Arts Based Research Primer Peter Lang Primer:

Arts-based Research Primer James Haywood Rolling, 2013 The Arts Based Research Primer explores the arts based research paradigm and its potential to intersect with and augment traditional social science and educational research methods This text aims to reveal how arts based ways of knowing and doing lend themselves to blended spaces of naturalistic inquiry and is intended to aid artists and scientists alike in their research and professional practices Handbook of

Arts-Based Research Patricia Leavy, 2019-02-27 The handbook is heavy on methods chapters in different genres There are chapters on actual methods that include methodological instruction and examples There is also ample attention given to practical issues including evaluation writing ethics and publishing With respect to writing style contributors have made their chapters reader friendly by limiting their use of jargon providing methodological instruction when appropriate and offering robust research examples from their own work and or others Arts-Based Research Across Textual Media in Education

Jason DeHart, Peaches Hash, 2023-11-06 In company with its sister volume Arts Based Research Across Textual Media in Education explores arts based approaches to research across media including film and comics related material from a variety of geographic locations and across a range of subdisciplines within the field of education This first volume takes a textual focus capturing process poetic and dramaturgical approaches The authors aim to highlight some of the approaches that are not always centered in arts based research The contributors represent a variety of arts based practices and methods and they weave this marrying of artistic and scientific expertise and experience into the fabric of the chapters themselves Authors from international contexts speak to the importance of utilizing artistic approaches for research processes From multimodal field notes to poetic forms to the dramaturgical chapters in this book represent steps forward in educational inquiry to bringing together both the creative and credible The book includes multiple images and rich descriptions shared from the field This first volume covers amongst other topics co created narratives creative fiction in research analytic portraits dramatic representation and critical poetic inquiry It would be suitable for graduate students and scholars interested in qualitative inquiry and arts based methods in education and the social sciences Social Work Research Using Arts-Based Methods

Ephrat Huss, Eltje Bos, 2023-09-12 In the first dedicated analysis of its kind international experts review the rationale and results of arts based approaches to research teaching and practice in social work The book presents examples of their use and methods to evaluate and theorise results and shows how arts can form outputs from research too

Introduction to Art Therapy Research Lynn Kapitan, 2025-04-11 Thoroughly updated with references to newly published research and engaging first person reflections from art therapist researchers working throughout the world the third edition of Introduction to Art Therapy Research places art therapy research within a socially complex world of compelling questions and emerging trends while guiding readers through basic research design First published in 2010 this seminal textbook fulfills the need for a pragmatic educational text that broadly surveys the purpose and role of art therapy research guides students and practitioners in becoming knowledgeable of their field's research literature and ethical principles and instructs them into the kinds of projects, questions and methods they might undertake. Written by a prominent figure in the world of art therapy, this pragmatic text is organized into three parts. Part I provides an overview of the basic steps in conceptualizing an art therapy research study with an emphasis on perspectives that are intrinsic to art therapy. Chapters in Part II cover an inclusive methodological framework from quantitative and outcomes research to qualitative practitioner-based field research, critical participatory orientations, phenomenological and narrative approaches, and the growing influence of art-based research in art therapy. Part III offers up-to-date ethical guidelines and valuable tools for understanding and evaluating research reports as well as practical guidance for publication in scholarly journals based on the author's long experience as the editor of the field's leading scholarly publication. Also included are added coverage on cross-cultural research as well as high-quality examples from published peer-reviewed art therapy research studies that illustrate material throughout the text. This landmark text will continue to educate and inform new and emerging art therapists.

Jungian Arts-Based Research and "The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico" Susan Rowland, Joel Weisshauss, 2020-07-26 Jungian Arts-Based Research and The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico provides clear, accessible and in-depth guidance both for arts-based researchers using Jung's ideas and for Jungian scholars undertaking arts-based research. The book provides a central, extended example which applies the techniques described to the full text of Joel Weisshauss' prose poem The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico, published here for the first time. Designed as a how-to book, Jungian Arts-Based Research and The Nuclear Enchantment of New Mexico explores how Jung contributes to the new arts-based paradigm in psychic functions such as intuition by providing an epistemology of symbols that includes the unconscious and research strategies such as active imagination. Rowland examines Jung's The Red Book as an early example of Jungian arts-based research and demonstrates how this practice challenges the convention of the detached researcher by providing holistic knowing. Arts-based researchers will find here a psychic dimension that also manifests in transdisciplinarity, while those familiar with Jung's work will find in arts-based research ways to foster diversity for a decolonized academy. This unique project will be essential reading for Jungian and post-Jungian academics and scholars, arts-based researchers of all backgrounds, and readers interested in transdisciplinarity.

