African Development Making Sense Of The Issues And Actors:

African Development Todd J. Moss, 2007 In the ongoing battle against global poverty the countries of Africa continue to present the greatest challenge African Development offers a comprehensive introduction to the issues actors and institutions interacting across the diverse continent Each issue chapter is organized around three fundamental questions Where are we now How did we get to this point What are the current debates Interspersed throughout are vivid sidebars acquainting the student with ten well known big men and ten equally important but lesser known African actors The text also includes the ABCs of development jargon Emerging Issues in Contemporary African Economies Steve Onyeiwu, 2024-12-02 How have the events of the twenty first century shaped African economies and societies In this book Steve Onyeiwu highlights the dynamics challenges and opportunities in African economies He analyzes the socioeconomic and political conditions in Africa with emphasis on events of the past two decades Onyeiwu notes that African economies change virtually every minute and it is imperative to ensure the information presented is current and accurate Climate change and the explosion of the youth population have assumed new dimensions prompting analysts to ponder their implications for the future of African economies Other significant changes include COVID 19 and recent apprehension about the resilience of democracy throughout the region The author addresses these complex topics and explains how the skepticism about the endurance of democracy is fueled by economic anxiety political violence coup d tats and protests in many parts of Africa The book includes recent data on key variables and events in the region In addition to undertaking thorough revisions of the 10 chapters from the first edition this new edition includes three new chapters on population and youth COVID 19 and climate change Africa in Contemporary Perspective Manuh, Takyiwaa, Sutherland-Addy, Esi, 2014-05-08 An important feature of Ghanaian tertiary education is the foundational African Studies Programme which was initiated in the early 1960s Unfortunately hardly any readers exist which bring together a body of knowledge on the themes issues and debates which inform and animate research and teaching in African Studies particularly on the African continent This becomes even more important when we consider the need for knowledge on Africa that is not Eurocentric or sensationalised but driven from internal understandings of life and prospects in Africa Dominant representations and perceptions of Africa usually depict a continent in crisis Rather than buying into external representations of Africa with its lacks and aspirations for Western modernities we insist that African scholars in particular should be in the forefront of promoting understanding of the pluri lingual overlapping and dense reality of life and developments on the continent to produce relevant and usable knowledge Continuing and renewed interest in Africa s resources including the land mass economy minerals visual arts and performance cultures as well as bio medical knowledge and products by old and new geopolitical players obliges African scholars to transcend disciplinary boundaries and to work with each other to advance knowledge and uses of those resources in the interests of Africa s people The Homeowner Ideology Singumbe Muyeba, 2025-03-24 While homeownership has clear benefits among the impoverished The Homeowner Ideology shows that the utility of real property rights as an economic resource are severely limited in sub Saharan African cities Although global poverty has declined since 1990 it remains widespread in Sub Sahara the region with the highest proportion of the global population living in slums Mainstream thinking in development studies is dominated by market fundamentalist neoclassical economics and the premise that ownership reduces poverty Singumbe Muyeba contends that this neoliberal premise is flawed and unsupported by data within the African context Muyeba argues that property rights function as structured idle capital on the formal market in African cities and the persistence of homeownership as the intervention of choice is explained by the influence of neoliberal ideology intergenerational transfer of homeownership culture within the family and the state s deliberate and active support for homeownership tenure

