Crime, Justice and Retribution in the American West, 1850-1900 Jeremy Agnew, 2017-03-31 Western movies are full of images of swaggering outlaws brought to justice by valiant lawmen shooting them down in daring gunfights before riding off into the sunset In reality it would not have happened that way Real lawmen did not simply walk away from a gunfight they had to face the legal system and justify shooting a civilian in the line of duty Providing a more realistic view of criminal justice in the Old West this history focuses on how criminals came into conflict with the law and how the law responded The process is described in detail from the common crimes of the day such as train robbery and cattle theft to the methods of apprehending criminals to their adjudication and punishment by incarceration flogging or hanging Aunt Lee's Library Lee Lacy, 2012-05-25 This is basically what our English teachers called an annotated bibliography morphed into grandeur as curated e content for the digital age I obsessively cross checked Best Books Ever lists with public domain e books obtained reprint permission from wonderful online book reviewers and inserted a link to my meta search engine that searches the best of the free e book sites and this e book is the result Think of a browsing in a bookstore coffee house where friendly literate folk have gathered to argue the merits of great books and then they just give them to you armfuls of great free books The Anticipation Novelists of 1950s French Science Fiction Bradford Lyau, 2014-01-10 Following World War II the Fleuve Noir publishing house published popular American genre fiction in translation for a French audience Their imprint Anticipation specialized in science fiction but mostly eschewed translations from English preferring instead French work thus making the imprint an important outlet for native French postwar ideas and aesthetics This critical text examines in ideological terms eleven writers who published under the Anticipation imprint revealing the way these writers criticized midcentury notions of progress while adapting and reworking American genre formats The History of Science Fiction Adam Roberts, 2016-08-04 This book is the definitive critical history of science fiction The 2006 first edition of this work traced the development of the genre from Ancient Greece and the European Reformation through to the end of the 20th century This new 2nd edition has been revised thoroughly and very significantly expanded An all new final chapter discusses 21st century science fiction and there is new material in every chapter a wealth of new readings and original research The author's groundbreaking thesis that science fiction is born out of the 17th century Reformation is here bolstered with a wide range of new supporting material and many hundreds of 17th and 18th century science fiction texts some of which have never been discussed before The account of 19th century science fiction has been expanded and the various chapters tracing the twentieth century bring in more writing by women and science fiction in other media including cinema TV comics fan culture and other modes Talking Books James Carter, 2013-01-11 Talking Books sets out to show how some of the leading children's authors of the day respond to these and other similar questions The authors featured are Neil Ardley Ian Beck Helen Cresswell Gillian Cross Terry Deary Berlie Doherty Alan Durant Brian Moses Philip Pullman Celia Rees Norman

Forces Fred Scharmen,2021-11-09 The radical history of space exploration from the Russian Cosmists to Elon Musk Many societies have imagined going to live in space What they want to do once they get up there whether conquering the unknown establishing space colonies privatising the moon s resources reveals more than expected In this fascinating radical history of space exploration Fred Scharmen shows that often science and fiction have combined in the imagined dreams of life in outer space but these visions have real implications for life back on earth For the Russian Cosmists of the 1890s space was a place to pursue human perfection away from the Earth For others such as Wernher Von Braun it was an engineering task that combined in the Space Race the Cold War and during World War II with destructive geopolitics Arthur C Clark in his speculative books offered an alternative vision of wonder that is indifferent to human interaction Meanwhile NASA planned and managed the space station like an earthbound corporation Today the market has arrived into outer space and exploration is the plaything of superrich technology billionaires who plan to privatise the mineral wealth for themselves Are other worlds really possible Bringing these figures and ideas together reveals a completely different story of our relationship with outer space as well as the dangers of our current direction of extractive capitalism and colonisation Geography of Time, women in horror as both characters and creators Kinitra D Brooks creates a racially gendered critical analysis of African diasporic women challenging the horror genre s historic themes and interrogating forms of literature that have often been ignored by Black feminist theory Brooks examines the works of women across the African diaspora from Haiti Trinidad and Jamaica to England and the United States looking at new and canonized horror texts by Nalo Hopkinson NK Jemisin Gloria Naylor and Chesya Burke These Black women fiction writers take advantage of horror s ability to highlight U S white dominant cultural anxieties by using Africana folklore to revise horror s semiotics within their own imaginary Ultimately Brooks compares the legacy of Shakespeare s Sycorax of The Tempest to Black women writers themselves who deprived of mainstream access to self articulation nevertheless influence the trajectory of horror criticism by forcing the genre to de centralize whiteness and maleness
