by contemporary climate and anthropogenic activities The effect of habitat loss and fragmentation on plant diversity New methods of research on the patterns and drivers of plant diversity      Handbook of Research on Nurturing Industrial Economy for Africa's Development Nafukho, Frederick Muyia, Boniface Makulilo, Alexander, 2021-03-19 A robust manufacturing sector is a necessity and a sufficient condition for any country's human and economic development as it creates employment and alleviates poverty During this Fourth Industrial Revolution era there is an urgent need in Africa to optimally utilize the existing resources to support manufacturing or else risk allowing the continent to fall behind in the industrial economy Innovative strategies are needed that can unlock Africa's manufacturing potential by exploring key areas that may help Africa mature and launch modernized economies that will benefit the developed world's industrial economy The Handbook of Research on Nurturing Industrial Economy for Africa's Development examines various innovations necessary for Africa's economic development including drivers of the manufacturing economy such as education agriculture human capital science and technological innovations language politics and business environments The book explores strategies to increase Africa's economic diversity complexity productivity and ultimately competitiveness and for the continent to realize its manufacturing industrial potential Further chapters focus on African countries industrial economies in the African context and facilitating the fulfillment of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and the African Union's Agenda 2063 This book is a valuable reference tool for government officials economists industrialists practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students interested in the industrial economic development of Africa
