Arts And Culture In The Metropolis Strategies For Sustainability:

Arts and Culture in the Metropolis Kevin F. McCarthy, Elizabeth Heneghan Ondaatje, Jennifer L. Novak, 2007 The nonprofit arts currently face an environment that challenges the way the arts have grown and raises the prospect of future consolidation Cognizant of these problems William Penn Foundation and the Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance asked RAND to examine the condition of Philadelphia's arts and culture sector and recommend actions to ensure its sustainability The authors identify the sources and characteristics of this new environment and describe the ways local arts communities are responding to the challenges confronting them In the course of their analysis of eleven metropolitan regions including Baltimore Boston Charlotte Chicago Cleveland Denver Detroit Minneapolis Philadelphia Phoenix and Pittsburgh they introduce two novel ways of examining the local arts sector First they focus on the relationship among the three components of communities arts ecology their arts infrastructures the support systems upon which the arts depend and the sociodemographic economic and the political environment in which they operate Second they create a new framework for describing and evaluating the range of support services that communities provide to their arts sectors They then use this framework to analyze the components of Philadelphia's arts ecology and assess its specific strengths and weaknesses

Professionalization in the Creative Sector Margaret J. Wyszomirski, WoongJo Chang, 2023-10-26 This book seeks to better understand the processes and influences that have driven professionalization in the arts It develops an analytical framework that examines how processes of professionalization that typically influence and shape work conditions and occupational status are in the creative sector augmented by atypical worker efforts and choices to self structure their protean careers The book brings together a collection of works that explore the specific trajectories of professionalization in a variety of creative occupations as well as the formative processes that work across many creative occupations In particular the scholarship presented focuses on the interaction of three key variables field growth and institutionalization mutual benefit organization within fields and occupations and the intervention of cultural policy to validate and foster professional support structures In the broader context of expanding globalization growing awareness of diversity and tectonic shifts in technology this volume unveils research based implications for cultural policy cultural workers and cultural organizations This book will be of interest to researchers creative professionals as well as undergraduate and graduate level students in the fields of arts administration and culture

Performing Arts Center Management Patricia Dewey Lambert, Robyn Williams, 2016-11-03 Performing arts centers PACs are an integral part of the cultural and creative industries significantly influencing the cultural social and economic vitality of communities around the world Virtually all PACs are community based and serve the public interest whether structured as a public nonprofit for profit or hybrid entity However there is a lack of knowledge about the important community role of performing arts centers especially those that mainly host and present work produced by other arts organizations This gap is startling given the ubiquitous presence of PACs in urban centers small communities as well as colleges and universities This co edited reference book provides valuable information at the intersection of theory and practice in the professional field of executive leadership of performing arts centers Drawing on the expertise of leading academics consultants and executives this book focuses on institutions and practices in the United States and is contextualized within additional fields such as cultural planning urban revitalization and economic development Performing Arts Center Management aims to provide valuable theoretical conceptual empirical and practice based information to current and future leaders in creative and cultural industries management It serves as a unique reference for researchers university students civic leaders urban planners public venue managers and arts administrators aspiring to improve or advance their work in successfully managing performing arts centers Economic Strategies for Mature Industrial Economies Peter Karl Kresl,2010-01-01 The global economy has transformed during the last few decades Though the changes have benefited some many mature industrial economies MIEs have not been treated well by the changes they have seen and have been forced to adapt to dramatically changed circumstances In this collection of original papers economists and geographers from Asia North America and Europe examine the policy initiatives that have succeeded in their countries The analyses address issues such as local state and federal governance aging populations inter city cooperation and loss of dominant firms Additionally the authors discuss policy issues such as industrial tourism the roles of education knowledge and culture and repositioning a regions place in the global economy The volume also includes an empirical estimation of the competitiveness of major cities The contributors to this book hold that it is possible for the overwhelming majority of MIEs to shape their policy in such a way that many of the objectives that will yield the most prosperity will fall within their reach In that spirit this book offers the elements for generating economic strategies for mature industrial economies Suggesting frontier policies to help cities chart a course for future developmental success this stimulating work is ideally suited to economists policymakers city planners students and scholars of business economics urban studies and public policy and all those concerned with creating equity for the cities of tomorrow The Nonprofit Sector Walter W Powell,Patricia Bromley,2023-05-25 Timely unique and definitive not only chronicles the history of the nonprofit sector but also provides a broad but critical analysis of its current state Vartan Gregorian President Carnegie Corporation of New York The nonprofit sector has changed in fundamental ways in recent decades As the sector has grown in scope and size both domestically and internationally the boundaries between for profit governmental and charitable organizations have become intertwined Nonprofits are increasingly challenged on their roles in mitigating or exacerbating inequality And debates flare over the role of voluntary organizations in democratic and autocratic societies alike The Nonprofit Sector takes up these concerns and offers a cutting edge empirical and theoretical assessment of the state of the field This book now in its third edition brings together leading researchers economists historians philosophers political scientists and sociologists along with scholars from communication education law management and policy schools to investigate the impact of associational life

Chapters consider the history of the nonprofit sector and of philanthropy the politics of the public sphere governance mission and engagement access and inclusion and global perspectives on nonprofit organizations Across this comprehensive range of topics The Nonprofit Sector makes an essential contribution to the study of civil society Praise for previous editions Takes a decidedly multidisciplinary approach invaluable Journal of Policy Analysis and Management A major contribution to the field Social Forces

State Arts Policy Julia Lowell, 2008 State arts agencies key players within the U S system of public support for the arts face growing economic political and demographic challenges to the roles and missions they adopted when founded in the mid 1960s This report the fourth and final in a multiyear study looks at state arts agencies efforts to rethink their roles and missions reflecting on what the changes may mean for the direction of state arts policy Drawing on readings discussions and analyses conducted for the study the author concludes that if current trends and strategies continue future state arts policy is likely to focus more on developing the creative economy improving arts education and encouraging a broader spectrum of state residents to participate in the arts To achieve these goals state arts agencies will likely become more involved in policy advocacy coalition building convening and gathering and disseminating information than in grantmaking The transition to this future poses some risks for the agencies and for the arts community but it also offers the opportunity to more effectively promote the conditions in which the arts can thrive
