Policing Pain Kevin Revier,2025-11-11 How the medicalization of addiction during the U S opioid crisis has driven mass incarceration and mass policing in rural and deindustrialized communities The nationwide opioid public health emergency has led many advocates and public officials to call for drug policy reforms that reject traditional law and order approaches In Policing Pain Kevin Revier approaches the opioid epidemic from an abolitionist framework that seeks to treat people who use opioids not as so called criminals but as people in need of health care Based on two years of ethnographic research in Upstate New York a region highly impacted by overdoses job loss and deindustrialization Revier shows that incorporation of treatment within the criminal justice system has ultimately expanded the scope of the drug war turning individuals into treatable carceral subjects who are both medicalized and criminalized He argues that the incorporation of medical rhetoric and treatment within the criminal legal system maintains a carceral approach in rural and low income areas facing high rates of opioid overdose and economic disinvestment further entrenching the carceral state in the lives of people who use drugs Ultimately Policing Pain explores alternative strategies to promote harm reduction from an abolitionist ethic of care that advocates for people who use drugs while seeking to minimize criminal justice involvement in drug related issues

A Hard World Thomas Hauser,2016-09-01 In 2015 Booklist observed the arrival of Hauser s annual boxing review is akin to Christmas morning for fight fans Nobody knows a sport any better than Hauser knows boxing Each year readers writers and critics alike look forward to Thomas Hauser s annual collection of articles about the contemporary boxing scene He s one of the last real champions of boxing and one of the very best who has ever written about the sport A Hard World continues this tradition of excellence with dressing room reports from big fights like Canelo Alvarez vs Miguel Cotto a behind the scenes look at Floyd Mayweather vs Manny Pacquiao and a foray into the world of mixed martial arts for a compelling portrait of Ronda Rousey Most importantly this new collection contains Hauser s groundbreaking two part investigative report on the relationship between the United States Anti Doping Agency and boxing a report that shook the industry and raised fundamental questions regarding the integrity of USADA s drug testing procedures as applied to boxing

Handbook on Children with Incarcerated Parents J. Mark Eddy,Julie Poehlmann-Tynan,2019-09-13 The second edition of this handbook examines family life health and educational issues that often arise for the millions of children in the United States whose parents are in prison or jail It details how these youth are more likely to exhibit behavior problems such as aggression substance abuse learning difficulties mental health concerns and physical health issues It also examines resilience and how children and families thrive even in the face of multiple challenges related to parental incarceration. Chapters integrate diverse interdisciplinary and rapidly expanding literature and synthesizes rigorous scholarship to address the needs of children from multiple perspectives including child welfare, education, health care, mental health, law enforcement, corrections, and law. The handbook concludes with a chapter that explores new directions in research, policy, and practice to improve the life chances of children with incarcerated parents. Topics featured in this handbook include Findings from the Fragile Families and Child Wellbeing Study, How parental incarceration contributes to racial and ethnic disparities and inequality, Parent-child visits when parents are incarcerated in prison or jail, Approaches to empowering incarcerated parents of color and their families, International advances for incarcerated parents and their children. The second edition of the Handbook on Children with Incarcerated Parents is an essential reference for researchers, professors, clinicians, practitioners, and graduate students across developmental psychology, criminology, sociology, law, psychiatry, social work, public health, human development, and family studies. This important new volume provides a cutting edge update of research on the impact of incarceration on family life. The book will be an essential reference for researchers and practitioners working at the intersections of criminal justice, poverty, and child development. Bruce Western, Ph.D., Columbia University. The comprehensive interdisciplinary focus of this handbook brilliantly showcases the latest research, interventions, programs, and policies relevant to the well-being of children with incarcerated parents. This edition is a must-read for students, researchers, practitioners, and policy makers alike who are dedicated to promoting the health and resilience of children affected by parental incarceration. Leslie Leve, Ph.D., University of Oregon.

Reimagining Communication in a Post-pandemic World: The Intersection of Information, Media Technology, and Psychology Runxi Zeng, Hichang Cho, Richard David Evans, Anfan Chen, 2023-04-05. The COVID-19 pandemic has dramatically changed social interactions. Social distancing policies, lockdowns, and mandatory quarantines have accelerated the technological mediation of communication, e.g., AI-mediated communication, computer-mediated communication on an unprecedented scale, willingly or otherwise. Many physical activities such as office work, education, and conferences have had to be performed in the online space through social media apps, the metaverse, or specialized programs on mobile phones or laptops as part of pandemic control efforts. As a result, digitally mediated channels have become critical for information acquisition and communication across a wide spectrum of human activities such as education, social interaction, entertainment, and commercial activities. Human beings are increasingly reliant on non-human agents including social media, Artificial Intelligence (AI), powered tools, or smartphone/mobile devices for most routine activities, professional communication, and social interactions. As scientific understanding of COVID-19 improves, pandemic restrictions are gradually loosening. However, it remains to be seen whether the pandemic communication paradigm, characterized by heavy technological mediation and reliance on non-human agents, will also gradually decline or will the paradigm shift become deeply entrenched with further acceleration of dependency on technological mediation and non-human agents.
