The Echo Maker By Richard Powers:

The Echo Maker Richard Powers, 2005-02-20 A psychological thriller a flawed love story a study of authenticity in emotions a commentary on America's relations with itself and the world humanity and ecology undoubtedly magnificent The Times On a winter night Mark Schluter's truck turns over in a near fatal accident His sister Karin returns reluctantly to their hometown to look after him But when he finally awakes from his coma Mark believes that Karin who looks acts and sounds just like his sister is really an identical impostor Shattered by her brother's behaviour Karin contacts neuroscientist Dr Gerald Weber But what Weber discovers in Mark begins to undermine even his own sense of self Meanwhile Mark armed only with a note left by an anonymous witness attempts to learn what really happened The truth of that evening will change the lives of all three beyond recognition

The Powers of Fiction Pauline Carbone (auteur d'un mémoire en anglais), 2015 The Echo Maker Richard Powers, 2007 On a winter night on a remote road in Nebraska twenty seven year old Mark Schluter's truck turns over in a near fatal accident His older sister Karin his only close relative returns reluctantly to their hometown to nurse Mark back from a traumatic he

Radical Planes? 9/11 and Patterns of Continuity, 2016-09-07 Radical Planes 9 11 and Patterns of Continuity edited by Dunja M Mohr and Birgit D we explores the intersections between narrative disruption and continuity in post 9 11 narratives from an interdisciplinary transnational perspective foregrounding the transatlantic cultural memory of 9 11 Contesting the earlier notion of a cataclysm that has changed everything and critically reflecting on American exceptionalism the collection offers an inquiry into what has gone unchanged in terms of pre 9 11 post 9 11 and post post 9 11 issues and what silences persist How do literature and performative and visual arts negotiate this precarious balance of a pervasive discourse of change and emerging patterns of political ideological and cultural continuity

The Neural Sublime Alan Richardson, 2010-06-15 Winner 2011 Alpha Sigma Nu Book Award in Literature and Fine Arts The Neural Sublime brings recent work in cognitive neuroscience to bear on some famously vexed issues in British Romantic studies In exciting and unprecedented ways Alan Richardson demonstrates how developments in the neurosciences can transform the study of literary history Richardson presents six exemplary studies each exploring a different intersection of Romanticism and the sciences of the mind and brain the experience of the sublime and the neuroscience of illusion the Romantic imagination and visual imaging the figure of apostrophe and linguistic theory fictional representations of the mind and theory of mind theory depictions of sibling incest and neo Darwinian theories of mental behavior and representations of female speech and cognitive developmental psychology Richardson's insightful analysis opens fresh perspectives on British Romanticism pointing scholars to new developments in cognitive literary studies He combines elements of new historicist analysis with original and much needed models for understanding language subjectivity and social behavior Far from signaling a departure from the prevalent critical approaches of new historicism Richardson argues cognitive theory presents an essential complement to them The Neural Sublime features an array of cognitive and neuroscientific approaches providing an engaging and readable introduction to the emergent field of cognitive literary studies Psychologies in Revolution Hannah Proctor, 2020-01-13 This book situates the work of the Soviet psychologist and neurologist Alexander Luria 1902 1977 in its historical context and explores the romantic approach to scientific writing developed in his case histories Luria consistently asserted that human consciousness was formed by cultural and historical experience He described psychology as the science of social history and his ideas about subjectivity cognition and mental health have a history of their own Lines of mutual influence existed between Luria and his colleagues on the other side of the iron curtain but Psychologies in Revolution also discusses Luria s research in relation to Soviet history from the October Revolution of 1917 through the collectivisation of agriculture and Stalinist purges of the 1930s to the Second World War and finally the relative stability of the Brezhnev era foregrounding the often marginalised people with whom Luria s clinical work brought him into contact By historicising science and by focusing on a theoretical approach which itself emphasised the centrality of social and political factors for understanding human subjectivity the book also seeks to contribute to current debates in the medical humanities Affect and American Literature in the Age of Neoliberalism Rachel Greenwald Smith, 2015-04-20 Rachel Greenwald Smith s Affect and American Literature in the Age of Neoliberalism examines the relationship between contemporary American literature and politics Through readings of works by Paul Auster Karen Tei Yamashita and others Smith challenges the neoliberal notion that emotions are the property of the self Jim Crace Katy Shaw, Kate Aughterson, 2018-09-28 This is a unique essay collection on Jim Crace locating his writing within contemporary philosophical cultural and political debates This timely first critical collection of essays on Crace s work provides a retrospective on his work to date locating his work within a number of contemporary interdisciplinary critical and cultural perspectives and concerns including post humanism post millennial pastoralism post post feminism and gender intersections between science and literary theory environmental politics the symbiotics of authorial and critical archival work and the context of the burgeoning world of literary prizes It includes additional contextual material in the form of an interview with Jim Crace and the re publication of a seminal critical essay on Craceland by Adam Begley As such this critical essay collection will be essential reading for anyone interested in contemporary fiction and Crace s unique writing The Believer , 2008 The Planetary Clock Paul Giles, 2021 Ranging over various aesthetic forms literature film music in the period since 1960 this volume brings an antipodean perspective into conversation with the art and culture of the Northern Hemisphere to reformulate postmodernism as a properly global phenomenon Spider Web, Labyrinth, Tightrope Walk Regina Schober, 2023-08-07 Spider Web Labyrinth Tightrope Walk explores the shifting functions of the network as a metaphor model and as an epistemological framework in US American literature and culture from the 19th century until today The book critically inquires into the literary cultural philosophical and scientific rhetoric values and ideological underpinnings that have given rise to the network concept Literature and culture play a major role in the ways in which networks have been imagined and how they have evolved as conceptual models This study regards networks as historically emergent and culturally constructed formations closely tied with the development of knowledge technologies in the process of modernization as well as with an increasingly critical awareness of network technologies and infrastructures While the rise of the network in scientific philosophical political and sociological discourses has received wide attention this book contributes an important cultural and historical perspective to network theory by demonstrating how US American literature and culture have been key sites for thinking in and about networks in the past two centuries Translationality Douglas Robinson, 2017-05-18 This book defines translationality by weaving a number of sub and interdisciplinary interests through the medical humanities medicine in literature the translational history of medical literature a medical neuroscience approach to literary translation and translational hermeneutics and a humanities phenomenological performative approach to translational medicine It consists of three long essays the first on the traditional medicine in literature side of the medical humanities with a close look at a recent novel built around the Capgras delusion and other neurological misidentification disorders the second beginning with the traditional history of medicine side of the medical humanities but segueing into literary history translation history and translation theory the third on the social neuroscience of translational hermeneutics The conclusion links the discussion up with a humanistic performative phenomenological take on translational medicine

