Gifted and Talented Learners Barry Hymer, Deborah Michel, 2013-12-16 This book sets out the educational challenges benefits and possibilities of embracing a truly inclusive approach to gifted and talented education and provides a framework for a school to create its own inclusive policy in this area of need. Calling on international research, current educational initiatives and work within the Barrow Education Action Zone (EAZ) and elsewhere, the authors set out to demonstrate that the inclusion and standards agendas can and should take with them the growing interest in the educational needs of gifted and talented pupils. The result is a short but comprehensive and fundamentally practical book which will be of value to any school or LEA wishing to create and implement a dynamic, reflective and inclusive policy for gifted and talented pupils.

Reversing Lower Attainment Diane Montgomery, 2013-10-28. First Published in 1998. All learners and in particular lower attainers need to have a curriculum which is cognitively challenging, motivating and enriching. This book aims to help teachers adapt their teaching strategies so that they can offer such a curriculum especially to lower attainers. The nature of lower attainment is examined in its various forms in the highly able, the slower learner, the dyslexic and the disaffected. The origins of these problems and how they may be identified are also discussed. An evaluation of the different curriculum models and methods of differentiation is provided and the author outlines the general principles and practices of good teaching with reference to a wide range of curriculum areas.

Participation and Entitlement in Educational Development Donnie M. MacLeod, 2003.
