The Flamethrowers By Rachel Kushner:

The Flamethrowers Rachel Kushner, 2013 The year is 1977 and Reno so called because of the place of her birth has come to New York intent on turning her fascination with motorcycles and speed into art Reno meets a group of dreamers and raconteurs who submit her to a sentimental education of sorts The Flamethrowers Perfection Learning Corporation, 2019

The Flamethrowers Rachel Kushner, 2014-01-14 Arriving in New York to pursue a creative career in the raucous 1970s art scene Reno joins a group of dreamers and raconteurs before falling in love with the estranged son of an Italian motorcycle scion and succumbing to a radical social movement in 1977 Italy The Crisis of Capitalism in the Contemporary Novel Andrew Rowcroft, 2024-02-16 This book explores the role of radical ideas in contemporary fiction by nine critically acclaimed authors Jonathan Lethem Dana Spiotta China Mieville Thomas Pynchon Rachel Kushner Teddy Wayne Colson Whitehead Jacqueline Woodson and Kim Stanley Robinson All of them share interests in the politics of the left the problems of protracted economic crisis and the potentiality of post capitalist ideas Novels by these authors this book argues are defined by an imperative to confront current anxieties in left thought while at the same time evincing a nuanced degree of self consciousness about the legacy of political radicalisms the costs they accrue and where they have led Gale Researcher Guide for: Metafiction and the New Imaginary of the Twenty-First Century: Rachel Kushner Brian O'Connor, Gale Researcher Guide for Metafiction and the New Imaginary of the Twenty First Century Rachel Kushner is selected from Gale s academic platform Gale Researcher These study guides provide peer reviewed articles that allow students early success in finding scholarly materials and to gain the confidence and vocabulary needed to pursue deeper research Twenty-First Century Fictions of Terrorism Arin Keeble, 2024-05-31 Examining novels by celebrated authors some neglected and some brand new texts Arin Keeble offers a detailed analysis of the ways novels from around the world have represented terrorism in the early twenty first century Over five chapters he uncovers a movement away from event based narratives toward depictions of terrorism as a violent symptom or feature of twenty first century world systems and neoliberalism Beginning with the early literary response to 9 11 and the 9 11 novel genre the book moves through more recent depictions of the endless war on terror state terror white nationalist terror and historical narratives of terror that resonate in the current political climate In doing so it examines the changing ways literature has sought to make sense of both the reasons why terrorism occurs and the effects it has on victims survivors and international and intercultural relations Contemporary Novelists and the Aesthetics of Twenty-First Century American Life Alexandra Kingston-Reese, 2020-01-01 Contemporary Novelists and the Aesthetics of Twenty First Century American Life gives us a new way to view contemporary art novels asking the key question How do contemporary writers imagine aesthetic experience Examining the works of some of the most popular names in contemporary fiction and art criticism including Zadie Smith Teju Cole Siri Hustvedt Ben Lerner Rachel Kushner and others Alexandra Kingston Reese finds that contemporary art novels are seeking to reconcile the negative feelings of contemporary life through a concerted critical realignment in understanding artistic sensibility literary form and the function of the aesthetic Kingston Reese reveals how contemporary writers refract and problematize aesthetic experience illuminating an uneasiness with failure firstly about the failure of aesthetic experiences to solve and save and secondly the literary inability to articulate the emotional dissonance caused by aesthetic experiences now The Look of the Book Peter Mendelsund, David J. Alworth, 2020-10-06 Why do some book covers instantly grab your attention while others never get a second glance Fusing word and image as well as design thinking and literary criticism this captivating investigation goes behind the scenes of the cover design process to answer this question and more NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW As the outward face of the text the book cover makes an all important first impression The Look of the Book examines art at the edges of literature through notable covers and the stories behind them galleries of the many different jackets of bestselling books an overview of book cover trends throughout history and insights from dozens of literary and design luminaries Co authored by celebrated designer and creative director Peter Mendelsund and scholar David Alworth this fascinating collaboration featuring hundreds of covers challenges our notions of what a book cover can and should be Moments of Capital Eli Jelly-Schapiro, 2023-03-21

