Beyond Terror Gender Narrative Human Rights New Directions In International Studies:

Beyond Globalization A. Aneesh, Lane Hall, Patrice Petro, 2011-11-17 Does living in a globally networked society mean that we are moving toward a single homogenous world culture Or are we headed for clashes between center and periphery imperial and subaltern Western and non Western First and Third World The interdisciplinary essays in Beyond Globalization present us with another possibility that new media will lead to new kinds of worldmaking This provocative volume brings together the best new work of scholars within such diverse fields as history sociology anthropology film media studies and art Whether examining the inauguration of a virtual community on the website Second Life or investigating the appropriation of biotechnology for transgenic art this collection highlights how mediated practices have become integral to global culture how social practices have emerged out of computer related industries how contemporary apocalyptic narratives reflect the anxieties of a U S culture facing global challenges and how design play and technology help us understand the histories and ideals behind the digital architectures that mediate our everyday actions Narrative Landmines Daniel Leonard Bernardi, Pauline Hope Cheong, Chris Lundry, Scott W. Ruston, 2012-03-12 Islamic extremism is the dominant security concern of many contemporary governments spanning the industrialized West to the developing world Narrative Landmines explores how rumors fit into and extend narrative systems and ideologies particularly in the context of terrorism counter terrorism and extremist insurgencies Its concern is to foster a more sophisticated understanding of how oral and digital cultures work alongside economic diplomatic and cultural factors that influence the struggles between states and non state actors in the proverbial battle of hearts and minds Beyond face to face communication the authors also address the role of new and social media in the creation and spread of rumors As narrative forms rumors are suitable to a wide range of political expression from citizens insurgents and governments alike and in places as distinct as Singapore Iraq and Indonesia the case studies presented for analysis The authors make a compelling argument for understanding rumors in these contexts as narrative IEDs low cost low tech weapons that can successfully counter such elaborate and expansive government initiatives as outreach campaigns or strategic communication efforts While not exactly the same as the advanced technological systems or Improvised Explosive Devices to which they are metaphorically related narrative IEDs nevertheless operate as weapons that can aid the extremist cause Aftermaths Marcus Paul Bullock, Peter Yoonsuk Paik, 2009 Aftermaths is a collection of essays offering compelling new ideas on exile migration and diaspora that have emerged in the global age In seeking fresh perspectives on the movement of people and ideas the essays included here look to the power of the aesthetic experience especially in literature and film to unsettle existing theoretical paradigms and enable the rethinking of conventionalized approaches Down to Earth Lisa Parks, James Schwoch, 2012-06-13 Down to Earth presents the first comprehensive overview of the geopolitical maneuvers financial investments technological innovations and ideological struggles that take place behind the scenes of the satellite industry Satellite projects that have not received extensive coverage microsatellites in China WorldSpace in South Africa SiriusXM the failures of USA 193 and Cosmos 954 and Iridium are explored This collection takes readers on a voyage through a truly global industry from the sites where satellites are launched to the corporate clean rooms where they are designed and along the orbits and paths that satellites traverse Combining a practical introduction to the mechanics of the satellite industry a history of how its practices and technologies have evolved and a sophisticated theoretical analysis of satellite cultures Down to Earth opens up a new space for global media studies Indianizing Film Freya Schiwy, 2009-04-22 Latin American indigenous media production has recently