Muranga University Fees Structure:

Ngecha Carolyn P. Edwards, Beatrice Blyth Whiting, 2004-01-01 Ngecha is the monumental and intimate study of modernization and nationalization in rural Africa in the early years following Kenyan independence in 1963 as experienced by the people of Ngecha a village outside Nairobi From 1968 to 1973 Ngecha was a research site of the Child Development Research Unit a team that brought together Kenyan and non Kenyan social scientists under the leadership of John Whiting and Beatrice Blyth Whiting The study documents how families adapted to changing opportunities and conditions as their former colony became a modern nation and the key role that women played as agents of change as they became small scale cash crop farmers and entrepreneurs Mothers modified the culture of their parents to meet the evolving national economy and they participated in the shift from an agrarian to a wage economy in ways that transformed their workloads and perceptions of isolation and individualism within and between households thereby challenging traditional family based morals and obligations Their children in turn experienced evolving educational practices and achievement expectations The elders faced new situations as well as new modes of treatment Completing this valuable record of a nation in transition are the long term reassessments of the observations and conclusions of the research team and a description of Ngecha today as viewed by Kenyans who participated in the original study Small Scale Enterprise Frank C. Child, Mary E. Kempe, 1973

Trouble Showed the Way Claire C. Robertson, 1997 Relates women s involvement in the staples trade to enhanced self confidence the rise of women s organizations and changes in government policies Examining this commodity often taken for granted like the women traders the author suggests other areas of exploration women developing new relationships to their world Africa Peter Lewis, 2018-02-20 This book focuses on the historical construction of African states the modes of political control in the region and the character of political elites It examines the nature of political legitimacy and the avenues of participation or withdrawal pursued by various popular sectors Gender, Science and Technology:

Perspectives from Africa Catherine Wawasi Kitetu, 2008 This sixth volume of the CODESRIA Gender Series is a collection of discourses perspectives practices and policies on the role of the female gender in science and technology particularly in the African context Although widely advocated as the indisputable foundation for political and economic power in the modern world science and technology remains marked by various layers and dimensions of gender inequality that work to the disadvantage of girls and women Despite the fact that a lot of awareness has been created and gender issues are now more readily acknowledged by various development initiatives in Africa participation in science and technology still remains a hurdle as far as girls and women are concerned A common theme that runs through the book is how feminine identities ideologies of domesticity and gender stereotypes and the inadequacy or lack of clear policies facilitate the invisibility of women in science and technology This notwithstanding women have never ceased devising clever and ingenious ways that would enable them to master nature from the margins The book provides a window onto the current state of female participation in science and technology in Africa along with an analysis of the historical backgrounds current educational and professional contexts and prospects for the future While it is evident that more research needs to be done with more groups in different regions this volume brings together a rich and inspiring collection of qualitative insights on gender science and technology in Africa The CODESRIA Gender Series acknowledges the need to challenge the masculinities underpinning the structures of repression that target women The series aims to keep alive and nourish African social science research with insightful research and debates that challenge conventional wisdom structures and ideologies that are narrowly informed by caricatures of gender realities It strives to showcase the best in African gender research and provide a platform for emerging new talents to flower Health Promotion in the Universities and Other Educational Settings Miguel Corbí, Antoni

