

A landscape photograph of a sunset over a body of water. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm orange and yellow glow in the sky. The water reflects the light from the sun. In the foreground and middle ground, there are silhouettes of trees and hills. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

Novel Violence Garrett Stewart,2009-08-01 Victorian novels Garrett Stewart argues hurtle forward in prose as violent as the brutal human existence they chronicle In Novel Violence he explains how such language assaults the norms of written expression and how in doing so it counteracts the narratives it simultaneously propels Immersing himself in the troubling plots of Charles Dickens Anne Bront George Eliot and Thomas Hardy Stewart uses his brilliant new method of narratography to trace the microplots of language as they unfold syllable by syllable By pinpointing where these linguistic narratives collide with the stories that give them context he makes a powerful case for the centrality of verbal conflict to the experience of reading Victorian novels He also maps his finely wrought argument on the spectrum of influential theories of the novel including those of Georg Luk cs and Ian Watt and tests it against Edgar Allan Poe s antinovelistic techniques In the process Stewart shifts critical focus toward the grain of narrative and away from more abstract analyses of structure or cultural context revealing how novels achieve their semantic and psychic effects and unearthing in prose something akin to poetry

Voices tells of a world where lives are adrift in a sea of flames Such an atmosphere of dancing human remains may be hard to imagine unless it's been lived Like firebrands streaking through a black night sky Spirit things can seem a fantasy to a casual eye As for the tellings in this book they're not a glimpse at EUR but a deep gaze and the encounters of a human soul Born far apart Sue and Bob's lives began as fairytales at EUR but as fairytales will do their dreams bled out and soaked the ground Broken homes drugs alcohol and a confused moral compass led them down treacherous paths Then in 1973 while drifting through the universe their twisting paths collided one day in the dark Bob was a violent atheist who professed he was god Sue who once aspired to be a Nun now dabbled in mysticism in her parched thirst for truth Then came the days of the Valiant ones who laid siege to our Kingdom for four months Two months in Sue prayed through the night at EUR and when I learned of it I threatened her life God then showed her in a dream my soul now completely void of light and as she watched giant soulless birds began devouring me Two weeks later and close to death alone in my room I prayed and once I asked for forgiveness a voice above me spoke So the days of my dying ended at EUR for the days of miracles had now begun This is a true story      Entranced by Story Hugh Crago, 2014-04-24

We live in a world of stories yet few of us pause to ask what stories actually are why we consume them so avidly and what they do for story makers and their audiences This book focuses on the experiences that good stories generate feelings of purposeful involvement elevation temporary loss of self vicarious emotion and relief of tension The author examines what drives writers to create stories and why readers fall under their spell why some children grow up to be writers and how the capacity for creating and comprehending stories develops from infancy right through into old age Entranced by Story applies recent research on brain function to literary examples ranging from the Iliad and Wuthering Heights to Harold and the Purple Crayon providing a groundbreaking exploration of the biological and neurological basis of the literary experience Blending research theory and biographical anecdote the author shows how it is the unique structure of the human brain with its layering of sophisticated cognitive capacities upon archaic emotion driven functions which best explains the mystery of story      Novels, Poems and Letters of Charles Kingsley: Westward Ho! Charles Kingsley,1899      The Magic of Scotland - 70+ Scottish Historical Novels, Adventure Classics & Romance Novels Robert Louis Stevenson,John Buchan,George MacDonald,Walter Scott,J.