experienced a noticeable boom specifically in Bolivia Ecuador and Colombia Indianizing Film zooms in on a selection of award winning and widely influential fiction and docudrama shorts analyzing them in the wider context of indigenous media practices and debates over decolonizing knowledge Within this framework Freya Schiwy approaches questions of gender power and representation Schiwy argues that instead of solely creating entertainment through their work indigenous media activists are building communication networks that encourage interaction between diverse cultures As a result mainstream images are retooled permitting communities to strengthen their cultures and express their own visions of development and modernization Indianizing Film encourages readers to consider how indigenous media contributes to a wider understanding of decolonization and anticolonial study against the universal backdrop of the twenty first century Hollywood Exiles in Europe Rebecca Prime, 2014-01-14 Rebecca Prime documents the untold story of the American directors screenwriters and actors who exiled themselves to Europe as a result of the Hollywood blacklist During the 1950s and 1960s these Hollywood migrants directed wrote or starred in almost one hundred European productions their contributions ranging from crime film masterpieces like Du rififi chez les hommes 1955 Jules Dassin director to international blockbusters like The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Carl Foreman and Michael Wilson screenwriters and acclaimed art films like The Servant 1963 Joseph Losey director At once a lively portrait of a lesser known American lost generation and an examination of an important transitional moment in European cinema the book offers a compelling argument for the significance of the blacklisted migrants to our understanding of postwar American and European cinema and Cold War relations Prime provides detailed accounts of the production and reception of their European films that clarify the ambivalence with which Hollywood was regarded within postwar European culture Drawing upon extensive archival research including previously classified material Hollywood Exiles in Europe suggests the need to rethink our understanding of the Hollywood blacklist as a purely domestic phenomenon By shedding new light on European cinema's changing relationship with Hollywood the book illuminates the postwar shift from national to transnational cinema War Culture and the Contest of Images Dora Apel, 2012-10-19 War Culture and the Contest of Images analyzes the relationships among contemporary war documentary practices and democratic ideals Dora Apel examines a wide variety of images and cultural representations of war in the United States and the Middle East including photography performance art video games reenactment and social media images Simultaneously she explores the merging of photojournalism and artistic practices the effects of visual framing and the construction of both sanctioned and counter hegemonic narratives in a global contest of images As a result of the global visual culture in which anyone may produce as well as consume public imagery the wide variety of visual and documentary practices present realities that would otherwise be invisible or officially off limits In our digital era the prohibition and control of images has become nearly impossible to maintain Using carefully chosen case studies such as Krzysztof Wodiczko's video projections and public works in response to 9 11 and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan the performance works of Coco Fusco and Regina Galindo and the practices of Israeli and Palestinian artists Apel posits that contemporary war images serve as mediating agents in social relations and as a source of protection or refuge for those robbed of formal or state sanctioned citizenship While never suggesting that documentary practices are objective translations of reality Apel shows that they are powerful polemical tools both for legitimizing war and for making its devastating effects visible In modern warfare and in the accompanying culture of war that capitalism produces as a permanent feature of modern society she asserts that the contest of images is as critical as the war on the ground