Undertaken at the interface of critical theory and world literature Moments of Capital sets out to grasp the unity and heterogeneity of global capital in the postcolonial present Eli Jelly Schapiro argues that global capital is composed of three synchronous moments primitive accumulation expanded reproduction and the synthetic dispossession facilitated by financialization and privatization These moments correspond to distinct economic and political forms and distinct strands of theory and fiction Moments of Capital integrates various intellectual traditions from multiple trajectories of Marxist thought to Weberian inquiries into the spirit of capitalism to anticolonial accounts of racial depredation to reveal the concurrent interrelation of the three moments of capital The book's literary readings meanwhile make vivid the uneven texture and experience of capitalist modernity at large Analyzing formally and thematically diverse novels works by Fiston Mwanza Mujila Marlon James Jennifer Egan Eugene Lim Rafael Chirbes Neel Mukherjee Rachel Kushner and others Jelly Schapiro evinces the different patterns of feeling and consciousness that register and hypothesize a way beyond the contradictions of capital This book develops a new conceptual key for the mapping of contemporary theory world literature and global capital itself Cool Characters Lee Konstantinou, 2016-03-07 Lee Konstantinou examines irony in American literary and political life showing how it migrated from the countercultural margins of the 1950s to the 1980s mainstream Along the way irony was absorbed into postmodern theory and ultimately became a target of recent writers who have moved beyond its limitations with a practice of postirony Up Against the Real Nadja Millner-Larsen, 2023-03-07 A history of 1960s activist art group Black Mask With Up Against the Real Nadja Millner Larsen offers the first comprehensive study of the group Black Mask and its acrimonious relationship to the New York art world of the 1960s Cited as pioneers of now common protest aesthetics the group's members employed incendiary modes of direct action against racism colonialism and the museum system They shut down the Museum of Modern Art fired blanks during a poetry reading stormed the Pentagon in an antiwar protest sprayed cow's blood at the secretary of state and dumped garbage into the fountain at Lincoln Center Black Mask published a Dadaist broadside until 1968 when it changed its name to Up Against the Wall Motherfucker after line in a poem by Amiri Baraka and came to classify itself as a street gang with analysis American activist Abbie Hoffman described the group as the middle class nightmare an anti media phenomenon simply because their name could not be printed Up Against the Real examines how and why the group ultimately rejected art in favor of what its members deemed real political action Exploring this notorious example of cultural activism that rose from the ruins of the avant garde Millner Larsen makes a critical intervention in our understanding of political art DIY on the Lower East Side Andrew Strombeck, 2020-08-01 The severe financial austerity imposed on New York City during the 1975 fiscal crisis resulted in a city falling apart Broken windows crumbling walls and piles of bricks were everywhere While for many this physical decay was a sign that the postwar welfare state had failed for others it represented a site of risky opportunity that could stimulate novel forms of creativity and community In this book Andrew Strombeck explores the legacy of this crisis for the city's literature and art focusing on one neighborhood where changes were acutely felt the Lower East Side In what became a paradigmatic example of gentrification the Lower East Side's population shifted from working class people to Wall Street traders and ad agents This transformation occurred in part because of high profile local artists such as Jean Michel Basquiat Keith Haring Jeff Koons and Kiki Smith but Strombeck argues that neighborhood writers also played a role Drawing on archival research and original author interviews he examines the innovative work of Kathy Acker David Wojnarowicz Miguel Piñero Sylvère Lotringer Lynne Tillman and others and concludes that these writers still have much to teach us about changes in the nature of work and the emergence of a do it yourself ethos DIY on the Lower East Side shows how place and politics shaped literature and how New York City policies adopted at the time continue to shape our world The Cambridge Companion to Transnational American Literature Yogita Goyal, 2017-02-15 This book provides a new map of American literature in the global era analyzing the multiple meanings of transnationalism The Whole Intimate Mess Holly Walker, 2017-06-12 I began to pull the threads of my experience back together Instead of divergent stories about public failure private torment and postnatal distress I started telling myself a united story the truth or as close as I could get to it A Rhodes scholar and former Green MP Holly Walker tells the story of how she became one of New Zealand's youngest parliamentarians how motherhood intervened and how she found solace and solidarity in the writings of women This short book makes a passionate case for the role of literature in political change and personal resilience and for the importance of women's voices in the public sphere The Global Novel and Capitalism in Crisis Treasa De Loughry, 2020-04-29 This book examines how contemporary global novels by Salman Rushdie David Mitchell Rana Dasgupta and Rachel Kushner have evolved new aesthetics to represent global economic and ecological crises Paying close attention to the interrelations between postcolonial world and global literatures this book argues that postcolonial literary studies cannot account for global crises that exceed the national and anti colonial Advocating an interdisciplinary framework informed by a synthesis of materialist literary theory with world systems theory combining Fredric Jameson and Georg Lukacs with Giovanni Arrighi and Jason W Moore this book examines how global literatures metabolise not only socioeconomic conditions but also transformations in the world ecology and emergent developmental and epochal crises of capitalism

