Mpumalanga Department Of Education Application Form 2016:

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities Claire Bénit-Gbaffou, 2024-02-27 Why are even progressive local authorities with the will to improve seldom able to change cities Why does it seem almost impossible to redress spatial inequalities deliver and maintain basic services elevate impoverished areas and protect the marginalised communities Why do municipalities in the Global South refuse to work with prevailing social informalities and resort instead to interventions that are known to displace and aggravate the very issues they aim to address Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities analyses these challenges in South African cities where the brief post apartheid moment opened a window for progressive city government and made research into state practices both possible and necessary In debate with other progressive moments in large cities in Brazil the USA and India the book interrogates

City officials practices It considers the instruments they invent and negotiate to implement urban policies the agency they develop and the constraints they navigate in governing unequal cities This focus on actual officials practices is captured through first hand experience state ethnographies and engaged research These reveal day to day practice that question generalised explanations of state failure in complex urban societies as essential malevolence contextual weakness corruption and inefficiency It is hoped that opening the black box of the workings of state opens paths for the construction of progressive policies in contemporary cities

The Devil Made Me Do It Nicky Falkof, 2025-08-01 South Africa can sometimes appear to be awash with occult crime From satanist conspiracies and witchcraft accusations to muti murders and demonic possession a trawl through our national news suggests a society at war with the forces of evil Why does the occult have such a grasp on our collective imagination In this vastly unequal country with its crises of gender based violence child abuse poverty and unemployment there are more than enough obvious dangers to our social stability Why then are South Africans so quick to blame the supernatural for violence and misfortune How do beliefs in occult crime intersect with problems of gender race and class And is there any truth to these supernatural tales The Devil Made Me Do It examines these and other thorny questions by probing the stories beliefs and rumours behind the so called occult crimes that have entranced South Africa s fractured psyche They include the murder of a child mistaken for a tokoloshe in the 1920s the satanic panic that gripped the nation in the 1980s and 1990s the Krugersdorp cult killings of 2012 16 and the muti murder of a six year old girl in 2022 What can these crimes and the way they are represented by media police and other institutions tell us about South Africa today

Intersectionality and Human Rights Law Shreya Atrey,Peter Dunne,2020-12-10 This collection of essays analyses how diversity in human identity and disadvantage affects the articulation realisation violation and enforcement of human rights The question arises from the realisation that people who are severally and severely disadvantaged because of their race religion gender age disability sexual orientation class etc often find themselves at the margins of human rights their condition seldom improved and sometimes even worsened by the rights discourse How does one make sense of this relationship between the complexity of people s disadvantage and violation of their human rights Does the human rights discourse based on its universal and common values have tools methods or theories to capture and respond to the difference in people s lived experience of rights Can intersectionality help in that quest This book seeks to inaugurate this line of inquiry

Student-Teacher Relationship Quality Research: Past, Present and Future Matteo Angelo Fabris,Karine Verschueren,Debora Roorda,Claudio Longobardi,2022-11-24 Handbook of Comparative Education Law: Selected Nations from Africa and the Americas Charles J. Russo,2019-08-09 Each of the four volumes in this set as well as each volume independently provide comparative analyses for researches practitioners and students of the law and education in examining law and education in various countries around the world Designed to allow readers to learn from rather than copy the legal and educational systems in these volumes the books are designed to generate thought and conversation on how education can be improved around the world By having chapter authors leading academicians in the home countries follow the same template so it can be easier to compare similarities and differences thereby helping to make the book user friendly The value of these books is that they should help to enhance international awareness of the similarities and advantages associated with bringing together knowledge from various countries concerning education law Volume 4 encompassing

