Beyond Experiments In Development Economics Local Economy Wide Impact Evaluation:

Beyond Experiments in Development Economics J. Edward Taylor, Mateusz J. Filipowski, 2014 Provides readers with a methodology to evaluate the impacts of a wide diversity of development projects and policies on local economies together with a diversity of applications of these tools from poverty programs to global price shocks irrigation projects eco tourism migration production subsidies and government corruption Beyond Experiments in Development Economics J. Edward Taylor, Mateusz J. Filipowski, 2014 This book provides researchers students and practitioners with a methodology to evaluate the impacts of a wide diversity of development projects and policies on local economies Projects and policies often create spillovers within project areas LEWIE uses simulation methods to quantify these spillovers It has become a complement to randomized control trials RCTs as governments and donors become interested in documenting impacts beyond the treated comparing the likely impacts of alternative interventions and designing complementary interventions to influence program and policy impacts It is also a tool for impact evaluation where RCTs are not feasible Chapters 1 4 motivate and present the basics of impact simulation including how to design a LEWIE model how to estimate the model and how to obtain the necessary data The remaining chapters provide a diversity of interesting real world applications and extensions of the basic models The applications include evaluations of the impacts of cash transfers for the poor ecotourism global food price shocks irrigation projects migration and corruption Each chapter provide readers with the tools they need to conduct their own local economy wide impact evaluations All models and data used in this book are available on line Local economy-wide impact evaluation of the United Republic of Tanzania's Productive Social Safety Nets Daidone, S., Kagin, J., Taylor J. E., 2023-03-14 To reduce extreme poverty and break its intergenerational transmission in 2012 the Government of the United Republic of Tanzania initiated the Productive Social Safety Net PSSN the flagship social protection programme implemented by the Tanzania Social Action Fund TASAF The PSSN is based on a set of integrated interventions targeted for the poorest and most vulnerable households i a labour intensive public works PW programme ii conditional cash transfers CCTs iii a Livelihood Enhancement LE component providing support to households economic driven interventions such as community savings and investments and iv Targeted Infrastructure supporting development and rehabilitation of social infrastructures under education health and water sectors During the period 2013 2019 TASAF vastly scaled up the programme in five waves enrolling 11 million households and 51 million individuals in 9960 communities representing approximately 105 percent of the total population A randomized impact evaluation was embedded within the scaled up design of the PSSN which found that even after a short period of implementation 2015 2017 the PSSN achieved several objectives including increased consumption and food security investment in better living conditions and human capital accumulation To complement the findings of the official PSSN impact evaluation in this study we analyse the indirect effects of the PSSN on the overall local economy From Evidence to Action Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-10-18 Cash transfers have become a key social protection tool in developing countries and have expanded dramatically in the last two decades. However, the impacts of cash transfers programmes, especially in Sub-Saharan Africa, have not been substantially documented. This book presents a detailed overview of the impact evaluations of these programmes carried out by the Transfer Project and FAO's From Protection to Production project. The 14 chapters include a review of eight country case studies: Kenya, Ghana, Ethiopia, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Lesotho, Malawi, South Africa, as well as a description of the innovative research methodologies, political economy issues, and good practices to design cash transfer programmes. The key objective of the book is to enhance the understanding of these development programmes, how they lead to a broad range of social and productive impacts, and also of the role of programme evaluation in the process of developing policies and implementing programmes.

Local economy-wide impact evaluation of Lesotho's Child Grants Programme and Sustainable Poverty Reduction through Income, Nutrition and Access to Government Services Project Kagin, J., Taylor, J.E., Daidone, S., 2021-05-28. This report presents findings from a study of the local economy impacts of one of Lesotho's largest social programmes, the Child Grants Programme (CGP), and a rural development intervention, the Sustainable Poverty Reduction through Income, Nutrition and Access to Government Services (SPRINGS) programme. The CGP provides cash transfers to eligible poor households, while SPRINGS was a multi-faceted productive intervention targeting areas reached by the CGP that provided support in various forms. The study is part of a larger project, a partnership between FAO, IFAD, and the Universidad de los Andes (UNIANDES) and its Centro de Estudios en Desarrollo Económico (CEDE) that seeks to identify factors that lead to better articulation between social protection interventions and rural productive inclusion strategies.

