Beyond The Good Death The Anthropology Of Modern Dying:

Beyond the Good Death James W. Green, 2012-02-29 Exploring the shaping of modern end of life experiences by medical demographic and cultural trends James Green provides an important interpretation of the political nature of death and of the ways in which Americans react when death is at hand for themselves or for those they care about The Truth about Death and Dying Karen Meyers, Robert N. Golden, Fred Peterson, 2009 Offers clear and concise information and covers the many issues feelings and processes that relate to death and dying Handbook on Migration and Ageing Sandra Torres, Alistair Hunter, 2023-07-01 This comprehensive Handbook explores the fundamental concepts surrounding the ageing migration nexus It is indispensable reading presenting interdisciplinary research to investigate the unique experiences of older migrants migrant eldercare workers and older people left behind Anthropology of Health and Wellbeing M.P. Sachdeva, 2022-01-01 This Festschrift has been developed out of the essays contributed by academicians researchers and research fellows in honour of Prof P C Joshi a towering anthropologist dear colleague and friend Rethinking the Aging Transition Kallol Kumar Bhattacharyya, 2021-11-12 The transitional phase from pre older adult to older adult affects the wellbeing of the concerned person economically physically and psychologically This book is a description of the aging transition and discusses various psychological health and social challenges faced by older adults globally It also offers a comparative study on the lifestyles of older adults in India and the United States Although there is no consensus yet on an all encompassing theory of aging this book centers on various theories related to aging processes in an effort to advance discussion on different aspects of aging Various theoretical formulations such as person centered Hinduism biopsychosocial and positive psychology guided the author to address the topics covered in this volume Aging and Physicians Aging and Retirement Aging Caregiving and COVID 19 Aging and Diversity Aging and Longevity Aging Disease Prevention and Technology Aging and Spirituality Through the chapters the author builds an understanding of the fundamental relation of aging with various health and socioeconomic factors and also emphasizes a person centered holistic approach that values personal autonomy choice comfort dignity and purposeful living to support aging well Rethinking the Aging Transition Psychological Health and Social Principles to Guide Aging Well has academic value from a multicultural perspective that would be of benefit to graduate and undergraduate students in gerontology and other disciplines that study aging and older adult populations With the main aim of raising awareness this book is an important resource for a diverse group of populations globally including clinical and non clinical caregivers other health care professionals and policy makers Articulate Necrographies Anastasios Panagiotopoulos, Diana Espírito Santo, 2019-07-16 Going beyond the frameworks of the anthropology of death Articulate Necrographies offers a dramatic new way of studying the dead and their interactions with the living Traditional anthropology has tended to dichotomize societies where death speaks from those where death is silent the latter is deemed scientific and the former religious or magical The collection introduces the concept of necrography to describe the way death and the dead create their own kinds of biographies in and among the living and asks what kinds of articulations and silences this in turn produces in the lives of those affected

Interdisciplinary Explorations of Postmortem Interaction Estella Weiss-Krejci, Sebastian Becker, Philip Schwyzer, 2022-06-23 In the present as in the past the dead have been deployed to promote visions of identity as well as ostensibly wider human values Through a series of case studies from ancient Egypt through prehistoric historic and present day Europe this book discusses what is constant and what is locally and historically specific in our ways of interacting with the remains of the dead their objects and monuments Postmortem interaction encompasses not only funerary rituals and intergenerational engagement with forebears but also concerns encounters with the dead who died centuries and millennia ago Drawing from a variety of disciplines such as archaeology bioarchaeology literary studies ancient Egyptian philology and sociocultural anthropology this volume provides an interdisciplinary account of the ways in which the dead are able to transcend temporal distances and engender social relationships Until quite recently literary sciences and archaeology were generally regarded as incommensurable in their aims methodologies and source material Although archaeologists and literary critics have been increasingly willing to borrow concepts and terminology from the other discipline this book is one examples of a genuinely collaborative endeavor This is an open access book

Death, Society, and Human Experience Robert Kastenbaum, Christopher M. Moreman, 2024-03-28 The 13th edition of Death Society and Human Experience provides a panoramic overview of the ways that we are touched by death and dying both as individuals and as members of society A landmark text in the field the authors draw on contributions from the social and behavioral sciences as well as the humanities including perspectives offered through history philosophy religion literature and the arts to provide thorough coverage and understanding of topics associated with the end of life and death and dying By approaching the subject from multiple angles the authors explain the various ways that individual cultural and societal attitudes influence both how and when we die and how we live and deal with the knowledge of death and loss Originally written by Robert Kastenbaum a renowned scholar who developed one of the world s first death education courses Christopher M Moreman who has worked in the field of death studies for two decades has updated this edition In addition to infusing his close areas of focus both in afterlife beliefs and experiences and how these might affect how people live their lives he s weaved in new coverage of current affairs including The impact of COVID 19 on experiences of death bereavement mourning and more Expanded legalization of physician assisted dying in the United States and several countries Changes in bereavement rituals and traditions stemming from technology use and social media With additional content and classroom extensions available online Death Society and Human Experience remains a thoughtful exploratory and impressively comprehensive overview for undergraduate and graduate courses in death dying and bereavement