Aguiño, Carmen Gallardo Pino, Mario Del Líbano, Carlos Emanuel Rodríguez-Díaz, Hiram V. Arroyo Acevedo, 2025-09-17 The promotion of health in universities is of great importance as it allows for the encouragement of healthy lifestyles and the prevention of diseases among students teaching staff and administrative personnel The university is a conducive environment for the promotion of healthy habits since firstly it is usually the moment when the students make decisions under their responsibility and secondly it is a place where academic sports and social activities take place so it is also an ideal moment to promote changes that can be transferred to society and the rest of the individual's life Health promotion in universities can cover several areas such as healthy eating physical exercise prevention of addictions emotional and social mental health among others It can also involve the entire university community from students to administrative and teaching staff In the case of students it is essential as it is a period of change and habit formation and the fact that they will be the future decision makers of society The Columbia Gazetteer of the World: A to G Saul Bernard Cohen, 2008 A geographical encyclopedia of world place names contains alphabetized entries with detailed statistics on location name pronunciation topography history and economic and cultural points of interest The Age of Garvey Adam Ewing, 2016-09-13 A groundbreaking exploration of Garveyism's global influence during the interwar years and beyond Jamaican activist Marcus Garvey 1887-1940 organized the Universal Negro Improvement Association in Harlem in 1917 By the early 1920s his program of African liberation and racial uplift had attracted millions of supporters both in the United States and abroad The Age of Garvey presents an expansive global history of the movement that came to be known as Garveyism Offering a groundbreaking new interpretation of global black politics between the First and Second World Wars Adam Ewing charts Garveyism's emergence its remarkable global transmission and its influence in the responses among African descendants to white supremacy and colonial rule in Africa the Caribbean and the United States Delving into the organizing work and political approach of Garvey and his followers Ewing shows that Garveyism emerged from a rich tradition of pan African politics that had established by the First World War lines of communication among black intellectuals on both sides of the Atlantic Garvey's legacy was to reengineer this tradition as a vibrant and multifaceted mass politics Ewing looks at the people who enabled Garveyism's global spread including labor activists in the Caribbean and Central America community organizers in the urban and rural United States millennial religious revivalists in central and southern Africa welfare associations and independent church activists in Malawi and Zambia and an emerging generation of Kikuyu leadership in central Kenya Moving away from the images of quixotic business schemes and repatriation efforts The Age of Garvey demonstrates the consequences of Garveyism's international presence and provides a dynamic and unified framework for understanding the movement during the interwar years and beyond UCSF Magazine, 1994 Legislative Development in Africa Ken Ochieng' Opalo, 2019-06-20 Examined the development of legislatures under colonial rule post colonial autocratic single party rule and multi party politics in Africa The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics Nic Cheeseman, Karuti Kanyinga, Gabrielle Lynch, 2020 The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics provides a comprehensive and comparative overview of the Kenyan political system as well as an insightful account of Kenyan history from 1930 to the present day Nature's Wealth Pieter J. H. van Beukering, Elissaios Papyrakis, Jetske Bouma, Roy Brouwer, 2013-03-28 Increasing pressure from economic development and population growth has resulted in the degradation of ecosystems around the world and the loss of the essential services that they provide Understanding the linkages between ecosystem service provisioning and human well being is crucial for the establishment of effective environmental and economic development policy Presenting new insights into the relationship between ecosystem services and livelihoods in developing countries this book takes up the challenge of assessing these links to demonstrate their importance in policy development It pays special attention to innovative management opportunities that improve local livelihoods and alleviate poverty while enhancing ecosystem protection Based on eighteen studies in more than twenty developing countries the authors explore the role of biodiversity marine forest water and land related ecosystem services making this an invaluable contribution to research on the role of ecosystems in supporting the livelihoods of the poor around the world Socioeconomic Aspects of Urban and Peri-urban Agriculture Ishtiag Faroug Abdalla, 2012 Development from Within D. R. F. Taylor, Fiona Mackenzie, 2024-09-30 The decade of 1980s was one of crisis for Africa Neither African governments nor development agencies made a significant impact on the quality of life of rural people The enormous range of contexts in Africa social economic political cultural and environmental limits the value of the search for universal solutions to endemic problems First published in 1992 Development from Within examines an alternative framework arguing for flexibility and specificity The authors use case studies to explore the complex social relationships of power from the household to the state They argue for the knowledge and skill of African people and illustrate the diverse means by which men and women in rural Africa struggle to survive This book will be a beneficial read for students and researchers of African studies development studies economics and sociology A Death in the Tiwi Islands Eric Venbrux, 1995-01-01 This compelling book is an extended case study of the social and legal ramifications of a homicide in a Tiwi community The author gives a detailed account of the life of the victim and the events surrounding his murder and describes the cycle of mortuary and seasonal rituals with their elaborate songs and dances He also looks at the dramatic changes in Tiwi society over the last 100 years and examines how the Tiwi have responded to the intervention of Western culture In many areas he finds they have adapted and retained their own value system Venbrux s account of the investigation and trial following the homicide provides timely and important insights into the issue of Aboriginal People traditional law and the Australian criminal justice system Through the strong narrative thread of this book we are presented with an incisive picture of a culture amid conflict and change Leading Issues in
