Language struggles to bridge the gap and it raises ethical challenges in its management unlike those of other common conditions. Encountering Pain shares leading research into the potential value of visual images and non verbal forms of communication as means of improving clinician patient interaction. It is divided into four sections: hearing, seeing, speaking and a final series of contributions on the future for persistent pain. The chapters are accompanied by vivid photographs co created with those who live with pain. The volume integrates the voices of leading scientists, academics and contemporary artists with poetry and poignant personal testimonies to provide a manual for understanding the meanings of pain for healthcare professionals, pain patients, students, academics and artists. The voices and experiences of those living with pain are central, providing tools for discussion and future research, shifting register between creative, academic and personal contributions from diverse cultures and weaving them together to offer new understanding, knowledge and hope.
