Hunter III, 2012-02-01 Methodism started out as a missional alternative to establishment Christianity but is now like the establishment Christianity it once critiqued In this book Dr Hunter asks whether enough New Testament Christianity exists in any institutional form of Christianity including The United Methodist Church to change the world If United Methodism is to survive it must recover bold directions in ministry in addition to Wesley's theological vision If only it was so simple as to stand on Wesley's shoulders to see our way forward This means that laity and clergy must be biblically informed spiritually energized and systematically organized If United Methodism is to thrive it needs to focus on mission recalling that early Methodism was an extravagant expression of missional Christianity Net membership decline is not from losing more people but from reaching fewer people than it used to The need for the gospel of Jesus Christ is greater than ever United Methodists must create structures and serve God and neighbor in order to spread as Wesley admonished scriptural holiness throughout the land George G Hunter III is Distinguished Professor of Church Growth and Evangelism at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore Kentucky He is the author of several books including Radical

Outreach and The Celtic Way of Evangelism both published by Abingdon Press Where 20 or 30 Are Gathered Peter Bush, Christine O'Reilly, 2006-01-22 While worship is the primary purpose of all churches worship in the small church is distinctive Whether a house church a new church plant a rural church along a country road or a city church whose neighborhood demographics have shifted these small faith communities present unique opportunities and challenges for worship leaders Peter Bush and Christine O'Reilly draw on their passion and experience equipping lay people to plan and lead worship to answer the question what makes for effective worship Divine Callings Richard N. Pitt, 2012-02 One of the unique aspects of the religious profession is the high percentage of those who claim to be called by God to do their work This call is particularly important within African American Christian traditions Divine Callings offers a rare sociological examination of this markedly understudied phenomenon within black ministry Richard N Pitt draws on over 100 in depth interviews with Black Pentecostal ministers in the Church of God in Christ both those ordained and licensed and those aspiring to examine how these men and women experience and pursue the call Viewing divine calling as much as a social process as it is a spiritual one Pitt delves into the personal stories of these individuals to explore their work as active agents in the process of fulfilling their calling In some cases those called cannot find pastoral work due to gender discrimination lack of clergy positions and educational deficiencies Pitt looks specifically at how those who have not obtained clergy positions understand their call exploring the influences of psychological experience the congregational acceptance of their call and their response to the training process He emphasizes how those called reconceptualize clericalism in terms of who can be called how that call has to be certified and what those called are meant to do offering insight into how social actors adjust to structural constraints An Introduction to Ministry Ian S. Markham, Oran E. Warder, 2016-01-19 An Introduction to Ministry is a comprehensive and ecumenical introduction to the craft of ministry for ministers pastors and priests that make up the mainline denominations in the United States Ecumenically focused It offers a grounded account of ministry covering areas such as vocation congregational leadership and cultivation of skills for an effective ministry Covers the key components of the M Div curriculum offering a map and guide to the central skills and issues in training Explores the areas of vocation skills for ministry and issues around congregational leadership Each topic ends with an annotated bibliography providing an indispensable gateway to further study Helps students understand both the distinctive approach of their denomination and the relationship of that approach to other mainline denominations Advocates and defends a generous understanding of the Christian tradition in its openness and commitment to broad conversation The Science of Congregation Studies Leslie J. The Liquidation of the Church Kees de Groot, 2017-09-13 Is religion dying out in Western societies Is personal spirituality taking its place Both stories are inadequate Institutional religion is not simply coming to an end in Western societies Rather its assets and properties are redistributed large parts of the church have gone into liquidation Religion is crossing the boundaries of the parish and appears in other social contexts In the fields of leisure health care and contemporary culture religion has an unexpected currency The metaphor of liquidation provides an alternative to approaches that merely perceive the decline of religion or a spiritual revolution Religion is becoming liquid By examining a number of case studies in the Netherlands and beyond including World Youth Day television spiritual centers chaplaincy mental healthcare museums and theatre this book develops a fresh way to look at religion in late modernity and produces new questions for theological and sociological debate It is both an exercise in sociology and an exercise in practical theology conceived as the engaged study of religious praxis As such the aim is not only to get a better understanding of what is going on but also to critique one sided views and to provide alternative perspectives for those who are active in the religious field or its surroundings Archiv Für Religionspsychologie ,2007

Pierre Hegy, 2012 Today s Catholic Church faces a major decline and a dramatic renewal is needed to facilitate positive change Three general factors that contribute to the spiritual decline of all mainline churches and three factors that are special to the Catholic Church Hegy describes the inner workings of two successful parishes one evangelical and the other Catholic to illustrate the strategies used that contribute to vibrant and growing church communities He also reviews various renewal plans and then presents his personal long term plan for renewal in the Catholic Church with practical implementation suggestions included in each step
