Korngold and His World Daniel Goldmark, Kevin C. Karnes, 2019-08-27 Erich Wolfgang Korngold 1897-1957 was the last compositional prodigy to emerge from the Austro-German tradition of Mozart and Mendelssohn. He was lauded in his youth by everyone from Mahler to Puccini and his auspicious career in the early 1900s spanned chamber music, opera, and musical theater. Today he is best known for his Hollywood film scores composed between 1935 and 1947.

But There Was Love Michal Govrin, Dana Freibach-Heifetz, Etty Ben-Zaken, Raya Morag, 2025-04-21 But There Was Love: Shaping the Memory of the Shoah proposes a new paradigm for Shoah remembrance in today's cultural and political reality. It derives from the four-year workings of a group of researchers and artists at The Van Leer Jerusalem Institute led by Michal Govrin. The group positions the extraordinary Jewish and non-Jewish human struggle in facing dehumanization and extermination as the essence of the Shoah, challenging us with a profound ethical call.

Art from Trauma Rangira Béa Gallimore, Gerise Herndon, 2019-08-01 What is the role of aesthetic expression in responding to discrimination, tragedy, violence, even genocide? How does gender shape responses to both literal and structural violence, including implicit linguistic, familial, and cultural violence? How might writing or other works of art contribute to healing? Art from Trauma: Genocide and Healing beyond Rwanda explores the possibility of art as therapeutic, capable of implementation by mental health practitioners crafting mental health policy in Rwanda. This anthology of scholarly, personal, and hybrid essays was inspired by scholar and activist Chantal Kalisa. In 1965, at the commemoration of the nineteenth anniversary of the genocide in Rwanda organized by the Rwandan Embassy in Washington, DC, Kalisa gave a presentation, Who Speaks for the Survivors of the Genocide against Tutsi. Kalisa devoted her energy to giving expression to those whose voices had been distorted or silenced. The essays in this anthology address how the production and experience of visual, dramatic, cinematic, and musical arts, in addition to literary arts, contribute to healing from the trauma of mass violence, offering preliminary responses to questions like Kalisa's and honoring her by continuing the dialogue in which she participated with such passion, sharing the work of scholars and colleagues in genocide studies, gender studies, and francophone literatures.

The Women Writers in Schiller's Horen Janet Besserer Holmgren, 2007 This work examines the integral role that six female authors played in Schiller's ambitious literary journal Die Horen, 1795-97. Louise Brachmann, Friederike Brun, Amalie von Imhoff, Sophie Mereau, Elisa von der Recke, and Caroline von Wolzogen helped put the journal back on track when it floundered fiscally and programmatically, and their literary contributions were among the most successful the journal ever received. Beyond a critical discussion of the women's publications in Schiller's journal, this work addresses the range of problems associated with women's writing and publishing during the late eighteenth century: the aesthetics of Weimar Classicism, Schiller, and to a lesser degree, Goethe as patrons and the interpretation of challenging views which emphasise the cognitive and emotional dimensions of mental health development Terrorizing Images Charles Ivan Armstrong, Unni Langas, 2020-09-07 It is broadly accepted that terrorizing images are often instrumentalized in periods of conflict to serve political interests This volume proposes that paying attention to how images of trauma and conflict are described in literary texts i e to the rhetorical practice known as ekphrasis is crucial to our understanding of how such images work The volume s contributors discuss verbal images of trauma and terror in literary texts both from a contemporary perspective and as historical artefacts in order to illuminate the many different functions of ekphrasis in literature The articles in this volume reflect the vast developments in the field of trauma studies since the 1990s a field that has recently broadened to include genres beyond the memoir and testimony and that lends itself well to new postcolonial feminist and multimedia approaches By expanding the scholarly understanding of how images of trauma are described interpreted and acted out in literary texts this collected volume makes a significant contribution to both trauma and memory studies as well as more broadly to cultural studies Musical Performance in the Diaspora Tina K Ramnarine, 2013-10-18 This book illustrates how ethnographic investigation of musical performances might contribute to the analysis of diaspora It embraces diverse examples such as mourning and cultures of survival amongst Aboriginal and Jewish communities in Australia remembering a Kazakh homeland in Western Mongolia celebrating Diwali in New Zealand and the circulation of musical performances in Mozambique Portugal and the UK Some of the topics discussed in Musical Performance in the Diaspora include the expression and shaping of diasporic and postcolonial identities through performance musical memory in diasporic contexts the geographies of performance the politics of new forms of diasporic music making This book presents a rich array of theoretical approaches and wide ranging ethnographic case studies to reconsider and challenge discourses that have favoured uncritical notions of diasporic hybridity and to broaden current analyses of performance in the diaspora Deepening Literacy Learning Mary Ann Reilly, Jane M. Western Music and Its Others Georgina Born, David Hesmondhalgh, 2000 Western Music and Its Others will be taken as an important book signalling a new turn within the field It takes the best features of traditional rigorous scholarship and brings these to bear upon contemporary more speculative questions The level of theoretical sophistication is high The studies within it are polemical and timely and of lasting scholarly value Will Straw co editor of Theory Rules Art as Theory Theory and Art The great value of this collection lies in the wealth of questions that it raises questions that together crystallize the recent concerns of musicology with force and clarity But it also lies in the authors resistance to the easy postmodernist answers that threaten to turn new musicology prematurely grey The editors comprehensive intellectually adventurous introduction exemplifies the sort of eager yet properly skeptical receptivity to scholarly innovation that fosters lasting disciplinary reform It alone is worth the price of the book Richard Taruskin author of Stravinsky and the Russian Traditions A Biography of the Works Through Mavra When cultural studies methods first appeared in musicology 15 years ago they triggered a storm of polemics that sometimes overshadowed the important issues being raised. As the canon wars recede, however, scholars are finding it possible to focus on the concerns that led them to cultural criticism. In the first place, the study of music and its political meanings. Western Music and Its Others brings together leading musicologists, ethnomusicologists, and specialists in film and popular music to explore the ways European and North American musicians have drawn on or identified themselves in tension with the musical practices of Others. In a series of essays ranging from examination of the Orientalist tropes of early 20th-century Modernists to the tangled claims for ownership in today's World Music, the authors in this collection greatly advance both our knowledge of specific case studies and our intellectual awareness of the complexity and urgency of these problems. A timely intervention that should help push music studies to the next level. Susan McClary, author of Conventional Wisdom: The Content of Musical Form (2000). This collection provides a sophisticated model for using theory to interrogate music and music to interrogate theory. The essays both take up and challenge the dominance of notions of representation in cultural theory as they explore the relevance of the concepts of hybridity and otherness for contemporary art music. Sophisticated theory, erudite scholarship, and a very real appreciation for the specificities of music make this a powerful and important addition to our understanding of both culture and music.