Burdened Agency Travis Pickell, 2024-08-15 Travis Pickell explores the paradoxes of choice in modern dying and the ways Christian theology can aid in navigating the relationship between moral agency and dignity at the end of life Burdened

Agency addresses the problem of death and dying through Christian theology and ethics In previous centuries death was something that simply happened to us To choose how or when one died was the exception not the rule However due to advances in modern medicine individuals are increasingly required to make concrete choices about the nature and timing of death Modernity with its emphasis on individualism complicates this further because we are increasingly bereft of cultural and religious guidance regarding death This gives rise to the phenomenon of burdened agency the predicament of having to make such difficult choices with so little to help us This engaging book offers a historical and philosophical account of the origins of our situation of burdened agency as well as a Christian solution to the problems that it raises Looking to theologians such as Karl Rahner Karl Barth and Stanley Hauerwas Pickell devises a radically countercultural approach to death and dying rooted in Christian theological commitments and enacted in the practices of baptism Eucharist and prayer

Angel Patriots Alexander Riley, 2015-03-13 When United Flight 93 the fourth plane hijacked in the September 11 2001 terrorist attacks crashed into a field near Shanksville Pennsylvania the gash it left in the ground became a national site of mourning The flight's 40 passengers became a media obsession and countless books movies and articles told the tale of their heroic fight to band together and sacrifice their lives to stop Flight 93 from becoming a weapon of terror In Angel Patriots Alexander Riley argues that by memorializing these individuals as patriots we have woven them into much larger story of our nation an existing web of narratives values dramatic frameworks and cultural characters about what it means to be truly American Riley examines the symbolic impact and role of the Flight 93 disaster in the nation's collective consciousness delving into the spontaneous memorial efforts that blossomed in Shanksville immediately after the news of the crash spread the ad hoc sites honoring the victims that in time emerged such as a Parks Department maintained memorial close to the crash site and a Flight 93 Chapel created by a local Catholic priest and finally the creation of an official permanent crash monument in Shanksville like those built for past American wars Riley also analyzes the cultural narratives that evolved in films and in books around the events on the day of the crash and the lives and deaths of its angel patriot passengers uncovering how these representations of the event reflect the myth of the authentic American nation one that Americans believed was gravely threatened in the September 11 attacks A profound and thought provoking study Angel Patriots unveils how in the wake of 9/11 America mourned much more than the loss of life

Encyclopedia of Death & Human Experience Clifton D. Bryant, Dennis L. Peck, 2009-07-15 This two volume Encyclopdia through multidisciplinary and international contributions and perspectives organizes defines and clarifies more than 300 death related concepts

Transnational Death Samira Saramo, Eerika Koskinen-Koivisto, Hanna Snellman, 2019-09-24 With so much of the global population living on the move away from their homelands and in diasporic communities death and mourning practices are inevitably impacted Transnational Death brings together eleven cutting edge articles from the emerging field of transnational death studies By highlighting European Asian North American and Middle Eastern perspectives the collection provides timely and fresh analysis and reflection on people's changing experiences with death in the context of migration over time First beginning with a thematic assessment of the field of transnational death studies readers then have the opportunity to delve into case studies that examine experiences with death and mourning at a distance from the viewpoints of Family Community and Commemoration The chapters highlight complicated issues confronting migrants their families and communities including negotiations of burial preferences and challenges of corpse repatriation the financial costs of providing end of life care travel at times of death and arranging culturally appropriate funerals and religious services as well as the emotional and sociocultural weight of mourning and commemoration from afar Overall Transnational Death provides new insights on identity and belonging community reciprocity transnational communication and spaces of mourning and commemoration

Exchanging Human Bodily Material: Rethinking Bodies and Markets Klaus Hoeyer, 2013-01-05 This book addresses the debate usually tagged as being about markets in human body parts which is antagonistically divided into pro market and anti market positions The author provides a set of propositions about how to approach this and shows a way out of the concrete impasse of it Assumptions about markets and bodies that characterize this debate are analyzed and described while the author argues that these assumptions are in fact constitutive for exchanges of human bodily material but in unacknowledged ways It is concluded that what we need is a different analytical approach to better understand the mechanisms at play when organizations exchange organs tissues and cells for use in transplantation and fertility medicine Growing Old in a New China Rose K. Keimig, 2021-02-12 Introduction Filial children benevolent parents Bodies in history embodied histories Place space rhythm routine Entanglements of care Care work Chronic living delayed death Conclusion Transitions and

