Turn Of Mind By Alice LaPlante:

Turn of Mind Alice LaPlante, 2011-07-05 The New York Times bestseller a stunning first novel both literary and thriller about a retired orthopedic surgeon with dementia With unmatched patience and a pulsating intensity Alice LaPlante brings us deep into a brilliant woman's deteriorating mind where the impossibility of recognizing reality can be both a blessing and a curse As the book opens Dr Jennifer White's best friend Amanda who lived down the block has been killed and four fingers surgically removed from her hand Dr White is the prime suspect and she herself doesn't know whether she did it Told in White's own voice fractured and eloquent a picture emerges of the surprisingly intimate complex alliance between these life long friends two proud forceful women who were at times each other's most formidable adversaries As the investigation into the murder deepens and White's relationships with her live in caretaker and two grown children intensify a chilling question lingers is White's shattered memory preventing her from revealing the truth or helping her to hide it An electrifying book Thought provoking humane funny tragic a tour de force that can't be a first novel and yet it is Ann Packer New York Times bestselling author This poignant debut immerses us in dementia's complex choreography A lyrical mosaic an indelible portrait of a disappearing mind People LaPlante has imagined a lunatic landscape well The twists and turns of mind this novel charts are haunting and original The New York Times Book Review

Turn of Mind Alice LaPlante, 2012 Implicated in the murder of her best friend Jennifer White a brilliant retired surgeon with dementia struggles with fractured memories of their complex relationship and wonders if she actually committed the crime

Literature and Ageing Elizabeth Barry, Margery Vibe Skagen, 2020 New approaches to the topics of old age and becoming old depicted in a range of texts from modern literature The central focus of this book is the experience of growing old as represented in literature from the mid nineteenth century to the present day an experience shaped by changes in longevity a new science of senescence the availability of state pensions and other phenomena of recent history The collection considers the increasing prominence of stories of ageing challenging the idea that old age is an uneventful time outside of the parameters of literary narrative Instead age increasingly is the story As the older population swells political crises are construed as the old stealing from the young and the rights of older people are sacrificed to the economics of care it becomes ever more important to think about and question as literature does the symbolic aspects of ageing the cultural imaginary that determines the way that society sees old age The work in this volume explores age stories in relation to futurity precarity and climate change It brings to light narratives of resistance to colonial imperialism and reproductive futurism framed in terms of age and tests the lived experience of growing old and the challenge it offers to individualistic conceptions of selfhood work and care The literary works examined hailing from England North America Japan and the Caribbean and including texts by Margaret Drabble Samuel Beckett and Matthew Thomas ask how we feel about ageing so often the determinant of how we think about it

The Poetics and Politics of Alzheimer's Disease Life-Writing Martina Zimmermann, 2017-06-07 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This is the first book length exploration of the thoughts and experiences expressed by dementia patients in published narratives over the last thirty years It contrasts third person caregiver and first person patient accounts from different languages and a range of media focusing on the poetical and political questions these narratives raise what images do narrators appropriate what narrative plot do they adapt and how do they draw on established strategies of life writing It also analyses how these accounts engage with the culturally dominant Alzheimer's narrative that centres on dependence and vulnerability and addresses how they relate to discourses of gender and aging Linking literary scholarship to the medico scientific understanding of dementia as a neurodegenerative condition this book argues that first patients articulations must be made central to dementia discourse and second committed alleviation of caregiver burden through social support systems and altered healthcare policies requires significantly altered views about aging dementia and Alzheimer's patients

The Politics of Dementia Irmela Marei Krüger-Fürhoff, Nina Schmidt, Sue Vice, 2021-11-22 Memory loss is not always viewed purely as a contingent neurobiological process present in an ageing population rather it is frequently related to larger societal issues and political debates This edited volume examines how different media and genres novels auto biographical writings documentary as well as fictional films and graphic memoirs represent dementia for the sake of critical explorations of memory trauma and contested truths In ten analytical chapters and one piece of graphic art the contributors examine the ways in which what might seem to be the individual ahistorical diseases of dementia are used in contemporary cultural texts to represent and respond to violent historical and political events ranging from the Holocaust to postcolonial conditions all of which can prove difficult to remember Combining approaches from literary studies with insights from memory studies trauma studies anthropology the critical medical humanities and media film and comics studies this volume explores the politics of dementia and incites new debates on cultures of remembrance while remaining attentive to the lived reality of dementia

