English Classics in Audiovisual Translation Irene Ranzato, Luca Valleriani, 2024-10-23 This collection explores the translation of dialogue from the adaptations of literary classics across audiovisual media engaging with the question of what makes a classic through an audiovisual translation lens The volume seeks to fill a gap on the translation of classic texts in AVT research which has tended to focus on contemporary media The book features well known British literary texts but places a special emphasis on adaptations of the works of Jane Austen and William Shakespeare figures whose afterlives have mirrored each other in the proliferation of film and television adaptations of their work Chapters analyze myriad modes of AVT including dubbing subtitling SDH and voice over to demonstrate the unique ways in which these modes come together in adaptations of classics and raise questions about censorship language ideologies cultural references translation strategies humor and language variation In focusing on translations across geographic contexts the book offers a richer picture of the linguistic cultural and ideological implications of translating literary classics for the screen and the enduring legacy of these works on a global scale This book will be of interest to scholars in audiovisual translation literary translation comparative literature film and television studies and media studies Taking Stance in English as a Lingua Franca Maicol Formentelli, 2017-06-23 English is undoubtedly the lingua franca of global communication today and plays a major role in the internationalisation of universities where it is increasingly being used as the medium of instruction The use of English as a

Lingua Franca ELF in higher education has spread at different speeds throughout Europe over recent decades with Nordic and central western countries leading the way and the regions of southern Europe lagging behind In Italy English taught programmes are a rather new and emerging phenomenon which needs to be empirically investigated to uncover the complex mechanisms of classroom interaction in this foreign language The present volume focuses on one aspect of ELF academic exchanges that is deemed crucial in the transmission of knowledge in the educational setting namely the management of interpersonal relations and the expression of interpersonal stance in the classroom To this end a model has been developed along the four dimensions of formality power social distance and respect and has been applied to the analysis of a corpus of ELF lectures recorded in an Italian university The examination of naturally occurring ELF lectures reveals a complex combination of linguistic strategies that lecturers exploit at the macro level of discourse interpersonal episodes and at the micro level of lexis and morpho syntax direct questions comprehension checks imperatives personal pronouns and terms of address to express interpersonal meanings and build rapport with their students in response to specific expressive and communicative requirements brought about by ELF academic interaction

The Cultural Semantics of Address Practices Gian Marco Farese, 2018-08-15 This book presents a contrastive analysis of various forms of address used in English and Italian from the perspective of cultural semantics the branch of linguistics which investigates the relationship between meaning and culture in discourse The objects of the analysis are the interactional meanings expressed by different forms of address in these two languages which are compared adopting the methodology of the Natural Semantic Metalanguage The forms analyzed include greetings titles and opening and closing salutations used in letters and e mails in the two languages Noticeably the book presents the first complete categorization of Italian titles used as forms of address ever made on the basis of precise semantic criteria The analysis also investigates the different cultural values and assumptions underlying address practices in English and Italian and emphasizes the risks of miscommunication caused by different address practices in intercultural interactions Every chapter presents numerous examples taken from language corpora contemporary English and Italian literature and personal e mails and letters The book encourages a new innovative approach to the analysis of forms of address it proposes a new analytical method for the analysis of forms of address which can be applied to the study of other languages systematically In addition the book emphasizes the role of culture in address practices and takes meaning as the basis for understanding the differences in use across languages and the difficulties in translating forms of address of different languages Combining semantics ethnopragsmatics intercultural communication and translation theory this book is aimed at a very broad readership which includes not only scholars in linguistics second language learners and students of cross cultural communication but virtually anyone interested in Italian and English linguistics as well as in cultural semantics The approach taken is interdisciplinary and brings together various fields in the social sciences linguistics anthropology cross cultural studies and sociology

Family Language Policy C.

Smith-Christmas,2015-10-29 Based on an eight year study of a family on the Isle of Skye Scotland this book explores why the children in the family do not often speak Gaelic despite the adults best efforts to use the language with them as well as the children s attendance at a Gaelic immersion school The Politics of Sexual Violence A. Healicon,2016-01-26 With the recent media interest in celebrity childhood sexual abuse and rape cases we think we know what sexual violence is and who rape victims are But this portrayal is limited Drawing on in depth accounts from women who have experienced rape this book revisits issues of credibility responsibility and feminism to provide missing details Foucault and Educational Ethics Bruce Moghtader,2015-10-29 In his works on ethics Foucault turned towards an examination of one s relationship with oneself and others This differs from the modern approaches that explore the relationship between and the responsibilities of actors to each other by adopting criteria Ethical criteria engender assumptions about the actors by focusing on their responsibilities Instead of relying on criteria Foucault s writing and lectures contributed to an awareness of the activities we take upon ourselves as ethical subjects His reconstruction of the Greco Roman ethics seeks to examine the possibilities of the reconstitution and transformation of subjectivity Through this he offers an avenue of understanding the formation of ethical subjects in their educational interrelationships Cognitive Enhancement Robert H. Blank,2015-10-22 Rapid advances in cognitive neuroscience and converging technologies have led to a vigorous debate over cognitive enhancement This book outlines the ethical and social issues but goes on to focus on the policy dimensions which until now have received much less attention As the economic social and personal stakes involved with cognitive enhancement are so high and the advances in knowledge so swift we are likely to see increasing demands for government involvement in cognitive enhancement techniques The book therefore places these techniques in a political context and brings the subsequent considerations and divisions to the forefront of the debate situating their resolution within the milieu of interest group politics The book will provide a starting point from which readers can develop a balanced policy framework for addressing such concerns Lived Citizenship on the Edge of Society Hanne Warming,Kristian Fahnøe,2017-07-12 This edited collection presents the concept of lived citizenship as a fruitful avenue for exploring the role played by social work practices in the lives of people in vulnerable positions The book centres on the everyday experiences through which people practice negotiate understand and feel their citizenship The authors offer both empirical analyses of how social work influences the rights obligations identities and belongings of children homeless people migrants ethnic minorities and young people with mental disabilities and a theoretical framework for analysing the complexities of social work Drawing on the notion of intimate citizenship and an understanding of citizenship as socio spatial the theoretical framework addresses the challenges of enhancing the agency of social work clients and of promoting inclusive citizenship and how these challenges are shaped by emotions affect rationality materiality power relations policies and managerial strategies Lived Citizenship on the Edge of Society will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including social policy and social work The Social Work of

Museums Lois H. Silverman, 2009-12-04 Museums may not seem at first glance to be engaged in social work Yet Lois H Silverman brings together here relevant visitor studies trends in international practice and compelling examples that demonstrate how museums everywhere are using their unique resources to benefit human relationships and ultimately to repair the world In this groundbreaking book Silverman forges a framework of key social work perspectives to show how museums are evolving a needs based approach to provide what promises to be universal social service In partnership with social workers social agencies and clients museums are helping people cope and even thrive in circumstances ranging from personal challenges to social injustices The Social Work of Museums provides the first integrative survey of this emerging interdisciplinary practice and an essential foundation on which to build for the future The Social Work of Museums is not only a vital and visionary resource for museum training and practice in the 21st century but also an invaluable tool for social workers creative arts therapists and students seeking to broaden their horizons It will inspire and empower policymakers directors clinicians and evaluators alike to work together toward museums for the next age Language and Social Justice