Sustaining Cities Linda Krause, 2012-12-14 What has happened to cities after the global economic recession Sustaining Cities answers this question by explaining how failed governmental policies contributed to urban problems and offering best practices for solving them From social scientists and urban planners to architects and literary and film critics the authors of this unique collection suggest real responses to this crisis Could the drastic declines in housing markets have been avoided Yes if we reframe our housing values Do you want to attract corporate investment to your town You might want to think twice about doing so The extinction of the Celtic Tiger may be charted in statistics but the response in popular Irish mystery novels is much more compelling China while not immune to market vicissitudes still booms but at a considerable cost to its urban identities Whether constructing a sustainable social framework for Mexican mega cities or a neighborhood in London these nine essays consider some strikingly similar strategies And perhaps as the contributors suggest it s time to look beyond the usual boundaries of urban suburban and exurban to forge new links among these communities that will benefit all citizens Accessible to anyone with an interest in how cities cope today Sustaining Cities presents a cautionary tale with a hopeful ending Global Failure and

World Literature Karen Borg Cardona,2023-10-24 While the contemporary era has witnessed a series of spectacular failures with severe and widespread global consequences failure is still broadly understood on an individual level while its broader causes and consequences receive little attention This book reconceptualises failure as a method for characterising and critiquing systems and institutions on both a global and a local level It defines global failure as comprising global inequality economic crisis and ecological disaster and as a condition which informs and is informed by localised failure It examines the negotiation between global and local failure in narratives of failed quests by four contemporary authors Cormac McCarthy Julia Kristeva Michael Ondaatje and Basma Abdel Aziz As a genre the quest narrative is associated with the idea of hard won success The failed quest narrative or the narrative of the failed quest is therefore the ideal vehicle through which to examine the socio political and institutional conditions of failure Primarily a contribution to the field of world literature this book is also relevant to those with an interest in the contemporary novel failure studies and the quest narrative

After Capitalism Kennan Ferguson,Patrice Petro,2016-07-05 From Thomas Piketty to David Harvey scholars are increasingly questioning whether we are entering into a post capitalist era If so does this new epoch signal the failure of capitalism and emergence of alternative systems Or does it mark the ultimate triumph of capitalism as it evolves into an unstoppable entity that takes new forms as it engulfs its opposition After Capitalism brings together leading scholars from across the academy to offer competing perspectives on capitalism's past incarnations, present conditions, and possible futures. Some contributors reassess classic theorizations of capitalism in light of recent trends, including real estate bubbles, debt relief protests, and the rise of a global creditocracy. Others examine Marx's writings on unemployment, hoarding, capitalist realism, and coyote/trickster capitalism among many other topics. Media and design trends locate the key ideologies of the current economic moment, with authors considering everything from the austerity aesthetics of reality TV to the seductive smoothness of liquid crystal. Even as it draws momentous conclusions about global economic phenomena, After Capitalism also pays close attention to locales as varied as Cuba, India, and Latvia, examining the very different ways that economic conditions have affected the relationship between the state and its citizens. Collectively, these essays raise provocative questions about how we should imagine capitalism in the twenty-first century: Will capitalism, like all economic systems, come to an end, or does there exist in history or elsewhere a hidden world that is already post-capitalist, offering alternative possibilities for thought and action.

The Space of Disappearance Karen Elizabeth Bishop, 2020-01-01 More than thirty thousand people were forcibly disappeared during the military dictatorship that governed Argentina from 1976 to 1983, leaving behind a cultural landscape fractured by absence, denial, impunity, and gaps in knowledge. This book is about how these absences assume narrative form in late twentieth-century Argentine fiction and the formal strategies and structures authors have crafted to respond to the country's use of systematic disappearance as a mechanism of state terror. In incisive close readings of texts by Rodolfo Walsh, Julio Cortázar, and Tomás Eloy Martínez, Karen Elizabeth Bishop explores how techniques of dissimulation, doubling, displacement, suspension, and embodiment come to serve both epistemological and ethical functions, grounding new forms of historical knowledge and a new narrative commons whose work continues into the twenty-first century. Their writing, Bishop argues, recalibrates our understanding of the rich and increasingly urgent reciprocities between fiction, history, and the demands of human rights. In the end, The Space of Disappearance asks us to reexamine in fiction what we think we cannot see there: at the limits of the literary, disappearance appears as a vital agent of resistance, storytelling, and world building.

Disruptive Archives

Viviana Beatriz MacManus, 2020-12-14 The histories of the Dirty Wars in Mexico and Argentina (1960s–1980s) have largely erased how women experienced and remember the gendered violence during this traumatic time. Viviana Beatriz MacManus restores women to the revolutionary struggle at the heart of the era by rejecting both state projects and the leftist accounts focused on men. Using a compelling archival blend of oral histories, interviews, human rights reports, literature, and film, MacManus illuminates complex narratives of loss, violence, and trauma. The accounts upend dominant histories by creating a feminist-centered body of knowledge that challenges the twinned legacies of oblivion for the victims and state sanctioned immunity for the perpetrators A new Latin American feminist theory of justice emerges one that acknowledges women s strength resistance and survival during and after a horrific time in their nations histories Haunting and methodologically innovative Disruptive Archives attests to the power of women s storytelling and memory in the struggle to reclaim history