Dementia and Society Mathieu Vandenbulcke, Rose-Marie Dröes, Erik Schokkaert, 2022-06-09 Integrates multidisciplinary knowledge of dementia and essential societal topics to improve quality of life for persons with dementia Discusses perspectives from a variety of disciplines including medicine nursing economics and literary studies reminding the reader that a better future for persons with dementia is a collective responsibility

Healing Your Grieving Heart When Someone You Care About Has Alzheimer's Alan D. Wolfelt, Kirby J. Duvall, 2011-11-01 Navigating the challenging journey that families and friends of Alzheimer's patients must endure this heartfelt guide reveals how their struggle is as complex and drawn out as the illness itself Confronting their natural but difficult process of grieving and mourning the study covers the inevitable feelings of shock sadness anger guilt and relief illustrating the initial reactions people commonly feel from the moment of the dementia's onset Healthy and productive ways to acknowledge and express these feelings are suggested along with 100 tips and activities that fulfill the emotional spiritual cognitive physical and social needs of those who care about someone afflicted with this debilitating disease Special consideration is also shown for caregivers whose grief is often complicated by the demanding physical attention that patients require

Fictions of Dementia Susanne Katharina Christ, 2022-09-20 Taking its cues from both classical and post classical narratologies this study explores both forms and functions of the representation of dementia in Anglophone fictions Initially dementia is conceptualised as a narrative epistemological paradox The more those affected know what it is like to have dementia the less they can tell about it Narrative fiction is the only discourse that provides an imaginative glimpse at the subjective experience of dementia in language The narratological modelling of four narrative modes elaborates how the paradox becomes productive in fiction Depending on the narrative perspective taken but also on the type of narration the technique for representing consciousness and the epistemic strategy of narrating dementia the respective narrative modes come with different prerequisites and possibilities for narrating dementia The analysis of four contemporary Anglophone dementia fictions based on the developed model reveals their potential functions Fiction allows readers to learn about the challenges of dementia grants them perspective taking it trains cognitive flexibility and explores the meaning of memory knowledge narrative and imagination and thus also offers trajectories of a cultural coping with dementia

San Diego Magazine, 2011-07 San Diego Magazine gives readers the insider information they need to experience San Diego from the best places to dine and travel to the politics and people that shape the region This is the magazine for San Diegans with a need to know

Losing Me, While Losing You Jeanette A. Auger, Diane Tedford-Little, Brenda Wallace-Allen, 2021-09-21 T00:00:00Z Losing Me While Losing You is a long needed resource to those providing care for people living with dementia and for those providing care to the caregivers In this book caregivers speak from their own experiences of caring for loved ones with dementia they cover when they first noticed behavioural changes what they did and how their roles changed when they received the diagnosis how the experiences changed their perceptions of themselves especially in cases where important ones no longer recognized them or their often long standing relationships The caregivers also talked about what resources if any were available to support them through the caregiving journey and what recommendations they would make to government policymakers and to others in similar situations This book is unique in that it documents the personal lived experience of loss which family friends and caregivers go through as their roles expectations and images of self are changed throughout the caregiving process

The Bullet Mary Louise Kelly, 2016-09-27 Nothing is what it seems in NPR correspondent Mary Louise Kelly's riveting twisty tale Hallie Ephron author of Night Night Sleep Tight in which a woman discovers a decades old bullet at the base of her neck Caroline Cashion is stunned when an MRI reveals that she has a bullet lodged near the base of her skull It makes no sense she has never been shot She has no scar When she confronts her parents she learns the truth she was adopted when she was three years old after her real parents were murdered in cold blood Caroline had been there the night of the attack and she'd been hit by a single gunshot to the neck Buried too deep among vital nerves and blood vessels the surgeons had left it and stitched up the traumatized little girl with the bullet still inside

Now thirty four years later Caroline returns to her hometown to learn whatever she can about who her parents were and why they died A cop who worked the case reveals that even after all these years police still don't have enough evidence to nail their suspect The bullet in Caroline's neck could identify the murderer and that person will do anything to keep it out of the law's hands Now Caroline will have to decide run for her life or stay and fight With non stop action an extremely likable narrator and twists and turns galore Alice LaPlante author of Turn of Mind The Bullet will keep you riveted until the very last page