Essentials of Development

Economics J. Edward Taylor, Travis J. Lybbert, 2015-03-19. Written to provide students with the critical tools used in today's development economics research and practice, Essentials of Development Economics represents an alternative approach to traditional textbooks on the subject. Compact and less expensive than other textbooks for undergraduate development economics courses, Essentials of Development Economics offers a broad overview of key topics and methods in the field. Its fourteen easy-to-read chapters introduce cutting-edge research and present best practices and state-of-the-art methods. Each chapter concludes with an embedded QR code that connects readers to ancillary audiovisual materials and supplemental readings on a website curated by the authors. By mastering the material in this book, students will have the conceptual grounding needed to move on to higher-level development economics courses.

Ex-ante evaluation of home-grown school feeding in Senegal Kagin, J., Tian, J., Taylor, J.E., Daidone, S., Pellegrini, F., 2023-04-13. Home-grown school feeding programmes have seen a considerable growth around the world. These programmes play a key role in supporting the improvement of child health and facilitating access to education, as well as in stimulating economic development through local procurement. The rigorous evaluation of the effects of these programmes on children and the local economy poses several challenges due to the presence of multiple treatment arms, complex targeting criteria, and the difficulties from lack of treatment randomization This report presents the results of a simulation analysis of different food procurement modalities employed by Senegal's current school feeding programme SFP by using local economy wide impact evaluation LEWIE The LEWIE methodology was designed to capture both the direct and the indirect impacts of a wide range of governmental programmes and policies in local economies The findings suggest that SFPs in Senegal have significant positive impacts on production and income within a 10 km radius of beneficiary schools These impacts grow as SFPs increase their sourcing from local traders and food producers International Handbook of Migration and Population Distribution Michael J.

White,2015-12-11 This Handbook offers a comprehensive collection of essays that cover essential features of geographical mobility from internal migration to international migration to urbanization to the adaptation of migrants in their destinations Part I of the collection introduces the range of theoretical perspectives offered by several social science disciplines while also examining the crucial relationship between internal and international migration Part II takes up methods ranging from how migration data are best collected to contemporary techniques for analyzing such data Part III of the handbook contains summaries of present trends across all world regions Part IV rounds out the volume with several contributions assessing pressing issues in contemporary policy areas The volume's editor Michael J White has spent a career studying the pattern and process of internal and international migration urbanization and population distribution in a wide variety of settings from developing societies to advanced economies In this Handbook he brings together contributors from all parts of the world gathering in this one volume both geographical and substantive expertise of the first rank The Handbook will be a key reference source for established scholars as well as an invaluable high level introduction to the most relevant topics in the field for emerging scholars Economic Development, Agriculture And Climate Change Antonio Yunez Naude,J Jorge

Mora-rivera,2023-02-24 Climate change CC is currently an unquestionable phenomenon If not stopped it will be catastrophic for life on earth Scientific evidence shows that human activities are the primary driver of CC tendencies since the industrial times In this book we present the relationship between development and CC with special reference to agriculture the rural sector and policies aimed to promote sustainable development We also give special attention to the situation in low and medium income countries particularly rural households and small farmers in these countries The study of agriculture CC and sustainability requires consideration of natural resources and their uses land freshwater forests etc as well as the rural sector since land for agricultural production often expands at the expense of forests In addition the use of water for agricultural production affects the availability of this resource for other uses in the urban industrial and service sectors Consequently sustainable agricultural development under CC requires an interdisciplinary or at least a multidisciplinary approach In this book we do our best to deal with this challenge by focusing on issues and topics related to agriculture and its use of natural resources in the context of CC but without ignoring the interrelations of these phenomena with further aspects of sustainability beyond agriculture The New Generation of Computable General Equilibrium Models

Federico Perali, Pasquale Lucio Scandizzo, 2018-05-02 This book covers some important topics in the construction of computable general equilibrium CGE models and examines use of these models for the analysis of economic policies their properties and their implications Readers will find explanation and discussion of the theoretical structure and practical application of several model typologies including dynamic stochastic micro macro and simulation models as well as different closure rules and policy experiments The presentation of applications to various country and problem specific case studies serves to provide an informed and clearly articulated summary of the state of the art and the most important methodological advancements in the field of policy modeling within the framework of general equilibrium analysis The book is an outcome of a recent workshop of the Italian Development Economists Association attended by a group of leading practitioners involved in the generation of CGE models and research on modeling the economy and policy making It will be of interest to researchers professional economists graduate students and knowledgeable policy makers The Palgrave Handbook of Development Economics

