A Camera in the Garden of Eden Kevin Coleman, 2016-02-23 In the early twentieth century the Boston based United Fruit Company controlled the production distribution and marketing of bananas the most widely consumed fresh fruit in North America So great was the company's power that it challenged the sovereignty of the Latin American and Caribbean countries in which it operated giving rise to the notion of company dominated banana republics In A Camera in the Garden of Eden Kevin Coleman argues that the banana republic was an imperial constellation of images and practices that was checked and contested by ordinary Central Americans Drawing on a trove of images from four enormous visual archives and a wealth of internal company memos literary works immigration records and declassified US government telegrams Coleman explores how banana plantation workers women and peasants used photography to forge new ways of being while also visually asserting their rights as citizens He tells a dramatic story of the founding of the Honduran town of El Progreso where the United Fruit Company had one of its main divisional offices the rise of the company now known as Chiquita and a sixty nine day strike in which banana workers declared their independence from neocolonial domination In telling this story Coleman develops a new set of conceptual tools and methods for using images to open up fresh understandings of the past offering a model that is applicable far beyond this pathfinding study

Choreographing Dirt Angenette Spalink, 2023-11-30 This book is an innovative study that places performance and dance studies in conversation with ecology by exploring the significance of dirt in performance Focusing on a range of 20th and 21st century performances that include modern dance dance theatre Butoh and everyday life this book demonstrates how the choreography of dirt makes biological geographical and cultural meaning what the author terms biogeocultography Whether it's the Foundling Father digging into the earth's strata in Suzan Lori Park's The America Play 1994 peat hurling through the air in Pina Bausch's The Rite of Spring 1975 dancers frantically shovelling out fistfuls of dirt in Eveoke Dance Theatre's Las Mariposas 2010 or Butoh performers dancing with fungi in Iv n Daniel Espinosa's Messengers Divinos 2018 each example shows how the incorporation of dirt can reveal micro level interactions between species like the interplay between microscopic skin bacteria and soil protozoa and macro level interactions like the transformation of peat to a greenhouse gas By demonstrating the stakes of moving dirt this book posits that performance can operate as a space to grapple with the multifaceted ecological dilemmas of the Anthropocene This book will be of broad interest to both practitioners and researchers in theatre performance studies dance ecocriticism and the environmental humanities Design for the Unthinkable World Craig Bremner, Paul A. Rodgers, Giovanni Innella, 2024-02-13 This edited book contests that if design's raison d'être is to make things better then the object of design has always been remains and can only be a changed world and our relationship to it the world for us Each chapter was written by carefully selected researchers and practitioners who span geographical disciplinary and methodological boundaries in their work Contributors skilfully examine the case that while this once might have been seen to be a worthy objective how else to effect a preferred state and or pursue the project for the better world now the role of designing must cease to service design for change in the manner in which it has been doing Chapters explore how designing itself might change to explore the possibilities that might exist for the design of what might not become in an unthinkable world what Eugene Thacker calls a world without us This world without us does not mean a world devoid of humans or an interstellar world but a world we project that continues to revolve around the sun but no longer revolves around us This book will be of interest to scholars working in design research design ecology product design service design experience design architecture and information design Architecture, Ethics, and the Personhood of Place Gregory Caicco, 2007 Architecture and environmental design are among the last professional fields to develop a sustained and nuanced discussion concerning ethics Hemmed in by politics and powerful clients on one side and the often unscrupulous practices of the construction industry on the other environmental designers have been traditionally reluctant to address ethical issues head on And yet the rapid urbanization of the world's population continues to swell into new megacities each less healthy welcoming secure or environmentally sustainable than the next Green carbon reduced and sustainable building practices are important ways architects have recently responded to the symptoms of the crisis but are these efforts really addressing the core issues Taking the Dine Navajo Hogan Song a song used to protect and nourish the personhood of newly constructed dwellings as their inspiration the architects philosophers poets and other contemporary scholars contributing to this volume demonstrate that a deeper more radical change in our relationship to the built world needs to occur While offering a careful critique of modernist corporate or techno enthralled design practices these essays investigate an alternative relational ecology whose wisdom draws from ancient and often marginalized voices if not the whisperings of the earth itself Contributors include Richard Kearney Alberto Perez Gomez Juhani Pallasmaa Karsten Harries Edward Casey Susan Stewart David Abram Stacy Alaimo Jace and Laura Weaver Philip Sheldrake and Sebnem Yucel Young Landscape into Eco Art Mark Cheetham, 2018-02-14 Dedicated to an articulation of the earth from broadly ecological perspectives eco art is a vibrant subset of contemporary art that addresses the widespread public concern with rapid climate change and related environmental issues In Landscape into Eco Art Mark Cheetham systematically examines connections and divergences between contemporary eco art land art of the 1960s and 1970s and the historical genre of landscape painting Through eight thematic case studies that illuminate what eco art means in practice reception and history Cheetham places the form in a longer and broader art historical context He considers a wide range of media from painting sculpture and photography to artists films video sound work animation and installation and analyzes the work of internationally prominent artists such as Olafur Eliasson Nancy Holt Mark Dion and Robert Smithson In doing so Cheetham reveals eco art to be a dynamic extension of a long tradition of landscape depiction in the West that boldly enters into today s debates on climate science government policy and our collective and individual responsibility to the planet An ambitious intervention into eco criticism and the environmental humanities this volume provides original ways to understand the issues and practices of eco art in the Anthropocene Art historians humanities scholars and lay readers interested in contemporary art and the environment will find Cheetham s work valuable and invigorating Site Dance Melanie Kloetzel,Carolyn Pavlik,2013-03-27 In recent years site specific dance has grown in popularity In the wake of groundbreaking work by choreographers who left traditional performance spaces for other venues more and more performances are cropping up on skyscrapers in alleyways on trains on the decks of aircraft carriers and in a myriad of other unexpected locations worldwide In Site Dance the first anthology to examine site specific dance editors Melanie Kloetzel and Carolyn Pavlik explore the work that choreographers create for nontraditional performance spaces and the thinking behind their creative choices Combining interviews with and essays by some of the most prominent and influential practitioners of site dance they look at the challenges and rewards of embracing alternative spaces The close examinations of the work of artists like Meredith Monk Joanna Haigood Stephan Koplowitz Heidi Duckler Ann Carlson and Eiko Otake provide important insights into why choreographers leave the theatre to embrace the challenges of unconventional venues Site Dance also includes more than 80 photographs of site specific performances revealing how the arts and movement in particular can become part of and speak to our everyday lives Celebrating the often unexpected beauty and juxtapositions created by site dance the book is essential reading for anyone curious about the way that these choreographers are changing our experience of the world one step at a time Ann Hamilton Joan Simon,Ann Hamilton,2006 Ann Hamilton An Inventory of Objects ISBN 0 9743648 5 1 978 0 9743648 5 8 Hardcover 7 x 10 5 in 264 pgs 150 color and 80 b w U S 60 00 CDN 72 00 November Art William Wordsworth and the Ecology of Authorship Scott Hess,2012 In William Wordsworth and the Ecology of Authorship Scott Hess explores Wordsworth s defining role in establishing what he designates as the ecology of authorship a primarily middle class nineteenth century conception of nature associated with aesthetics high culture individualism and nation Instead of viewing Wordsworth as an early ecologist Hess places him within a context that is largely cultural and aesthetic The supposedly universal Wordsworthian vision of nature Hess argues was in this sense specifically male middle class professional and culturally elite factors that continue to shape the environmental movement today Wild Visions Ben A Minter,Mark

