

An aerial photograph of a vast, dry lake bed under a dramatic sunset sky. In the foreground, a large, dark, concentric spiral artwork is etched into the cracked, reddish-brown earth. The spiral consists of several rings, with a dark, pebbly material filling the innermost circles. The lake bed extends to the horizon, where a few distant landmasses are visible. The sky is filled with soft, orange and yellow clouds, with the sun's glow reflecting on the water's surface in the distance.

Art And Place Site Specific Art Of The Americas:

Art & Place Editors of Phaidon, 2013-11-01 Art Place is an extraordinary collection of site specific art in the Americas. Featuring hundreds of powerful art works in 60 cities from Albuquerque to Boston and Baja to Rio de Janeiro the book is both an informative guide and a virtual bucket list of outstanding art destinations. Conceived and developed by Phaidon editors Art Place covers carving painting murals frescos earthworks land art and more. Each of the works has a dedicated entry pairing gorgeous large format images with in depth descriptions. Maps pinpoint the sites locations while specially commissioned plans reveal some of the more complex layouts. The book is organized geographically offering fresh juxtapositions among familiar art works such as Anish Kapoor's Cloud Gate and Robert Smithson's Spiral Jetty alongside lesser known revelations such as Inhotim Centro de Arte Contemporânea in Brazil. Whether in the mountains at the heart of a city or on a remote island the works in Art Place are all inextricably linked with their environment. This is art to experience in an immersive way presented together in a single book for the first time.

Marfa Kathleen Shafer, 2017-10-11 A small town in the vast desert of West Texas Marfa attracts visitors from around the world to its art foundations and galleries film and music festivals and design and architecture symposiums. While newcomers sometimes see it as another Santa Fe long time residents often take a bemused even disapproving attitude toward the changes that Marfa has undergone since artist Donald Judd came to town in the 1970s and began creating spaces for his own and other artists work. They remember when ranching and the military formed the basis of the town's economy even as they acknowledge that tourist dollars are now essential to Marfa's sustainability. Marfa tells an engaging story of how this isolated place became a beacon in the art world like the famous Marfa Lights that draw curious spectators into the West Texas night. As Kathleen Shafer delves into the town's early history the impact of Donald Judd the expansion of arts programming and the increase in tourism she unlocks the complex interplay between the particularities of the place the forces of commerce and growth the textures of local culture and tradition and the transformative role of artists and creative work. Bookending her story between two iconic artworks the whimsical Prada Marfa and the crass Playboy Marfa Shafer illuminates the shifting cultural landscape of Marfa showing why this place has become a mecca for so many and how the influx of newcomers has transformed its character.

Invisibility in Visual and Material Culture Asbjørn Grønstad, Øyvind Vågnes, 2019-06-01 The essays in Invisibility in Visual and Material Culture contribute pioneering and revelatory insights into the phenomenon of invisibility forging new and multi disciplinary approaches at the intersection of aesthetics technology representation and politics. Importantly they acknowledge the complex interaction between invisibility and its opposite visibility arguing that the one cannot be fully grasped without the other. Considering these entanglements across different media forms the chapters reveal that the invisible affects many cultural domains from digital communication and operative images to the activism of social movements as well as to identity race gender and class issues. Whether the subject is comic books photographic provocations biometric and brainwave sensing technologies letters or a cinematic diary the analyses in this book engage critically and theoretically with the topic of invisibility and thus represent the first scholarly study to identify its importance for the field of visual culture

The Ashgate Research Companion to Minimalist and Postminimalist Music Keith Potter,Kyle Gann,2016-03-23 In recent years the music of minimalist composers such as La Monte Young Terry Riley Steve Reich and Philip Glass has increasingly become the subject of important musicological reflection research and debate Scholars have also been turning their attention to the work of lesser known contemporaries such as Phill Niblock and Eliane Radigue or to second and third generation minimalists such as John Adams Louis Andriessen Michael Nyman and William Duckworth whose range of styles may undermine any sense of shared aesthetic approach but whose output is still to a large extent informed by the innovative work of their minimalist predecessors Attempts have also been made by a number of academics to contextualise the work of composers who have moved in parallel with these developments while remaining resolutely outside its immediate environment including such diverse figures as Karel Goeyvaerts Robert Ashley Arvo P rt and Brian Eno Theory has reflected practice in many respects with the multimedia works of Reich and Glass encouraging interdisciplinary approaches associations and interconnections Minimalism s role in culture and society has also become the subject of recent interest and debate complementing existing scholarship which addressed the subject from the perspective of historiography analysis aesthetics and philosophy The Ashgate Research Companion to Minimalist and Postminimalist Music provides an authoritative overview of established research in this area while also offering new and innovative approaches to the subject

