policy, whereas correspondence grounded in events such as during the Japanese attack on Shanghai in the 1930s or the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991 fosters effective leadership and realistic assessments. Back from Tobruk Croswell Bowen, 2013. The long lost diary of a journalist at war.

Seymour Hersh Robert Miraldi, 2013. Seymour Hersh has been the most important famous and controversial journalist in the United States for the last forty years. From his exposés of the My Lai massacre in 1969 to his revelations about torture at Abu Ghraib prison in 2004, Hersh has consistently captured the public imagination, spurred policymakers to reform, and drawn the ire of presidents. From the streets of Chicago to the newsrooms of the most powerful newspapers and magazines in the United States, Seymour Hersh tells the story of this Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and author. Robert Miraldi scrutinizes the scandals and n. Asian American Histories of the United States Catherine Ceniza Choy, 2022-08-02. An inclusive and landmark history emphasizing how essential Asian American experiences are to any understanding of US history. Original and expansive. Asian American Histories of the United States is a nearly 200-year history of Asian migration, labor, and community formation in the US. Reckoning with the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic and the surge in anti-Asian hate and violence, award-winning historian Catherine Ceniza Choy presents an urgent social history of the fastest growing group of Americans. The book features the lived experiences and diverse voices of immigrants, refugees, US-born Asian Americans, multiracial Americans, and workers from industries spanning agriculture to healthcare. Despite significant Asian American breakthroughs in American politics, arts, and popular culture in the twenty-first century, a profound lack of understanding of Asian American history permeates American culture. Choy traces how anti-Asian violence and its intersection with misogyny and other forms of hatred, the erasure of Asian American experiences and contributions, and Asian American resistance to what has been omitted are prominent themes in Asian American history. This ambitious book is fundamental to understanding the American experience and its existential crises of the early twenty-first century. Writing a Small Nation's Past Neil Evans, 2016-02-17. This is the first volume to examine how the history of Wales was written in a period that saw the emergence of professional historiography largely focused on the nation across Europe and in the United States. It thus sets Wales in the context of recent work on national history writing in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and more particularly offers a Welsh perspective on the ways in which history was written in small, mainly stateless nations. The comparative dimension is fundamental to the volume's aim, highlighting what was distinctive about Welsh historical writing and showing how the Welsh experience mirrors and illuminates broader historiographical developments. The book begins with an introduction that uses the concept of historical culture as a way of exploring the different strands of historiography covered in the collection, providing orientation to the chapters that follow. These are divided into four sections: Contexts and Backgrounds; Amateurs and Popularizers Creating Academic Disciplines and Comparative Perspectives All these themes are then drawn together in the conclusion to examine how far Welsh historians exemplify widespread trends in the writing of national history and thereby point up common themes that emerge from the volume and clarify its broader significance for students of historiography

Denton,2013-12-31 During the Mao era China s museums served an explicit and uniform propaganda function underlining official Party history eulogizing revolutionary heroes and contributing to nation building and socialist construction With the implementation of the post Mao modernization program in the late 1970s and 1980s and the advent of globalization and market reforms in the 1990s China underwent a radical social and economic transformation that has led to a vastly more heterogeneous culture and polity Yet China is dominated by a single Leninist party that continues to rely heavily on its revolutionary heritage to generate political legitimacy With its messages of collectivism self sacrifice and class struggle that heritage is increasingly at odds with Chinese society and with the state s own neoliberal ideology of rapid paced development glorification of the market and entrepreneurship In this ambiguous political environment museums and their curators must negotiate between revolutionary ideology and new kinds of historical narratives that reflect and highlight a neoliberal present In Exhibiting the Past Kirk Denton analyzes types of museums and exhibitionary spaces from revolutionary history museums military museums and memorials to martyrs to museums dedicated to literature ethnic minorities and local history He discusses red tourism a state sponsored program developed in 2003 as a new form of patriotic education designed to make revolutionary history come alive and urban planning exhibition halls which project utopian visions of China's future that are rooted in new conceptions of the past Denton's method is narratological in the sense that he analyzes the stories museums tell about the past and the political and ideological implications of those stories Focusing on official exhibitionary culture rather than alternative or counter memory Denton reinserts the state back into the discussion of postsocialist culture because of its centrality to that culture and to show that state discourse in China is neither monolithic nor unchanging The book considers the variety of ways state museums are responding to the dramatic social technological and cultural changes China has experienced over the past three decades