Klett, Stephen J. Pyne, 2022-11-22 A stunning combination of landscape photography and thematic essays exploring how the concept of wilderness has evolved over time Our ideas of wilderness have evolved dramatically over the past one hundred and fifty years from a view of wild country as an inviolable place apart to one that exists only within the matrix of human activity This shift in understanding has provoked complicated questions about the importance of the wild in American environmentalism as well as new aesthetic expectations as we reframe the wilderness as to some degree a human creation Wild Visions is distinctive in its union of landscape photography and environmental thought a merging of short thematic essays with a striking visual narrative Often the wild is viewed in binary terms either revered as sacred and ecologically pure or dismissed as spoiled by human activities This book portrays wilderness instead as an evolving gamut of understandings a collage of views and ideas that is still in process

Women Artists in Interwar France Paula J. Birnbaum, 2017-07-05 Women Artists in Interwar France Framing Femininities illuminates the importance of the Soci des Femmes Artists Modernes more commonly known as FAM and returns this group to its proper place in the history of modern art In particular this volume explores how FAM and its most famous members Suzanne Valadon Marie Laurencin and Tamara de Lempicka brought a new approach to the most prominent themes of female embodiment the self portrait motherhood and the female nude These women reimaged art s conventions and changed the direction of both art history and the politics of their contemporary art world FAM has been excluded from histories of modern art despite its prominence during the interwar years Paula Birnbaum s study redresses this omission contextualizing the group s legacy in light of the conservative politics of 1930s France The group s artistic response to the reactionary views and images of women at the time is shown to be a key element in the narrative of modernist formalism Although many FAM works are missing one reason for the lack of attention paid to their efforts Birnbaum s extensive research through archives press clippings and first hand interviews with artists families reclaims FAM as an important chapter in the history of art from the interwar years