Bound to Appear Huey Copeland,2013-10-28 At the close of the twentieth century black artists began to figure prominently in the mainstream American art world for the first time Thanks to the social advances of the civil rights movement and the rise of multiculturalism African American artists in the late 1980s and early 90s enjoyed unprecedented access to established institutions of publicity and display Yet in this moment of ostensible freedom black cultural practitioners found themselves turning to the history of slavery Bound to Appear focuses on four of these artists Renée Green Glenn Ligon Lorna Simpson and Fred Wilson who have dominated and shaped the field of American art over the past two decades through large scale installations that radically departed from prior conventions for representing the enslaved Huey Copeland shows that their projects draw on strategies associated with minimalism conceptualism and institutional critique to position the slave as a vexed figure both subject and object property and person They also engage the visual logic of race in modernity and the challenges negotiated by black subjects in the present As such Copeland argues their work reframes strategies of representation and rethinks how blackness might be imagined and felt long after the end of the peculiar institution The first book to examine in depth these artists engagements with slavery Bound to Appear will leave an indelible mark on modern and contemporary art

Mark Dion Ruth Erickson, 2017-01-01 A comprehensive survey of American artist Mark Dion examining three decades of his critically engaged practice interrogating our relationship with nature The first book in two decades to consider the entire oeuvre of Mark Dion b 1961 this volume examines thirty years of the American artist s pioneering inquiries into how we collect interpret and display nature Part of a generation of artists expanding institutional critique in the 1990s Dion adopted the methods of the archaeologist or the natural history museum juxtaposing natural objects taxidermy books and more to reorganize the natural and the manmade in poetic witty ways These sculptures installations and interventions offer novel approaches to questioning institutional power which he sees as connected to the control and representation of nature Generously illustrated this publication introduces new insights and features more than seventy five artworks Essays address topics ranging from Dion s ecological activism to his loving critique of museums A diverse group of contributors explores his work as a teacher his public artworks such as Neukom Vivarium in Seattle and his intricate curiosity cabinets installed throughout the world They reveal how Dion s practice and formal investigations which are rooted in history connect to contemporary questions of disciplinary boundaries and the acquisition of knowledge in the age of the Anthropocene

Finding Purple America Jon Smith, 2013-05-01 The new southern studies has had an uneasy relationship with both American studies and the old southern studies In Finding Purple America Jon Smith one of the founders of the new movement locates the source of that unease in the fundamentally antimodern fantasies of both older fields The old southern studies tends to view modernity as a threat to a mystic southern essence a dangerous outside force taking the form of everything from a bulldozer revolution to a national project of forgetting Since the rise of the New Americanists American studies has also imagined itself to be in a permanent crisis mode seeking to affiliate the field and the national essence with youth countercultures that sixties leftists once imagined to be the future Such fantasies Smith argues have resulted in an old southern studies that cannot understand places like Birmingham or Atlanta or cities at all and an American studies that cannot understand red states Most Americans live in neither a comforting premodern Mayberry nor an exciting postmodern Los Angeles but rather in what postcolonialists call alternative modernities and hybrid cultures whose relationships to past and future to stability and change are complex and ambivalent Looking at how the South has played in global metropolitan pop culture since the nineties and at how southern popular and high culture alike have in fact repeatedly embraced urban modernity Smith masterfully weaves together postcolonial theory cultural studies Lacanian psychoanalysis and surprisingly marketing theory to open up the inconveniently in between purple spaces and places that Americanist and southernist fantasies about who we are have so long sought to foreclose