Reflecting God's Glory Together A. Scott Moreau, Beth Snodderly, 2011-09-15 The true story of mission has been deeper wider and far more diverse than many Christians in countries with long histories of church presence have realized The authors in Reflecting God s Glory Together Diversity in Evangelical Mission drive that point home in a variety of ways From Filipino and Ghanaian missionary work in North American cities to Canadian work among the Chinese diaspora to African American work in Zimbabwe the authors help us begin to grasp just how many ways evangelicals in mission are truly going from and coming to everywhere as they follow Christ s mandate to reach the nations Diverse voices utilizing diverse strategies pursuing a common call these result in a mosaic whose larger pattern glorifies the God who came to live among us and who continues to send us out in the pattern God so clearly established As editors Beth and Scott invite you to explore the stories embedded in that marvelous mosaic that we have been privileged to collect for this volume Natural Resources and Social Conflict M. Schnurr, L. Swatuk, 2012-03-02 This volume brings together international scholars reflecting on the theory and practice of international security human security natural resources and environmental change It contributes by centring the margins and privileging alternative conceptions and understandings of environmental in security Afrofuturisms Isaac Vincent Joslin, 2023-05-09 An exploration of Francophone African literary imaginations and expressions through the lens of Afrofuturism Generally attributed to the Western imagination science fiction is a literary genre that has expressed projected technological progress since the Industrial Revolution However certain fantastical elements in African literary expressions lend themselves to science fiction interpretations both utopian and dystopian When the concept of science is divorced from its Western rationalist materialist positivist underpinnings science fiction represents a broad imaginative space that supersedes the limits of this world Whether it be on the moon under the sea or elsewhere within the imaginative universe Afrofuturist readings of select films novels short stories plays and poems reveal a similarly emancipatory African future that is firmly rooted in its own cultural mythologies cosmologies and philosophies Isaac Joslin identifies the contours and modalities of a speculative futurist science fiction rooted in the sociocultural and geopolitical context of continental African imaginaries Constructing an arc that begins with gender identity and cultural plurality as the bases for an inherently multicultural society this project traces the essential role of language and narrativity in processing traumas that stem from the violence of colonial and neocolonial interventions in African societies Joslin then outlines the influential role of discursive media that construct divisions and create illusions about societal success belonging and exclusion while also identifying alternative critical existential mythologies that promote commonality and social solidarity The trajectory proceeds with a critical analysis of the role of education in affirming collective identity in the era of globalization the book also assesses the market driven violence that undermines efforts to instill and promote cultural and social autonomy Last this work proposes an egalitarian and ecological ethos of communal engagement with and respect for the diversity of the human and natural worlds Transformative Eco-Education for Human and Planetary Survival Jing Lin, Rebecca L. Oxford, 2011-12-01

Transformative eco education is environmental education that is literally needed to transform and save our planet especially during the global ecological crises of our present century Such education demands inner transformation of many deeply rooted ideas such as the following the Earth exists merely to provide for human comfort the extinction or reduction of other species does not matter we are free to consume or destroy natural resources at will but are safe from destruction ourselves and the Earth will continue to sustain us even if we do not sustain the Earth Unless these concepts are changed we will increase global warming and add to the ruin of much of the Earth This book presents powerful ideas for transformative eco education At this time of ever increasing ecological crisis such education is needed more than ever before We urge readers to use the ideas and activities in this book with your students develop them further and create new conceptions to share with other educators and students The chapters in this book provide key principles of which the following are just a few First educators can and should prepare students for natural disasters Second stories case studies the arts and hands on environmental experience all enriched by reflection and discussion can offer profound learning about ecology Third education at all levels can benefit from a true ecological emphasis Fourth teachers must receive preparation in how to employ transformative eco education Fifth Indigenous wisdom can offer important holistic spiritual paths to understanding and caring for nature and other spiritual traditions also provide valid ways of comprehending humans as part of the universal web of existence Sixth transformative eco education can be an antidote to not only to environmental breakdown but also to materialistic overconsumption and moral confusion Seventh we can only heal the Earth by also healing ourselves If we heed these principles together we can make transformative eco education a blazing torch to light the path for the current century and beyond Social Entrepreneurship in the Age of Atrocities Zachary Daniel Kaufman, 2012-01-01 How can anyone make a difference in a world marked by genocide civil war refugee crises disease epidemics With conscience hope and sweat equity Dr Zachary Kaufman and the other contributors to this book have offered aid created organizations serving victims of human rights violations and learned from set backs and failures Their insight into challenges of sustainable fund raising organizational design and management and skepticism about young Western volunteers can inspire and instruct others who