Pastoral and the Humanities Mathilde Skoie, Sonia Bjørnstad-Velázquez, 2006 Though pastoral seems from its outset to have held the seeds of its own demise Virgil s tenth Eclogue contemplates the irrelevance of poetry in an increasingly violent world it has remained curiously persistent as a concept which according to Empson put s the complex into the simple Each essay in this carefully selected collection on the uses and abuses of the pastoral genre addresses pastoral as a critical concept from different disciplinary perspectives The book is firmly rooted in pastoral s classical origins but pioneers the way forward for future study of the pastoral genre It contains contributions from top international scholars in the field including Paul Alpers and T K Hubbard

The Tourist's Gaze Glenn Hooper, 2001 Travel literature has been described by Jonathan Raban as literature s red light district It defies peoples beliefs confuses expectations crosses disciplinary boundaries and is linked to ethnography journalism and biography Yet for all that has managed to remain not only a visible but also an increasingly popular literary genre This anthology makes an entertaining and insightful contribution to this engaging field It includes extracts from well known writers such as Thackeray, Trollope and Chesterton but also presents less familiar figures from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The seventy pieces collected here both offer sharp observations of the country and are equally revealing about the travelers themselves. Each extract where possible is prefaced by a brief biography of its author. For readers interested in the origins and historical role of travel writing in general and how they relate to Ireland, the editor offers an illuminating introduction. This anthology presents illuminating snapshots of Ireland over two hundred years. It also provides insights into the varied perspectives of the travelers themselves, a perspective often influenced by contemporary political events such as the Great Famine, Home Rule, the Civil War, and the Troubles. This anthology leaves the reader with an enduring image of Ireland's ability to fascinate and stimulate visitors through two centuries. Vision Anew Adam Bell, Charles H. Traub, 2015-05-01. Vision anew brings together texts by practitioners, critics, and scholars to explore the evolving nature of the lens-based arts. Presenting essays on photography and the moving image alongside interviews with artists and filmmakers, Vision anew offers an assessment of the medium's ongoing importance in the digital era. Anne Brigman Kathleen Pyne, 2020-06-23. The life and work of an essential photographer whose feminism and pictorialist images distanced her from the mainstream. In the first book devoted to Anne Brigman, 1869-1950, Kathleen Pyne traces the groundbreaking photographer's life from Hawai'i to the Sierra and elsewhere in California, revealing how her photographs emerged from her experience of local place and cultural politics. Brigman's work caught the eye of the well-known photographer Alfred Stieglitz, who welcomed her as one of the original members of his Photo Secession group. He promoted her work as exemplary of his modernism and praised her Sierra landscapes with female nudes, work that at the time separated Brigman from the spiritualized upper-class femininity of other women photographers. Stieglitz later drew on Brigman's images of the expressive female body in shaping the public persona of Georgia O'Keeffe into his ideal woman artist. This nuanced account reasserts Brigman's place among photography's most important early advocates and provides new insight into the gender and racialist dynamics of the early twentieth-century art world, especially on the West Coast of the United States. A Companion to American Environmental History Douglas Cazaux Sackman, 2010-02-12. A Companion to American Environmental History gathers together a comprehensive collection of over 30 essays that examine the evolving and diverse field of American environmental history. Drawing upon a range of contemporary gender and spatial theories, it focuses on the gender dynamics of this remarkable way of life. The

Enclosed Garden and the Medieval Religious Imaginary Liz Herbert McAvoy, 2021 During the Middle Ages the arresting motif of the walled garden especially in its manifestation as a sacred or love inflected hortus conclusus was a common literary device Usually associated with the Virgin Mary or the Lady of popular romance it appeared in myriad literary and iconographic forms largely for its aesthetic decorative and symbolic qualities This study focuses on the more complex metaphysical functions and meanings attached to it between 1100 and 1400 and in particular those associated with the gardens of Eden and the Song of Songs Drawing on contemporary theories of gender gardens landscape and space it traces specifically the resurfacing and reworking of the idea and image of the enclosed garden within the writings of medieval holy women and other female coded texts In so doing it presents the enclosed garden as generator of a powerfully gendered hermeneutic imprint within the medieval religious imaginary indeed as an alternative language used to articulate those highly complex female coded approaches to God that came to dominate late medieval religiosity The book also responds to the eco turn in our own troubled times that attempts to return the non human to the centre of public and private discourse The texts under scrutiny therefore invite responses as both literary and garden spaces where form often reflects content and where their authors are also diligent gardeners the apocryphal Lives of Adam and Eve for example the horticulturally inflected Hortus Deliciarum of Herrad of Hohenburg and the green philosophies of Hildegard of Bingen s Scivias the visionary writings of Gertrude the Great and Mechthild of Hackeborn collaborating within their Helfta nunnery the Middle English poem Pearl and multiple reworkings of the deeply problematic and increasingly sexualized garden enclosing the biblical figure of Susanna