Machiko Nissanke, José Antonio Ocampo, 2019-08-12 This Handbook responds to the needs and aspirations of current and future generations of development economists by providing critical reference material alongside or in relation to mainstream propositions Despite the potential of globalisation in accelerating growth and development in low and middle income countries through the spread of technology knowledge and information its current practice in many parts of the world has led to processes that are socially economically and politically and ecologically unsustainable It is critical for development economists to engage with the pivotal question of how to change the nature and course of globalisation to make it work for inclusive and sustainable development Applying a critical and pluralistic approach the chapters in this Handbook examine economics of development paths under globalisation focusing on sustainable development in social environmental institutional and political economy dimensions It aims at advancing the frontier of development economics in these key aspects and generating more refined policy perspectives It is critically reflective in examining effects of globalisation on development paths to date and in terms of methodological and analytical approaches as well as forward thinking in policy perspectives with a view to laying a foundation for sustainable development Modelling the Economic Impact of the Rohingya Influx in Southern Bangladesh

Mateusz Filipiński, Ernesto Tiburcio, Paul Dorosh, John Hoddinott, Gracie Rosenbach, 2019-09-04 In the context of the massive influx of Forcibly Displaced Myanmar Nationals to Bangladesh this paper aims to evaluate the potential consequences on the Southern Bangladesh economy It adopts an economywide perspective to study the impacts of increased labor supply and increased consumer demand in a general equilibrium framework using a Local Economy wide Impact Evaluation LEWIE model The model is used to illustrate the potential effect of a large arrival of displaced populations on wages the supply and demand of goods and incomes of migrant and host populations Simulations enable comparisons between possible scenarios including two options for the size of the market being impacted either the smaller Cox's Bazar District or the larger Chittagong Division and several options for aid provisions from international actors The databases used are the Forcibly Displaced Myanmar Nationals FDMN and Host Community Household Survey carried out by IFPRI BIDS WFP and ACF in late 2018 and the official Bangladesh Household Income and Expenditure Survey HIES 2016 We find that if the migrants enter the Cox Bazar labor markets only their large number could potentially lead to a large drop in wage levels of around 30% However under similar conditions their impact in the much larger Chittagong Division would be limited to a drop of less than 4% Cash transfers to migrants could mitigate the wage effects by stimulating local demand but this effect is limited Some local households may be hurt due to lower wages and higher prices Matched transfers to local populations and investments in local industry could potentially offset some of these negative impacts

The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2019 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Fund for Agricultural Development, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, United Nations Children's Fund, 2019-07-15 This year's report presents evidence that the absolute number of people who suffer from hunger continues to slowly increase The report also highlights that food insecurity is more than just hunger For the first time the report provides evidence that many people in the world even if not hungry experience moderate food insecurity as they face uncertainties about their ability to obtain food and are forced to compromise on the quality and or quantity of the food they consume This phenomenon is observed globally not only in low and middle income countries but also in high income countries The report also shows that the world is not on track to meet global nutrition targets including those on low birthweight and on reducing stunting among children under five years Moreover overweight and obesity continue to increase in all regions particularly among school age children and adults The report stresses that no region is exempt from the epidemic of overweight and obesity underscoring the necessity of multifaceted multisectoral approaches to halt and reverse these worrying trends In light of the fragile state of the world economy the report presents new evidence confirming that hunger has been on the rise for many countries where the economy has slowed down or contracted Unpacking the links between economic slowdowns and downturns and food insecurity and malnutrition the report contends that the effects of the former on the latter can only be offset by addressing the root causes of hunger and malnutrition poverty inequality and marginalization

