Artistic Truth Aesthetics Discourse And Imaginative Disclosure:

Artistic Truth Lambert Zuidervaat, 2004-10-18 It is unfashionable to talk about artistic truth Yet the issues traditionally addressed under that term have not disappeared Indeed questions concerning the role of the artist in society the relationship between art and knowledge and the validity of cultural interpretation have intensified Lambert Zuidervaat challenges intellectual fashions He proposes a new critical hermeneutics of artistic truth that engages with both analytic and continental philosophies and illuminates the contemporary cultural scene People turn to the arts as a way of finding orientation in their lives communities and institutions But philosophers hamstrung by their own theories of truth have been unsuccessful in accounting for this common feature in our lives This book portrays artistic truth as a process of imaginative disclosure in which expectations of authenticity significance and integrity prevail Understood in this way truth becomes central to the aesthetic and social value of the arts     Seeking Stillness or The Sound of Wings Hector Acero Ferrer, Michael DeMoor, Peter Enneson, Matthew Klaassen, 2021-03-11 Seeking Stillness or The Sound of Wings pays tribute to Lambert Zuidervaat one of the most productive Reformational philosophers of the present generation by picking up the central concerns of his philosophical work art truth and society and working with the legacy of his published concern to see what more can be understood about our world in light of that legacy Zuidervaat is an internationally recognized expert in critical theory especially the work of Theodor Adorno and a leading systematic philosopher in the reformational tradition His research and teaching range across continental philosophy epistemology social philosophy and philosophy of art with an emphasis on Kant Hegel Marx Heidegger Gadamer and Habermas He is currently developing a new conception of truth for an allegedly post truth society At the Institute for Christian Studies 2002 2016 Zuidervaat held the Herman Dooyeweerd Chair in Social and Political Philosophy and served as founding Director of the Centre for Philosophy Religion and Social Ethics He was also an Associate Member of the Graduate Faculty and Full Professor status only in the Department of Philosophy at the University of Toronto and a member of the Advanced Degree Faculty at the Toronto School of Theology Zuidervaat is currently a Visiting Scholar in the Department of Philosophy at Calvin University in Grand Rapids Michigan Seeking Stillness or The Sound of Wings seeks to promote new scholarship emerging from the rich and dynamic tradition of reformational intellectual inquiry Believing that all scholarly endeavor is rooted in and oriented by deep spiritual commitments reformational scholarship seeks to add its unique Christian voice to discussions about leading questions of life and society From this source it seeks to contribute to the redemptive transformation and renewal of the various aspects of contemporary society developing currents of thought that open human imagination to alternative future possibilities that may helpfully address the damage we find in present reality As part of this work Currents in Reformational thought will bring to light the inter and multi disciplinary dimensions of this intellectual tradition and promote reformational scholarship that intentionally invites dialogue with other traditions or streams of thought     The Routledge Companion to Twentieth Century Philosophy

Music as Thought Mark Evan Bonds, 2015-07-28 Before the nineteenth century instrumental music was considered inferior to vocal music Kant described wordless music as more pleasure than culture and Rousseau dismissed it for its inability to convey concepts But by the early 1800s a dramatic shift was under way Purely instrumental music was now being hailed as a means to knowledge and embraced precisely because of its independence from the limits of language What had once been perceived as entertainment was heard increasingly as a vehicle of thought Listening had become a way of knowing Music as Thought traces the roots of this fundamental shift in attitudes toward listening in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Focusing on responses to the symphony in the age of Beethoven Mark Evan Bonds draws on contemporary accounts and a range of sources philosophical literary political and musical to reveal how this music was experienced by those who heard it first Music as Thought is a fascinating reinterpretation of the causes and effects of a revolution in listening

Between Ecstasy and Truth Stephen Halliwell, 2012-03-01 As well as producing one of the finest of all poetic traditions ancient Greek culture produced a major tradition of poetic theory and criticism Halliwell's volume offers a series of detailed and challenging interpretations of some of the defining authors and texts in the history of ancient Greek poetics the Homeric epics Aristophanes' Frogs Plato's Republic Aristotle's Poetics Gorgias's Helen Isocrates' treatises Philodemus' On Poems and Longinus' On the Sublime The volume's fundamental concern is with how the Greeks conceptualized the experience of poetry and debated the values of that experience The book's organizing theme is a recurrent Greek dialectic between ideas of poetry as on the one hand a powerfully enthralling experience in its own right a kind of ecstasy and on the other a medium for the expression of truths which can exercise lasting influence on its audiences' views of the world Citing a wide range of modern scholarship and making frequent connections with later periods of literary theory and aesthetics Halliwell questions many orthodoxies and received opinions about the texts analysed The resulting perspective casts new light on ways in which the Greeks attempted to make sense of the psychology of poetic experience including the roles of emotion ethics imagination and knowledge in the life of their culture Readership Scholars and students of Greek literature Greek poetics and literary theory and criticism British Women and the Intellectual World in the Long Eighteenth Century Teresa Barnard, 2016-03-09