Theology as Construction of Piety David T. Ngong, 2013-12-10 This book argues that a primary purpose of theological discourses is to construct piety or spirituality If this is the case theologians need to constantly inquire into the kind of piety or spirituality which their work may construct Drawing from some important moments in the development of Christian theology such as the development of the Christian doctrine of God in the early church the role of material things in the Christianity of medieval Europe some elements of contemporary postliberal theology and the theology of inculturation in Africa the book argues that theological discourses that appear to be orthodox and innocuous may actually construct forms of piety that may diminish human flourishing The book therefore calls for an ethics of theology intended to ensure that the theologies we construct help in developing a piety that is conducive to human flourishing in the modern world especially for Africans who have suffered and continue to suffer unspeakable dehumanization The book proposes that a theology that may contribute to the flourishing of Africans in the modern world is one that constructs an interdisciplinary spirituality that takes both the spiritual and the scientific seriously

living standards between the developed and developing polities constitutes a striking feature of life on Planet Earth This publication is an attempt to highlight some of the factors dividing the worlds apart A new North South synergy is needed in creating a balanced world at peace with itself As long as more than half the population of the world go to bed hungry there can be no peace A sting rich world and a sting poor world cannot cohabit peacefully How to build a more equitable and balanced world is the challenge facing us We need to embrace and practice our long aged concepts of ubuntu harambee and batho pele among others in creating and consolidating the new world order Africa is underdeveloped It requires serious structural modification in our current mindset thinking and actions which calls for total involvement of every citizen The ideas advanced in this book are strategies and pathways for dealing with the problems of poverty corruption the distribution of power deterrence good governance health human capacity building and the challenge of bringing about a systemic structural functional governance construct for the African continent But I Meant Well James Thomas,2025-05-29

Discussions of decolonization often only enable intellectualization of the topic not action or transformation But I Meant Well Unlearning Colonial Ways of Doing Good enables readers to see coloniality in their everyday lives to confess their complicity to begin to delink from colonial ways of doing good and to detect emerging noncolonial ways The book is written for those who want to make the world a better place to lessen misery and inequality through careers in fields like global health humanitarian aid nonprofit charities and harnessing market forces for good The author James Thomas has worked in global health as an epidemiologist and ethicist in more than 40 countries Not content to be just an academic he founded an organization in East Africa that sought to provide an alternative to the typical donor recipient model of nonprofits Early in his career he became aware that as a White male descendant of colonial settlers many modern social systems including those claiming to improve the world were created by and for people like him He came to see that he had uncritically adopted colonial narratives and methods Inspired by Kenyan novelist Ng g wa Thiong o Thomas sought to decolonize his mind a process he describes as unlearning colonial ways Those who read this book will be guided on a similar journey Drawing from a wide variety of disciplines including sociology history religion philosophy economics psychobiology and political science Thomas presents a jargon free narrative that draws the reader in Students of public health social work medicine nursing business and more will find the journey not just informative but personally and professionally transformative The

Skeptic's Guide to Global Poverty Dale Hanson Bourke,2007 A simple and approachable guide to understanding the causes consequences and possible cures of poverty Re-Inventing Africa's Development Jong-Dae Park,2018-12-31 This open access book analyses the development problems of sub Sahara Africa SSA from the eyes of a Korean diplomat with knowledge of the economic growth Korea has experienced in recent decades The author argues that Africa s development challenges are not due to a lack of resources but a lack of management presenting an alternative to the traditional view that Africa s problems are caused by a lack of leadership In exploring an approach based on mind set and nation building rather than unity which tends to promote individual or party interests rather than the broader country or national interests the author suggests new solutions for SSA s economic growth inspired by Korea s successful economic growth model much of which is focused on industrialisation This book will be of interest to researchers policymakers NGOs and governmental bodies in economics development and politics studying Africa s economic development and Korea s economic growth model