Global food policy report 2025: Food policy: Lessons and priorities for a changing world Swinnen, Johan, Barrett, Christopher B., 2025-05-27 Over the past 50 years the world's food systems have evolved tremendously amid major economic environmental and social changes Throughout this period policy research has played a critical role in providing evidence and analysis to inform decision making that supports agricultural growth better livelihoods and improved food security nutrition and well being for all As a special edition marking the Institute's 50th anniversary the 2025 Global Food Policy Report examines the evolution and impact of food policy research and assesses how it can better equip policymakers to meet future challenges and opportunities The report's thematic and regional chapters written by leading IFPRI researchers and colleagues explore the broad range of issues and showcase research related to food systems from tenure and agriculture extension to social protection gender and nutrition to conflict political economy and agricultural innovation and more As we approach 2050 policy research and analysis will be essential to help end poverty and malnutrition by building sustainable healthy food systems Home-Grown School Feeding Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,IFAD,WFP,Global Child Nutrition Foundation,NEPAD ,The Partnership for Child Development,Imperial College London,2019-01-08 This framework fosters the replication and scaling up of home grown school feeding models and the mapping of opportunities for linking such programmes with relevant agricultural development and rural transformation investments Essentials of Applied Econometrics Aaron D. Smith,J. Edward Taylor,2017 Why Care About Causation

The impacts of COVID-19 and policy responses in rural economies Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,Kagin, J,Filipski, M,Fletcher-Taylor, J,Gupta, A,Lindsay, A,Edward Taylor, J,Whitney, E,2023-01-19 The impacts of the COVID 19 pandemic and government policies to limit its spread are multi faceted and complex Market linkages transmit these impacts through economies from directly affected actors to others in both the urban and rural spheres Economic contexts including the structure of local economies shape the transmission of impacts on rural men and women Because of this the pandemic lockdowns and mitigation policies influence outcomes in complex ways In most cases the magnitudes and even the signs of impacts cannot be determined ex ante In this study we use multiple local economy wide impact evaluation LEWIE models to estimate the impacts of the pandemic and lockdowns on rural producers and households in a diversity of economic and agro climatic settings using simulation methods We also examine the likely effects of alternative mitigation measures Global Equity in Administration Susan Gooden,2020-07-14 Governments around the world face the challenge of espousing principles of fairness but practicing inequity in their administration Issues of equity and justice are fundamental concerns of government and thus to public administrators who constantly struggle to evaluate a country s social climate and ensure equity in governance Such evaluation is unlikely to occur in a serious way however if government actors are fundamentally too uncomfortable to directly engage the topic The result this book argues is a context of nervousness which unless squarely acknowledged and addressed can become debilitating and thwart progress toward achieving social equity This volume explores and expands our understanding of the concept of nervousness in the administration of government services around the world demonstrating the ways in which such an emotional and physical reaction can debilitate government actions that are needed to promote social equity and justice Each of the chapters in this edited volume focuses on a single country and examines a specific nervous area of government highlighting important historical and political considerations as well as specific evidence of promising progress It considers the complexity of nervous areas of governments around the world while identifying encouraging approaches and initiatives Global Equity in Administration is required reading for all practicing and aspiring public servants concerned with fair and equitable provision of public services around the world The Farm Labor Problem J. Edward Taylor,Diane Charlton,2018-11-29 The Farm

Labor Problem A Global Perspective explores the unique character of agricultural labor markets and the implications for food production farm worker welfare and advocacy and immigration policy Agricultural labor markets differ from other labor markets in fundamental ways related to seasonality and uncertainty and they evolve differently than other labor markets as economies develop We weave economic analysis with the history of agricultural labor markets using data and real world events The farm labor history of California and the United States is particularly rich so it plays a central role in the book but the book has a global perspective ensuring its relevance to Europe and high income Asian countries The chapters in this book provide readers with the basics for understanding how farm labor markets work labor in agricultural household models farm labor supply and demand spatial market equilibria farm labor and immigration policy farm labor organizing farm employment and rural poverty unionization and the United Farm Workers movement the Fair Food Program as a new approach to collective bargaining the declining immigrant farm labor supply and what economic development in relatively low income countries portends for the future of agriculture in the United States and other high income countries The book concludes with a chapter called Robots in the Fields which extrapolates current trends to a perhaps not so distant future The Farm Labor Problem serves as both a guide to policy makers farmworker advocates and international development organizations and as a textbook for students of agricultural economics and economics Describes the unique character of agricultural labor markets providing consequential insights Contextualizes the economics of agricultural labor with a global perspective Examines the history of farm labor immigration policy and collective bargaining with a view to the future Research, Evaluation, and Demonstration Projects ,1986
