R. Smith, 2020-03-01 Woven coverlets have appeared in several guises within the history of folk textiles Created on four harness looms coverlets made in the nineteenth century American South typically featured colored wool and cotton threads woven into striking geometric patterns Although they are not as well known as other textiles and domestic objects overshot coverlets were and continue to be significant examples of material culture that require tremendous skill and creativity to produce They also express currents of conformity and dissent In addition to being pleasing to the eye and hand overshot coverlets have advanced a variety of social and political ends At times exhibited in slave quarters along the seaboard in Georgia and South Carolina in association with plantation properties they also appear in piedmont areas attached to the antebellum yeomanry in the context of nationalist craft revivals and in white box contemporary art With Overshot Susan Falls and Jessica R Smith analyze what we can learn by examining the exhibition and interpretation of these materials within American public history By showing how geometric overshot coverlets can be understood in relationship to the global economy and within politicized cultural movements Falls and Smith demonstrate how these erstwhile domestic utilitarian objects explode the art craft dichotomy belong to a rich narrative of historical art forms and tell us far more about American culture today than simply representing a nostalgic past particularly with regard to ideas about race class nationalism women's labor and the separation of private versus public spaces Encyclopedia of Embroidery from Sub-Saharan Africa Gillian Vogelsang-Eastwood, Willem Vogelsang, 2023-04-20 For centuries the peoples of Sub Saharan Africa have been producing domestic and professional embroidery to decorate themselves their families clients homes and public spaces Embroidery is an expression of artistic personal family regional and even political creativity which has played an important role in the social and cultural lives of people throughout the region It has also reflected economic and political changes over time as well as social religious and artistic contexts This is the first reference work to describe the history of embroidery throughout Africa south of the Sahara from the early modern period through to the present From quilted armour to embroidered caps and leather sandals it offers an authoritative guide to all the major embroidery traditions of the region and a detailed examination of the material technical artistic and design dimensions of the subject Generously illustrated with 395 images 362 in colour of clothes accessories and examples of decorated soft furnishings such as cushions bed linen curtains floor coverings and wall hangings the Encyclopedia is an essential resource for students and scholars of the subject This volume is part of the Bloomsbury World Encyclopedia of Embroidery series The first volume on embroidery from the Arab World won the 2017 Dartmouth Medal awarded by the American Library Association for a reference work of outstanding quality and significance