Cartographies of Empire Myka Tucker-Abramson, 2025-03-18 The road novel is often dismissed as a mundane nostalgic genre Jack Sal and other tedious white men on the road trying to recapture an authentic youth and American past that never existed Yet new road novels appear every year tackling unexpected questions and spanning new geographies from Mexico Brazil Bulgaria Palestine Ukraine and former Yugoslavia Why did the road novel emerge and why does it persist What does it do and why has it traveled so widely Myka Tucker Abramson draws from an archive of more than 140 global road novels from over twenty countries challenging dominant conceptions of the road novel as primarily concerned with American experiences and subjectivities Grounding her analysis in materialist theories of genre world ecology and commodity frontier frameworks and post 45 American literary studies Tucker Abramson persuasively argues that the road novel is a genre specific to coterminous with and revealing of US hegemony's global trajectory Shifting our focus from Americanness to the fraught geopolitics of US Empire from the car to the built environment through which it moves and from passengers to those left behind Tucker Abramson remaps the road novel elucidating the genre's unique ability both to reveal the violent and vertiginous processes of capitalist modernization and to obfuscate these harsh truths through seductive narratives of individual success and failure

Toska Alina Pleskova, 2023-06-13 Toska derives its title from the Russian word which denotes a melancholic longing without a singular cause longing for a better world than the late stage capitalist hell we live in Toska explores a sense of rootlessness and a sort of anti nationalism how the pervasive sense of being an immigrant or in but not of a place never quite dissipates particularly amid the dissonance and alienation felt within U S culture gunning towards a vision of imperialist capitalist white supremacist hegemony These poems come to the weary conclusion time and time again that sexual liberalism liberation and hedonism are only one sort of revelation that this sort of openness and exploration isn't enough to save anyone from despair or the existentially weary feeling of toska from which the title takes its name But desire is not just Eros the poems carry a strong desire for a different world for everyone

Well Beings James Riley, 2024-03-28 James Riley author of the cult hit The Bad Trip Dark Omens New Worlds and The End of the Sixties returns with another incisive and thought provoking cultural history turning his trenchant eye to the wellness industry that emerged in the 1970s Concepts such as wellness and self care may feel like distinctly twenty first century ideas but they first gained traction as part of the New Age health movements that began to flourish in the wake of the 1960s Riley dives into this strange and hypnotic world of panoramic coastal retreats and darkened floatation tanks blending a page turning narrative with illuminating explorations of the era's music, film, art, and literature. Well Beings delves deep into the mind of the seventies: its popular culture, its radical philosophies, its approach to health, and its sense of social crisis. It tells the story of what was sought, what was found, and how these explorations helped the Me Decade find itself. In so doing, it questions what good health means today and reveals what the seventies can teach us about the strange art of being well.

The Cambridge Introduction to Contemporary American Fiction Stacey Olster, 2017-06-09 Explores American fiction of the last thirty years, examining the political and cultural changes that distinguish the period. Novels by Aliens Kate Marshall, 2023-10-10 A wide-ranging account of the twenty-first century's fascination with the weird. Twenty-first-century fiction and theory have taken a decidedly weird turn. They both show a marked interest in the nonhuman and in the preternatural moods that the nonhuman often evokes. Writers of fiction and criticism are avidly experimenting with strange, even alien perspectives and protagonists. Kate Marshall's Novels by Aliens explores this development broadly while focusing on problems of genre fiction. She identifies three key generic hybrids that harness a longing for the nonhuman: the old weird, an alternative tradition within naturalism and modernism for the twenty-first century's cowboys and aliens, cosmic realism, the reach for words legible only from space in otherwise terrestrial narratives, and pseudoscience fiction, which imagines speculative futures beyond human life on earth. Offering sharp and surprising insights about a breathtaking range of authors from Edgar Rice Burroughs to Kazuo Ishiguro, Willa Cather to Maggie Nelson, Novels by Aliens tells the story of how genre became mood in the twenty-first century.
