Affordable City Conflicts In Urban Regional:

Cities, Change, and Conflict Nancy Kleniewski, Alexander R. Thomas, Gregory Fulkerson, 2024-06-28 Cities Change and Conflict was one of the first texts to embrace the perspective of political economy as its main explanatory framework and then complement it with the rich contributions of human ecology as well as perspectives derived from critical approaches to social theory Although its primary focus is on North American cities the book contains several chapters on cities in other parts of the world including the Global North and Global South It provides both historical and contemporary accounts of the impact of globalization on urban development and urban institutions This sixth edition features a new groundbreaking chapter on the relationship between the physical environment and human settlements including the urban rural nexus This edition also expands and updates coverage of recent trends such as the establishment and evolution of gay neighborhoods the suburbanization of immigrant groups the situation of the immigrant youth known as Dreamers the reverse migration of Blacks from the North to the South and the proliferation of exurban communities Beyond examining the dynamics that shape the form and functionality of cities the text surveys the experience of urban life among different social groups including a new perspective on intersectionality as it affects people's experiences in cities It illuminates the workings of the urban economy local and federal governments and the criminal justice system while addressing policy debates and decisions that affect almost every aspect of urbanization and urban life

OECD Urban Studies Housing Affordability in Cities in the Czech Republic OECD, 2021-06-23 While the full effects of the COVID 19 crisis on housing affordability in cities in the Czech Republic remain to be seen the pandemic has reinforced the urgency of tackling pre-existing challenges such as a consistent shortage of housing supply in cities and structural obstacles for urban households to access affordable housing

Cleavage, Connection and Conflict in Rural, Urban and Contemporary Asia Tim Bunnell, D. Parthasarathy, Eric C. Thompson, 2012-12-11 Asia the location of the world's fastest growing economies is also home to some of the fastest rates of urbanization humanity has ever seen a process whose speed renders long term outcomes highly unpredictable This volume contrasts with much published work on the rural urban divide which has tended to focus on single case studies It provides empirical perspectives from four Asian countries India Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand and includes a wealth of insights that both critique and expand popular notions of the rural urban divide The volume is relevant not just to Asian contexts but to social scientific research on population dynamics more generally Rather than deploying a single study to chart national trends three chapters on each country make possible much more complex perspectives As a result this volume does more than extend our understanding of the interplay between cities and hinterlands within Asia It enhances our notions of rural urban cleavages connections and conflicts more generally with data and analysis ready for application to other contexts Of interest to diverse scholars across the social sciences and Asian studies this work includes accounts ranging from rural youth real estate entrepreneurs in Hyderabad India to social development in Aceh province in Indonesia devastated by the 2004 tsunami to the relationship between urban space and commonly held notions of the supernatural in Thailand's northern city of Chiang Mai

Robert C. Brears, 2023-01-13 While urban settlements are the drivers of the global economy and centres of learning culture and innovation and nations rely on competitive dynamic regions for their economic social and environmental objectives urban centres and regions face a myriad of challenges that impact the ways in which people live and work create wealth and interact and connect with places Rapid urbanisation is resulting in urban sprawl rising emissions urban poverty and high unemployment rates housing affordability issues lack of urban investment low urban financial and governance capacities rising inequality and urban crimes environmental degradation increasing vulnerability to natural disasters and so forth At the regional level low employment low wage growth scarce financial resources climate change waste and pollution and rising urban peri urban competition etc are impacting the ability of regions to meet socio economic development goals while protecting biodiversity The response to these challenges has typically been the application of inadequate or piecemeal solutions often as a result of fragmented decision making and competing priorities with numerous economic environmental and social consequences In response there is a growing movement towards viewing cities and regions as complex and sociotechnical in nature with people and communities interacting with one another and with objects such as roads buildings transport links etc within a range of urban and regional settings or contexts This comprehensive MRW will provide readers with expert interdisciplinary knowledge on how urban centres and regions in locations of varying climates lifestyles income levels and stages development are creating synergies and reducing trade offs in the development of resilient resource efficient environmentally friendly liveable socially equitable integrated and technology enabled centres and regions

Conflict and Change in Australia's Peri-Urban Landscapes Melissa Kennedy, Andrew Butt, Marco Amati, 2016-03-22 In an era of rapid urbanization peri urban areas are emerging as the fastest growing regions in many countries Generally considered as the space extending one hundred kilometres from the city fringe peri urban areas are contested and subject to a wide range of uses such as residential development productive farming water catchments forestry mineral and stone extraction and tourism and recreation Whilst the peri urban space is valued for offering a unique ambiance and lifestyle it is often highly vulnerable to bushfire and loss of biodiversity and vegetation along with threats to farming and food security in highly productive areas Drawing together leading researchers and practitioners this volume provides an interdisciplinary contribution to our knowledge and understanding of how peri urban areas are being shaped in Australia through a focus on four overarching themes Peri urban Conceptualizations Governance and Planning Land Use and Food Production and Solutions and Representations Whilst the case studies focus on Australia they advance a variety of tools useful in discerning processes and impacts of peri urban change globally Furthermore the findings are instructive of the issues and tensions commonly encountered in rapidly urbanizing peri urban areas throughout the world from landscape valuation and biosecurity concerns to functional adaptation and social change

Urbanised Society in the Age of Cities Cumhur Olcar, 2025-04-29 This book details the transformation processes that impinge on constitutionally ordained governance by drawing on the new theoretical approaches in the urban sciences It is unique in terms of its focused content which thoroughly analyses the transformation of space and governance in Turkey and beyond and how urban institutions have emerged and changed since their inception Underlining the distinct structural characteristics this book unearths the significant socio political and economic processes which are critical to the political articulation of governance in cities It follows a multidisciplinary approach which helps understand the social churning that has radically altered the conventions of urban politics It also attempts to draw out the theoretical implications of cities peculiar socio economic and political processes based on a rigorous empirical investigation in which political is envisioned and fashioned This book will be useful to students researchers and teachers working in the field of urban and social science public administration urban sociology political economy and urban politics It will also be an invaluable and interesting reading for those invested in Asian studies

Major French Cities facing Metropolization Alain Bourdin, 2024-05-27 This book characterizes a type of city i e the metropolis by using characteristics which have very little to do with its size It distinguishes between metropolises and megacities and defines these different characteristics by bringing together elements related to facilities accessibility and economic power on one hand and other elements which relate more to the capacity for innovation and more generally to the knowledge society and economy All of which demonstrate the process of metropolization as well as elements of daily life and more generally elements which relate to the urban experience To live in a metropolis is not only to benefit from more urban amenities but also to live in a different way in particular in a world which is much more diverse in every respect Based on a series of metropolization criteria constructed and discussed this book goes beyond ordinary statistical approaches to integrate the interterritorial scale of metropolitan systems as well as their qualitative dimension Following in Simmel's footsteps it shows that a city is also an atmosphere a mentality a spirit all of which are poorly captured by statistical data As such the book focuses on five major themes networks economic development social issues urban form and the ecological and digital transition The book makes an interesting read for urban planners sociologists planners and architects and all specialists working in this field