De Graaff,2025-06-20 Scripture s compelling message of love and justice is powerfully relevant for today The implications of the Amsterdam way of interpreting Scripture are evident throughout the book It is both a personal and timely way of speaking to our disintegrating society The Prophetic Call to Love and Justice provides a meaningful and radical yet simple way of re connecting with the Bible As one of the founders of the Amsterdam way of interpretation Karel Deurloo stated The opportunity to learn anew and understand the language of the Bible has been taken away Often the focus is on the assumed origin and history of a text a historical literary approach or a fundamentalist view creating a fragmented moralistic and doctrinaire emphasis which has alienated many from churches Instead Deurloo and others focused on the prophetic meaning that speaks to all of us as the living word of God today This alternative is rooted in the Hebrew Scriptures Its abiding prophetic message of love and justice is reiterated in the Gospels and apostolic letters Hence the choice of subtitle Rediscovering the Old Testament It is a joyful journey of discovery finding new meaning in the Bible for our lives      Veiled Intent Natasha Duquette,2016-07-26 How were eighteenth century dissenting women writers able to ensure their unique biblical interpretation was preserved for posterity And how did their careful yet shrewd tactics spur early nineteenth century women writers into vigorous theological debate Why did the biblical engagement of such women prompt their commitment to causes such as the antislavery movement Veiled Intent traces the pattern of tactical moves and counter moves deployed by Anna Barbauld Phillis Wheatley Helen Maria Williams Joanna Baillie and Mary Anne Schimmelpenninck These female poets and philosophers veiled provocative hermeneutical claims and calls for social action within aesthetic forms of discourse viewed as more acceptably feminine forms of expression In between the lines of their published hymns sonnets devotional texts for children and works of aesthetic theory the perceptive reader finds striking theological insights shared from a particularly female perspective These women were not only courageously interjecting their individual viewpoints into a predominantly male domain of formal study biblical hermeneutics but also intentionally supporting each other in doing so Their publications reveal they were drawn to biblical imagery of embodiment and birth to stories of the apparently weak vanquishing the tyrannical on behalf of the oppressed and to the metaphor of Christ as strengthening rock      Architectural Humanities in Progress Bagoes Wiryomartono,2022-02-02 This monograph brings three branches of philosophy together epistemology ethics and aesthetics It assesses the built environment as a case study from a phenomenological perspective Under the notion of phenomenology this study understands the built environment as the hermeneutical phenomenon of being in the life world that is experienced by people within the socio cultural and historical context of habitation Hermeneutically

the built environment as a phenomenon is contextually interwoven with other phenomena within the socio cultural historical and environmental network Phenomenologically speaking the task of the study is to excavate listen to unfold divulge and reconstruct the socio culturally environmentally and historically constructed relationship between people and their built environment that build develop and elaborate the system of knowledge ethics and aesthetics By and large its nature and findings are theoretical and interdisciplinary so it will be of interest not only for philosophers but also to scholars studying urban development and anthropology

Immanent Frames John Caruana, Mark Cauchi, 2018-05-31 For some time now thinkers across the humanities and social sciences have increasingly called into question the once dominant view of the relationship between modernity and secularism prompting some to speak of a postsecular turn Until now film studies has largely been silent about this development even though cinema itself has been a major vehicle for such reflection This fact became inescapable in 2011 when Terrence Malick's The Tree of Life and Lars von Trier's Melancholia were released within days of each other While these two audacious and controversial films present seemingly opposite perspectives the former a thoughtful meditation on faith the latter a portrayal of nontriumphalist atheism together they raise critical questions about transcendence and immanence in modern life These films are however only the most conspicuous of a growing body of works that call forth similar and related questions what this collection aptly calls postsecular cinema Taking the nearly simultaneous release of The Tree of Life and Melancholia as its starting point and framing device this pioneering collection sets out to establish the idea of postsecular cinema as a distinct body of films and a viable critical category Adopting a film philosophy approach one group of essays examines Malick's and von Trier's films while another looks at works by Chantal Akerman Denys Arcand the Dardenne brothers and John Michael McDonagh among others The volume closes with two important interviews with Luc Dardenne and Jean Luc Nancy that invite us to reflect more deeply on some of the central concerns of postsecular cinema

The Democratic Theory of Hans-Georg Gadamer Darren Walhof, 2016-11-29 This book examines the distinctive contribution that the writings of Hans Georg Gadamer make to democratic theory Walhof argues that Gadamer's hermeneutical philosophy enlarges our perspective by shifting our view away from individual citizens to what exists between citizens thereby allowing us to envision political realities that are otherwise hard to see These realities include the disclosure of truth in democratic politics achieving common ground in democratic dialogue even amidst significant disagreement and diversity the public and political nature of the religious traditions that make claims on and shape citizens and the solidarities that connect us to each other and enable democratic action The author argues that bringing these dimensions to awareness enriches our theories of democracy and is particularly crucial in an era of hyper partisanship accelerating inequality and social conflicts involving racial sexual and religious identities