In a little-known chapter of World War II, Black people living in Nazi Germany and occupied Europe were subjected to ostracization, forced sterilization, and incarceration in internment and concentration camps. In the absence of public commemoration, African diaspora writers and artists have preserved the stories of these forgotten victims of the Third Reich. Their works illuminate the relationship between creative expression and wartime survival and the role of art in the formation of collective memory. This groundbreaking book explores a range of largely overlooked literary and artistic works that challenge the invisibility of Black wartime history. Emphasizing Black agency, Sarah Phillips Casteel examines both testimonial art by victims of the Nazi regime and creative works that imaginatively reconstruct the wartime period. Among these are the internment art of Caribbean painter Josef Nassy, the survivor memoir of Black German journalist

Hans J Massaquoi the jazz fiction of African American novelist John A Williams and Black Canadian novelist Esi Edugyan and the photomontages of Scottish Ghanaian visual artist Maud Sulter Bridging Black and Jewish studies this book identifies the significance of African diaspora experiences and artistic expression for Holocaust history memory and representation

Dark Side of the Tune: Popular Music and Violence Professor Bruce Johnson, Professor Martin Cloonan, 2013-01-28

Written against the academically dominant but simplistic romanticization of popular music as a positive force this book focuses on the dark side of the subject It is a pioneering examination of the ways in which popular music has been deployed in association with violence ranging from what appears to be an incidental relationship to one in which music is explicitly applied as an instrument of violence A preliminary overview of the physiological and cognitive foundations of sounding hearing which are distinctive within the sensorium discloses in particular their potential for organic and psychic violence The study then elaborates working definitions of key terms including the vexed idea of the popular for the purposes of this investigation and provides a historical survey of examples of the nexus between music and violence from pre Biblical times to the late nineteenth century The second half of the book concentrates on the modern era marked in this case by the emergence of technologies by which music can be electronically augmented generated and disseminated beginning with the advent of sound recording from the 1870s and proceeding to audio internet and other contemporary audio technologies Johnson and Cloonan argue that these technologies have transformed the potential of music to mediate cultural confrontations from the local to the global particularly through violence The authors present a taxonomy of case histories in the connection between popular music and violence through increasingly intense forms of that relationship culminating in the topical examples of music and torture including those in Bosnia Darfur and by US forces in Iraq and Guantanamo Bay This however is not simply a succession of data but an argumentative synthesis Thus the final section debates the implications of this nexus both for popular music studies itself and also in cultural policy and regulation the ethics of citizenship and arguments about human rights

Keepers of the Motherland Dagmar C. G. Lorenz, 1997-01-01 Keepers of the Motherland is the first comprehensive study of German and Austrian Jewish women authors Dagmar Lorenz begins with an examination of the Yiddish author Glikl Hamil whose works date from the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries and proceeds through such contemporary writers as Grete Weil Katja Behrens and Ruth Kl_ger Along the way she examines an extraordinary range of distinguished authors including Else Lasker Sch_ler Rosa Luxemburg Nelly Sachs and Gertrud Kolmar Although Lorenz highlights the author s individualities she unifies Keepers of the Motherland with sustained attention to the ways in which they all reflect upon their identities as Jews and women In this spirit Lorenz argues that the themes and characters as well as the environments evoked in the texts of Jewish women authors writing in German resist patriarchal structures The term motherland defining the domain of the Jewish woman s native language regardless of political or ethnic boundaries is juxtaposed with the concept fatherland referring to the power structures of the nation or state in which she resides Lorenz describes a vital diverse and largely dissident literary tradition a brilliant countertradition in effect that has endured in spite of oppression and genocide Combining careful research with inspired synthesis Lorenz provides an indispensable work for students of German Jewish and women's writings