Complex Networks & Their Applications IX Rosa M. The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics: Context and concepts Célestin Monga,Justin Yifu Lin,2015 For a long time economic research on Africa was not seen as a profitable venture intellectually or professionally few researchers in top ranked institutions around the world chose to become experts in the field This was understandable the reputation of Africa centered economic research was not enhanced by the well known limitations of economic data across the continent Moreover development economics itself was not always fashionable and the broader discipline of economics has had its ups and downs and has been undergoing a major identity crisis because it failed to predict the Great Recession Times have changed many leading researchers including a few Nobel laureates have taken the subject of Africa and economics seriously enough to devote their expertise and creativity to it They have been amply rewarded the richness complexities and subtleties of African societies civilizations rationalities and ways of living have helped renew the humanities and the social sciences and economics in particular to the point that the continent has become the next major intellectual frontier to researchers from around the world In collecting some of the most authoritative statements about the science of economics and its concepts in the African context this handbook the first of two volumes opens up the diverse acuity of commentary on exciting topics and in the process challenges and stimulates the quest for knowledge Wide ranging in its scope themes language and approaches this volume explores examines and assesses economic thinking on Africa and Africa's contribution to the discipline The editors bring a set of powerful resources to this endeavor most notably a team of internationally renowned economists whose diverse viewpoints are complemented by the perspectives of philosophers political scientists and anthropologists

De-neocolonizing Africa Unwana Samuel Akpan, 2024-10-16 This book fills a critical void in African research a lack of engagement with the question of how digital capabilities can be harnessed to liberate Africa from the subtle grips of neocolonization Bringing together seasoned and emerging scholars from diverse regions of Africa the book dissects the intricate relationship between technology and the persistent echoes of colonial legacies The authors distinguish between decolonization the historical struggle for independence and the ongoing imperative of de neocolonization an evolving battle against persistent but more subtle colonial influences now manifesting in the digital terrain With a focus on the profound impact of digital tools the contributors question how these capabilities can serve as instruments of liberation in a globalized age Through a comprehensive examination of the intersection between Africa digital technology and neocolonization the book not only breaks new ground but also positions itself as an invaluable resource for students academics and professionals globally By offering fresh perspectives nuanced analyses and innovative solutions this book emerges as an essential addition to the global intellectual academe reshaping the discourse on African autonomy identity and emancipation from neocolonial chains

Historical Sociology of State Formation in the Horn of Africa Redie Bereketeab, 2023-03-28 This book analyses the historical sociology of state formation in the Horn of Africa It examines the genesis trajectories processes routes and consequences of the evolution of state formation Three analytical and explanatory models explain the process of state formation in the HOA proto state colonial and national liberation The models heuristically and innovatively provide understanding interpretation and analysis of state formation While the proto state model explicates an indigenous historical process of state formation the colonial model refers to an externally designed and imposed process of state formation The national liberation model concern state formation conducted under liberation movement and ideology The distinct significance of these models is that collectively they generate sufficient analysis of state formation They are also unique in that they have never been employed as aggregate analytical and explicative instruments to address the predicament of state formation in the Horn of Africa

Handbook of Research on Creating Spaces for African Epistemologies in the Inclusive Education Discourse Maguvhe, Mbulaheni Obert, Masuku, Mfundo Mandla, 2021-12-31 Students with disabilities who are not able to perform to the best of their abilities often find themselves learning in inaccessible environments and subjected to increased stress levels due to the haphazard provisioning of education characterized by physical communicative and unsuitable teaching and learning approaches Very often this is a result of various shortcomings including unfair assessment practices Misconceptions and a lack of knowledge with regard to the implementation of inclusive education detract from the successful admission of students with disabilities and their retention and active participation The Handbook of Research on Creating Spaces for African Epistemologies in the Inclusive Education Discourse explores the concept of inclusive education in an African context It advocates for the monitoring and evaluation of inclusive education and proposes interventions where reasonable accommodation or lack of accessibility is a reason for students with disabilities to not benefit from this system Covering topics such as barriers to learning rural schools and student support this major reference work is an essential resource for administrators advocates for students with disabilities policymakers researchers pre service teachers educators academicians and students