Re-framing the Transnational Turn in American Studies Winfried Fluck, Donald E. Pease, John Carlos Rowe, 2011 What is the state of American studies in the twenty first century Explorations of Consciousness in Contemporary Fiction Grzegorz Maziarczyk, Joanna Klara Teske, 2017-07-20 Explorations of Consciousness in Contemporary Fiction is a collection of essays examining the potential of the contemporary English language novel to represent and inquire into various aspects of the human mind Grounded in contemporary literary theory as well as consciousness studies the essays consider both narrative techniques by means of which writers attempt to render various states of consciousness such as multimodality in digital fiction or experimental typography in post traumatic narratives and novelistic interpretations of issues currently being investigated by neurobiologists cognitive scientists and philosophers of the mind such as the adaptive value of consciousness or the process of self integration by means of self narration The volume thus offers critical reflection upon the novel's cognitive accomplishment in this challenging area Contributors are Nathan D Frank Judit Friedrich Justyna Galant Marta Komsta Peter Kristof Makai Ajit Paul Mangat Grzegorz Maziarczyk James McAdams Daniel Panka Barbara Puschmann Nalenz Joanna Klara Teske Lloyd Issac Vayo Dora Vecsernyos Sylwia Wilczewska Diseases and Disorders in Contemporary Fiction James Peacock, Tim Lustig, 2013-04-17 The essays in this collection address the current preoccupation with neurological conditions and disorders in contemporary literature by British and American writers The book places these fictional treatments within a broader cultural and historical context exploring such topics as the two cultures debate the neurological turn postmodernism and the post postmodern and responses to September 11th Considering a variety of materials including mainstream literary fiction the graphic novel popular fiction autobiographical writing film and television contributors consider the contemporary dimensions of the interface between the sciences and humanities developing the debate about the post postmodern as a new humanism or a return to realism and investigating questions of form and genre and of literary continuities and discontinuities Further the essays discuss contemporary writers attempts to engage the relation between the individual and the social looking at the relation between the syndrome syndrome referring to the prevalence in contemporary literature of neurological phenomena evident at the biological level and existing work in the field of trauma studies where explanations tend to have taken a psychoanalytical form allowing for perspectives that question some of the assumptions that have marked both these fields The current literary preoccupation with neurological conditions presents us with a new and distinctive form of trauma literature one concerned less with psychoanalysis than with the physical and evolutionary status of human beings

The Cambridge Companion to Literature and the Environment Louise Westling, 2014 This authoritative collection of rigorous but accessible essays investigates the exciting new interdisciplinary field of environmental literary criticism

The Time of the City Michael Shapiro, 2010-06-17 Engaging with critical theory poststructuralist perspectives cultural studies film theory and urban studies the book provides stunning insights into the micropolitics of ethnicity identity security subjectivity and sovereignty