Transformations Caitrin Lynch, Jason Danely, 2013-04-01 Rapid population aging once associated with only a select group of modern industrialized nations has now become a topic of increasing global concern This volume reframes aging on a global scale by illustrating the multiple ways it is embedded within individual social and cultural life courses It presents a broad range of ethnographic work introducing a variety of conceptual and methodological approaches to studying life course transitions in conjunction with broader sociocultural transformations Through detailed accounts in such diverse settings as nursing homes in Sri Lanka a factory in Massachusetts cemeteries in Japan and clinics in Mexico the authors explore not simply our understandings of growing older but the interweaving of individual maturity and intergenerational relationships social and economic institutions and intimate experiences of gender identity and the body Learning to Die in London, 1380-1540 Amy Appleford, 2015 Taking as her focus a body of writings in poetic didactic and legal modes that circulated in England's capital between the 1380s just a generation after the Black Death and the first decade of the English reformation in the 1530s Amy Appleford offers the first full length study of the Middle English art of dying ars moriendi An educated awareness of death and mortality was a vital aspect of medieval civic culture she contends critical not only to the shaping of single lives and the management of families and households but also to the practices of cultural memory the building of institutions and the good government of the city itself In fifteenth century London in particular where an increasingly laicized reformist religiosity coexisted with an ambitious program of urban renewal cultivating a sophisticated attitude toward death was understood as essential to good living in the widest sense The virtuous ordering of self household and city rested on a proper attitude toward mortality on the part both of the ruled and of their secular and religious rulers The intricacies of keeping death constantly in mind informed not only the religious prose of the period but also literary and visual arts In London's version of the famous image text known as the Dance of Death Thomas Hoccleve's poetic collection The Series and the early sixteenth century prose treatises of Tudor writers Richard Whitford Thomas Lupset and Thomas More death is understood as an explicitly generative force one capable if properly managed of providing vital personal social and literary opportunities

The Children in Child Health Julie Spray, 2020-03-13 Who are the children in child health policy How do they live and see the world and why should we know them A journey into the lives of children coping in a world compromised by poverty and inequality The Children in Child Health challenges the invisibility of children's perspectives in health policy and argues that paying attention to what children do is critical for understanding the practical and policy implications of these experiences In the unique context of indigenous Māori and migrant Pacific children in postcolonial New Zealand Julie Spray explores the intertwining issues of epidemic disease malnutrition stress violence self harm and death to address the problem of how scholars and policy makers alike can recognize and respond to children as social actors in their health The Children in Child Health innovatively combines perspectives from childhood studies medical anthropology and public health and policy together with evocative ethnography to show how a deep understanding of children's worlds can change our approach to their care

Living and Dying in the Contemporary World Veena Das, Clara Han, 2015-11-17 Taking a novel approach to the contradictory impulses of violence and care illness and healing this book radically shifts the way we think of the interrelations of institutions and experiences in a globalizing world Living and Dying in the Contemporary World is not just another reader in medical anthropology but a true tour de force a deep exploration of all that makes life unbearable and yet livable through the labor of ordinary people This book comprises forty four chapters by scholars whose ethnographic and historical work is conducted around the globe including South Asia East Asia Latin America Africa the Middle East Europe and the United States Bringing together the work of established scholars with the vibrant voices of younger scholars Living and Dying in the Contemporary World will appeal to anthropologists sociologists health scientists scholars of religion and all who are curious about how to relate to the rapidly changing institutions and experiences in an ever more connected world

Michael Jackson Christopher R. Smit, 2017-07-05 Throughout his 40 year career Michael Jackson intrigued and captivated public imagination through musical ingenuity sexual and racial spectacle savvy publicity stunts odd behaviours and a seemingly apolitical yet always political offering of popular art A consistent player on the public stage from the age of eight his consciousness was no doubt shaped by his countless public appearances both designed and serendipitous The artefacts he left behind music interviews books written by and about him and commercial products including dolls buttons posters and photographs videos movies will all become data in our cultural conversation about who Michael Jackson was who he wanted to be who we made him to be and why Michael Jackson Grasping the Spectacle includes essays that aim to understand Jackson from multiple perspectives critical cultural theory musicology art history media studies cultural anthropology sociology philosophy religious studies literary theory gender studies performance studies disability studies film studies and African American studies Intended for classroom use as well as research and general interest this book expands our understanding both of this fascinating figure himself and of gender sexuality celebrity and popular culture Grief and Genre in American Literature, 1790-1870 Dr Desirée Henderson, 2013-05-28 Focusing on the role of genre in the formation of dominant conceptions of death and dying Desirée Henderson examines literary texts and social spaces devoted to death and mourning in eighteenth and nineteenth century America Henderson shows how William Hill Brown Susanna Rowson and Hannah Webster borrowed from and challenged funeral sermon conventions in their novelistic portrayals of the deaths of fallen women contrasts the eulogies for George Washington with William Apess's Eulogy for King Philip to expose conflicts between national ideology and indigenous history examines Frederick Douglass's use of the slave cemetery to represent the costs of slavery for African American families suggests that the ideas about democracy materialized in Civil War cemeteries and monuments influenced Walt Whitman's war elegies and offers new contexts for analyzing Elizabeth Stuart Phelps's The Gates Ajar and Emily Dickinson's poetry as works that explore the consequences of female writers claiming authority over the mourning process Informed by extensive archival research Henderson's study eloquently speaks to the ways in which authors adopted revised or rejected the conventions of memorial literature choices that disclose their location within decisive debates about appropriate gender roles and sexual practices national identity and citizenship the consequences of slavery the nature of democratic representation and structures of authorship and literary authority