Arts, Research, Innovation and Society Gerald Bast, Elias G. Carayannis, David F. J. Campbell, 2014-11-19 This book explores at the macro, meso and micro levels and in terms of qualitative as well as quantitative studies, theories, policies and practices about the contributions of artistic research and innovations towards defining new forms of knowledge, knowledge production as well as knowledge diffusion, absorption and use. Artistic research, artistic innovations and arts-based innovations have been major transformers as well as disruptors of the ways in which societies, economies and political systems perform. Ramifications here refer to the epistemic, socio-economic, socio-political and socio-technical base and aesthetic considerations on the one hand as well as to strategies, policies and practices on the other including sustainable enterprise excellence considerations in the context of knowledge economies societies and democracies Creativity in general and the arts in particular are increasingly recognized as drivers of cultural economic political social and scientific innovation and development This book examines how one could derive and develop insights in these areas from the four vantage points of Arts Research Innovation and Society Among the principal questions that are examined include Could and should artists be researchers How are the systems of the Arts and Sciences connected and or disconnected What is the impact of the arts in societal development How are the Arts interrelated with the mechanisms of generating social scientific and economic innovation As the inaugural book in the Arts Research Innovation and Society series this book uses a thematically wide spectrum that serves as a general frame of reference for the entire series of books to come

Experiments in Art Research Sarah Travis, Azlan Guttenberg Smith, Catalina Hernández-Cabal, Jorge Lucero, 2024-06-28 Experiments in Art Research How Do We Live Questions Through Art is not a conventional research methods guide it s an encounter for asking questions through art Originating from the work of a community of tightly connected scholars artists and teachers the book unfolds through a tapestry of moments practices and people embracing the celebration of works in progress and in community Rooted in the practice of permission giving the narrative intertwines personal stories laying bare the transformative power of unconventional teaching methods risky endeavors and the breaking of scholarly norms and begins by understanding that art and research are not separate After that there are endless directions to take up Instead of a handbook offering rules or best practices this text offers an inspiring collection of joy longing and determination This is fascinating reading for arts based researchers artists educators in the arts education scholars research creators performance theorists art history scholars art education scholars inter and anti disciplinary scholars qualitative and post qualitative researchers decolonization scholars public humanities scholars and writing pedagogy scholars committed to understanding how art and creative practice work as powerful communicative tools and have a substantial role in advancing civic participation. Alongside promoting educational practices with learners' civic engagement in mind, this book is a call to action, inviting creative educators to explore the potential of art for developing critical perspectives, articulating voices, and diverse points of view, and engaging in dialogue across difference. Chapters assist students and educators in understanding critical concepts ranging from the protections afforded art under the constitution to the role of civic institutions such as museums, community arts centers, and schools in advancing civic participation. They also present the relationship between art education and civic engagement using watershed political moments such as voter suppression initiatives, xenophobic reactions to the COVID-19 pandemic, and widespread national Black Lives Matter protests. Readers are guided throughout with a series of key questions at the onset of each chapter and encouraged to investigate further the issues discussed through exploration of the many resources embedded in each chapter. Coursework and participatory learning experiences that orient future and current art educators to the relationship of the arts and culture to democracy are also featured. This book will be ideal for students in art education in both upper division undergraduate and graduate levels with cross-curricular appeal for students of political science, social studies, sociology, public history, public anthropology, heritage studies, and public humanities. As well as this, it will be a must-read for educators who are asked to respond to challenges within the political sphere and how these political challenges are influencing educational environments.

Making A Spectacle Megan Ruby, Michelle Angelo-Rocha, Mark Hickey, Vonzell Agosto, 2020-10-01. This book edition offers a collection of scholarship and reflections that goes beyond theoretical conversations. This volume helps reignite a dialogue not only by scholars but also by educators, activists, and students who believe in inclusive and equal access to education for all individuals regardless of race, ethnicity, immigration status, gender, sexuality, religion, and other identities. In this volume, the authors examine curriculum and pedagogy as a tool for recovery from political trauma and healing. They used this as an opportunity to confront some of the politically shameful situations affecting educational environments: homes, neighborhoods, enclaves, and regions marked by socioeconomic inequality. The authors of Making a Spectacle present wide open questions: How are educators and school leaders learning to interact with one another, students, their families, and community while facing increased mass school shootings, police violence, racial profiling, unequal access to education, and basic needs during a pandemic, COVID-19, and other forms of sociopolitical stress influenced by discrimination, institutional racism, and White nationalism? What curricular and pedagogical geographies are educators and students afforded through which to process their emotional responses to ecological or political activities witnessed in schools and their surrounding areas? These chapters and reflections/perspectives represent a diversity of positionalities within critical intersections of power and privilege as they relate to identity, culture, and curriculum and social justice, schools, and society. Feminisms, Technology and Depth Psychology Leslie Gardner, Catriona Miller, Roula Maria Dib, 2024-06-10. Feminisms, Technology and
