Genealogy and Ontology of the Western Image and Its Digital Future John Lechte, 2012 With the emerging dominance of digital technology the time is ripe to reconsider the nature of the image Some say that there is no longer a phenomenal image only disembodied information 0 1 waiting to be configured For photography this implies that a faith in the principle of an evidential force of the impossibility of doubting that the subject was before the lens is no longer plausible Technologically speaking we have arrived at a point where the manipulation of the image is an ever present possibility when once it was difficult if not impossible What are the key moments in the genealogy of the Western image which might illuminate the present status of the image And what exactly is the situation to which we have arrived as far as the image is concerned These are the questions guiding the reflections in this book In it we move in Part 1 from a study of the Greek to the Byzantine image from the Renaissance image and the image in the Enlightenment to the image as it emerges in the Industrial Revolution Part 2 examines key aspects of the image today such as the digital and the cinema image as well as the work of philosophers of the image including Roland Barthes Walter Benjamin Gilles Deleuze Jean Paul Sartre and Bernard Stiegler

The Future of Aesthetic Experience Peter Baofu, 2009-03-26 Contrary to the conventional wisdom held by many Dr Peter Baofu argues that the current popularity of postmodernism in the humanities especially though not exclusively in relation to the arts will not last as it constitutes an aesthetic fad in this day and age of postmodernity This thesis has important implications for understanding beauty ugliness and other aesthetic categories be the era in the past present or future to the extent that the current theoretical debate on aesthetic experience is as much misleading as obsolete The current debate also obscures something more tremendous in the long run in relation to the emergence of what Dr Baofu originally proposes as the great transformations of aesthetic experience in the coming future that humans have never known both here on Earth and later in deep space in accordance to the five theses of his transformative theory of aesthetic experience To understand this the book is organized into four major parts i e in relation to nature the mind culture and society

Theorizing Images Žarko Paić, 2016-04-26 This book uncovers an underlying dispute over the role images play in contemporary society and consequently over their values and purposes Two decades after the concepts of the pictorial and the iconic turn changed our vernacular involvement with regard to images it has become clear that it was not only a newly discovered social political or sexual construction of the visual field that brought turbulence into disciplinary knowledge but that images have their own pictorial logic with powers exceeding those that are purely iconic or visually discernible Instead of underscoring previously defined concepts of the picture the contributors to this book view visual studies and Bildwissenschaft merely as a place for the theory of images making a case for the hotly debated topic of their powers and weaknesses on the one hand and of their respective theories on the other Therefore as the title indicates this book theorizes images but it does not present a theory of images because visual studies cannot lead to a unified theory of images unless a unified ontology of images can be agreed upon first Although that would be a different task altogether all the contributions in this book in different ways and at different paces by theorizing images in their aesthetic historical media and technological

Housing, Urban Renewal and Socio-Spatial Integration Xiaoxi Hui, 2013-02-07 This issue of A BE addresses two critical urban issues China faces today housing and urban renewal In the recent two decades the Chinese urban housing stock underwent a significant if not extreme transformation From 1949 to 1998 the urban housing stock in China largely depended on the public sector and a large amount of public housing areas were developed under the socialistic public housing system in Beijing and other Chinese cities Yet in 1998 a radical housing reform stopped this housing system Thus most of the public housing stock was privatized and the urban housing provision was conferred to the market The radical housing privatization and marketization did not really resolve but intensified the housing problem Along with the high speed urbanization the alienated capitalized and speculative housing stock caused a series of social and spatial problems The Chinese government therefore attempted to reestablish the social housing system in 2007 However the unbalanced structure of the Chinese urban housing stock has not been considerably optimized and the housing problem is still one of the most critical challenges in China
