part of a building momentum Beverly Naidus author of Arts for Change Teaching Outside the Frame Democratic Habits in the Art Classroom Elizabeth Sutton, 2023 This volume explores the ways in which practicing K 12 art educators can engage with students to develop democratic habits The contributors present case studies based on action research conducted in their own classrooms as part of their master's in arts education The text is divided into three sections that correspond to habits the author teachers cultivated in their classroom choice voice and caring for community Each author presents real world examples for development of not only art skills but also ways of being and interacting that allow humans to contribute meaningfully to the world Readers will hear from art educators who strive to teach their students ownership and empowerment through problem solving independence and responsibility This timely book shows how art education is a bastion of freedom in public education where students and teachers can think and act collaboratively and critically Book Features Offers examples of transformative teaching that give students voice choice and opportunities to care for community Provides theory as well as replicable models teachers can use Addresses the difficulty of balancing student and teacher needs within the politically embattled field of education Shares the voices of art educators in Midwest classrooms ranging from elementary to high school rural to urban communities Contributors Elizabeth Bloomberg Jeffery Rufus Byrd Ashley Cardamone Kathryn Christensen Michelle Cox Jodi Fenton Samantha Goss Maddison Maddock Wendy Miller Sandra Nyberg Lauren Roush Elizabeth Sutton and Heather Walker

Dark Matter Gregory Sholette, 2010-11-05 Art is big business with some artists able to command huge sums of money for their works while the vast majority are ignored or dismissed by critics This book shows that these marginalised artists the dark matter of the art world are essential to the survival of the mainstream and that they frequently organize in opposition to it Gregory Sholette a politically engaged artist argues that imagination and creativity in the art world originate thrive in the non commercial sector shut off from prestigious galleries and champagne receptions This broader creative culture feeds the mainstream with new forms and styles that can be commodified and used to sustain the few artists admitted into the elite This dependency and the advent of inexpensive communication audio and video technology has allowed this dark matter of the alternative art world to increasingly subvert the mainstream and intervene politically as both new and old forms of non capitalist public art This book is essential for anyone interested in interventionist art collectivism and the political economy of the art world

Culturally Relevant Arts Education for Social Justice Mary Stone Hanley, Gilda L Sheppard, George W. Noblit, Thomas Barone, 2013-08-21 A groundswell of interest has led to significant advances in understanding and using Culturally Responsive Arts Education to promote social justice and education This landmark volume provides a theoretical orientation to these endeavors Examining a range of efforts across different forms of art various educational settings and diverse contexts it foregrounds the assets of imagination creativity resilience critique and cultural knowledge working against prevailing understandings of marginalized groups as having deficits of knowledge skills or culture Emphasizing the arts as a way to make something possible it explores and illustrates the elements of social justice arts education as a way out of no way imposed by dominance and ideology A set of powerful demonstrations shows how this work looks in action Introductions to the book as a whole and to each section focus on how to use the chapters pedagogically The conclusion pulls back the chapters into theoretical and pedagogical context and suggests what needs done to be done practically empirically and theoretically for the field to continue to develop

Art : Process : Change Loraine Leeson,2017-09-07 This book brings a practitioner s insight to bear on socially situated art practice through a first hand glimpse into the development organisation and delivery of art projects with social agendas Issues examined include the artist s role in building creative frameworks the relationship of collaboration to participation management of collective input and wider repercussions of the ways that projects are instigated negotiated and funded The book contributes to ongoing debates on ethics aesthetics for art initiatives where process product and social relations are integral to the mix and addresses issues of practical functionality in relation to social outcome Educating About Social use     Artist-Teachers in Context Raphael Vella, 2016-08-18 This book brings together interviews with twenty one artist teachers from different parts of the world offering many insights into their identities challenges and creative and pedagogic practices they have adopted Based in a range of educational situations from compulsory to post secondary education art schools departments of art education and community based environments these educators discuss their own training in fine art and or art education research interests teaching methods and theoretical outlooks collaborative projects students ambitions exhibitions and the different approaches they use to connect their educational and artistic commitments The discussions take place against a contextual backdrop that is tackled in every interview bringing to the fore the impact of social political historical and institutional frameworks on artist teachers Illustrated with images of works and projects by each artist teacher in the book the volume combines the visual and the verbal in a way that reflects the complex experiences and identities of the interviewees Raphael Vella is a Senior Lecturer in Art Education at the Faculty of Education University of Malta Apart from coordinating and teaching in art education courses he also teaches courses in fine art and theory His publications address the relationships between contemporary artistic practices and education art education in the Mediterranean identity in art education photography and cultural studies and arts based research He is also actively involved in the curation of international and Maltese exhibitions and cultural events and in recent years he initiated projects such as Divergent Thinkers aimed at creating a platform for emerging artists based in Malta and the Valletta International Visual Arts festival VIVA He is also a practising artist having shown his work in many contexts including Malta Venice Warsaw Tokyo Reims Buenos Aires Nicosia and Oxford     'O Captain, My Captain': One Teacher's Hope for Change in the Irish Education System Jennifer Horgan, 2023-02-06 O Captain My Captain is a book about one teacher's hope for change in the Irish education system It is written in an engaging style that draws on personal experience as well as research It aims to reach anyone interested in education from teachers and academics to parents and young people The book imagines what our education system might look like without the Leaving Cert and the CAO system It considers the type of learning that might happen in our classrooms without the demands of a single set of high stakes exams It suggests that our students and our broader society might be more fulfilled and safer as a result In the opening chapters the author considers attitudes towards teachers in Ireland The author suggests a breakdown in this respect linked to the classrooms of the past and a growing pressure on students to perform well in a market run system Our competitive drive in education is presented as yet another form of oppression in our country following on from the abuses of the Church and colonialism The book makes the claim that removing the stress and the singularity of the Leaving Cert could liberate Irish students There is a deep concern for social justice throughout In the later chapters the author places much focus on the importance of objective sex education in Irish schools referring to rising rates of harassment and violence in our universities The writer believes that a removal of a rigid academic approach to education would allow more time to discuss the physical and social realities of young people's lives and bodies The book closes where it began in considering the role of the teacher what the parameters of that role should be in a classroom devoted to helping children find their own individual paths and encouraging them to tell their own stories