Selected Nations in Africa and the Americas namely Brazil Canada Mauritius United States South Africa and Venezuela consists of detailed analysis of educational law and systems in these representative countries so researchers and students there and elsewhere can learn from one another Human Rights and Equality in Education Fredman, Sandra, Campbell, Meghan, 2018-06-20 Thousands of children from minority and disadvantaged groups will never cross the threshold of a classroom What can human rights contribute to the struggle to ensure that every learner is able to access high quality education This brilliant interdisciplinary collection explores how a human rights perspective offers new insights and tools into the current obstacles to education It examines the role of private actors the need to hold states to account for the quality of education how to strike a balance between religion culture and education the innovative responses needed to guarantee girls right to education and the role of courts This unique book draws together contributors who have been deeply involved in this field from both developing and developed countries which enriches the understanding and remedial approaches to tackle current obstacles to universal education Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02 Through investigatory reports and interviews Jonathan Jansen reveals the structural conditions for chronic dysfunction in a sample of South African universities He reveals the political economy at work and the intense competition for resources on campuses He also provides interventions for these fragile institutions There is no Supreme Constitution Koos Malan, 2019-10-04 None of the articles of faith of the South African Constitution is plausible The Constitution is not supreme and entrenched Subject to potent socio political forces it changes continuously and often profoundly regardless of stringent amendment requirements The trite threefold separation of powers is more metaphorical than real and therefore unable to secure effective checks and balances Though institutionally separated with their own personnel and functions the three powers are ordinarily integrated in a single dominant political leadership committed to achieving the same ideological goals The bill of individual rights cannot guarantee justice because rights are subject to the ideologically driven exercise of judicial interpretation often with damaging consequences for those relying on the bill of rights This situation does not only apply to South Africa but to all Constitutions premised on the same articles of faith in this book described as the doctrine of statist individualist constitutionalism An improved mode of constitutionalism is called for one which is equipped with a sounder system of checks and balances and better endowed towards the achievement of justice through a balanced constitution Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul, Case, Jennifer M., 2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society

Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa. It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits. This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues. We cannot continue like this Attie S. van Niekerk, Sytse Strijbos, 2022-02-07

The book is based on the view that the present trajectory of modern development cannot continue as it is now because it is ecologically unsustainable; it continues to enlarge the gap between rich and poor and the decolonisation movement has drawn our attention again to the specific role of religion, culture and value in human affairs and the need for a robust element of indigenisation and contextualisation. This book is strongly focused on the context of Africa with two chapters that are written by authors from the Netherlands for the purpose of presenting a North-South dialogue. The book contains a reflection on approaches followed in building sustainable human communities in general and reflection on specific efforts to solve sustainability issues. It seeks to integrate academic reflection and insights gained from practical involvement with sustainability issues in local communities and low-income households with contributions from Theology and Natural and Social Sciences. Annual Performance Plan Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education, 2016. Research Anthology on Instilling Social Justice in the Classroom Management Association, Information Resources, 2020-11-27

The issue of social justice has been brought to the forefront of society within recent years and educational institutions have become an integral part of this critical conversation. Classroom settings are expected to take part in the promotion of inclusive practices and the development of culturally proficient environments that provide equal and effective education for all students regardless of race, gender, socio-economic status and disability as well as from all walks of life. The scope of these practices finds itself rooted in curriculum, teacher preparation, teaching practices and pedagogy in all educational environments. Diversity within school administrations, teachers and students has led to the need for socially just practices to become the norm for the progression and advancement of education worldwide. In a modern society that is fighting for the equal treatment of all individuals, the classroom must be a topic of discussion as it stands as a root of the problem and can be a major step in the right direction moving forward. Research Anthology on Instilling Social Justice in the Classroom is a comprehensive reference source that provides an overview of social justice and its role in education ranging from concepts and theories for inclusivity, tools and technologies for teaching diverse students and the implications of having culturally competent and diverse classrooms. The chapters dive deeper into the curriculum choices, teaching theories and student experience as teachers strive to instill social justice learning methods within their classrooms. These topics span a wide range of subjects from STEM to language arts and within all types of climates, PK-12, higher education, online or in person instruction and classrooms across the globe. This book is ideal for in-service and preservice teachers, administrators, social justice researchers, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, academicians and students interested in how social justice is currently being implemented in all aspects of education

Access to work for disabled persons in South Africa: A rights critique Meryl Candice du Plessis, 2017-06-22 Assumptions of inability and the perceived costs of employing disabled persons are two of the primary reasons why it has been impossible or difficult for many capable disabled persons to access work and to continue working This book considers the South African legal framework that seeks to promote such access and critiques it with particular reference to the intersections of the rights to equality and access to social security One of the primary arguments is the need for a more active conception of social security in which access to work for disabled persons is recognised as an integral component of promoting both social security and substantive equality
