Gardens and Gardening in the Chesapeake, 1700-1805 Barbara Wells Sarudy, 1998-06-05 In Gardens and Gardening in the Chesapeake Barbara Wells Sarudy recovers this lost world using a remarkable variety of sources: historic maps, travelers' accounts, diaries, paintings, some on the back of Baltimore painted chairs, account ledgers, catalogues, and newspaper advertisements. She offers an engaging account of the region's earliest gardens, introducing us to the people who designed and tended these often elaborate landscapes and explaining the forces and finances behind their creation. From the favorite books of early gardeners to the republican balance between table and ornamental gardens, Sarudy includes details that give us an understanding of Chesapeake gardening from settlement through the early national period. Handbook of Urban

Landscape Cliff Tandy, 2013-10-22 Handbook of Urban Landscape deals with aspects most related to architecture, while at the same time it aims to serve the landscape profession itself. Because the field of landscape work is so wide, the present handbook is limited to urban landscape. The handbook can be used at three levels. Its technical studies and reviews form a general guide to current thought on the design of various kinds of open space; its design guide and information sheets are a daily reference for the landscape design process; and through its sources and references, readers can obtain background information or more specific guidance on particular aspects. This handbook is intended as a desk-side guide for all designers of urban space, including architects, landscape architects, planners, and engineers, and for students of these professions. It should also help to improve understanding of the work and procedures of landscape architects so that all who use them as consultants will be better equipped to brief them. The Loudons and the Gardening Press Sarah Dewis, 2016-03-03 Through close readings of individual serials and books and archival work on the publication history of the Gardener's Magazine 1826-44, Sarah Dewis examines the significant contributions John and Jane Webb Loudon made to the gardening press and democratic discourse. Vilified during their lifetimes by some sections of the press, the Loudons were key players in the democratization of print media and the development of the printed image. Both offered women readers a cultural alternative to the predominantly literary and classical culture of the educated English elite. In addition, they were innovative in emphasizing the value of scientific knowledge and the acquisition of taste as a means of eroding class difference. As well as the Gardener's Magazine, Dewis focuses on the lavish eight-volume Arboretum et Fruticetum Britannicum 1838, an encyclopaedia of trees and shrubs, and On the Laying Out, Planting, and Managing of Cemeteries 1843, arguing that John Loudon was a radical activist who reconfigured gardens in the public sphere as a landscape of enlightenment and as a means of social cohesion. Her book is important in placing the Loudons' publications in the context of the history of the book, media history, garden history, urban social history, history of education, nineteenth-century radicalism, and women's journalism.