Women's Narratives of Ageing and Care Emily Jeremiah, Shirley Jordan, 2025-02-17 Care is fundamental to human survival yet it is often overlooked undermined undervalued and thought of as women's work Care of the old is particularly low in status and is too readily occluded This volume asks why and how cultures of care for older people are negatively configured It examines some of the powerful responses to relationships of intergenerational care in recent creative works by women It thereby contributes to the contemporary imperative to transform care by investigating some of the ways in which care might be redefined and reconceptualized Taking as its focus the representation or narrativization of care in theory literature visual culture and performance it engages with contemporary female authored works from diverse cultural contexts encouraging the development of comparative cross cultural perspectives Narrative is key here for it is in stories about ageing and care that the complexities and ambiguities of care relationships are made available and that simplified ideas about them are challenged This volume will be of interest to scholars in literary and cultural studies gender studies critical age studies the medical and health humanities and all who are interested in care

A Critical History of Dementia Studies James Rupert Fletcher, Andrea Capstick, 2023-09-26 This book offers the first ever critical history of dementia studies Focusing on the emergence of dementia studies as a discrete area of academic interest in the late 20th and early 21st centuries it draws on critical theory to interrogate the very notion of dementia studies as an entity shedding light on the affinities and contradictions that characterise the field Drawing together a collection of internationally renowned experts in a variety of fields including people with dementia this volume includes perspectives from education the arts human rights and much more This critical history sets out the shared intellectual space of dementia studies from which non medical dementia research can progress The book is intended for researchers academics and students of dementia studies social gerontology disability chronic illness health and social care It will also appeal to activists and practitioners engaged in social work and caregiving involved in dementia research

Cream and Punishment Susannah Nix, 2022-01-18 I thought this new job would be the fresh start I desperately needed I didn't expect the woman who broke my heart to be my new coworker Do you believe in love at first sight I didn't Not until the night I looked up from my book and saw Lucy Dillard sitting in the same noisy bar as me with her nose buried in her own book It felt like we were made for each other When I fell for Lucy I fell hard Everything was perfect between us until she suddenly dumped me The worst part was she wouldn't even tell me why Now not only am I stuck staring at my ex's face in the office all day long but she's also the one assigned to train me As if there's not already enough tension between us she thinks I'm here to steal the promotion she's been promised But the more we're forced to work together the better I understand her And the more I realize how much we kept hidden from each other Now that I know what Lucy's had to go through and how different her world is from mine I'm more in love with her than ever I just need to convince the girl who got away that I'm worth a second chance and pray she doesn't break my heart all over again

CREAM AND PUNISHMENT is a swoony full length second chance romance packed with small town feels and messy family shenanigans Featuring an unforgettable menstrual cup mishap a nerdy book loving heroine who's in over her head and a cinnamon roll hero with a spicy side it stands alone and promises an HEA ending

Ageing, Gender, and Illness in Anglophone Literature Heike Hartung, 2015-12-07 This study establishes age as a category of literary history delineating age in its interaction with gender and narrative genre Based on the historical premise that the view of ageing as a burden emerges as a specific narrative in the late eighteenth century the study highlights how the changing experience of ageing is shaped by that of gender By reading the Bildungsroman as a coming of age novel the book asks how the telling of a life in time affects individual age narratives Bringing together the different perspectives of age and disability studies the book argues that illness is already an important issue in the Bildungsroman's narratives of ageing This theoretical stance provides new interpretations of canonical novels visiting authors such as Johann Wolfgang Goethe Frances Burney Maria Edgeworth Jane Austen Charles Dickens George Eliot Samuel Beckett and Jonathan Franzen Drawing on the link between age and illness in the Bildungsroman's age narratives the genre of dementia narrative is presented as one of the directions which the Bildungsroman takes after its classical period Applying these theoretical perspectives to canonical novels of the nineteenth century and to the new genre of dementia narrative the volume also provides new insights into literary and genre history This book introduces a new theoretical approach to cultural age studies and offers a comprehensive analysis of the connection between narratology literary theory gender and age studies

Poetics of Disturbances, 2024-10-28 This volume calls for a Narratology of Diversity by investigating narratives of non normative bodies and minds It explores mental health representations in literature including neurodiversity the body mind nexus and embodied non normativities therein emphasizing the importance of understanding diverse psychological conditions as represented in narratives The contributions include perspectives from a wide variety of scholars of European North American and comparative literature and culture While post classical narratology has evolved through phases of diversification and consolidation this volume represents innovation in understanding narrative development to embrace new areas of social awareness including gendered narratologies specifically feminist and queer narratologies and post colonial criticism paving the way for a more inclusive narratology

Wild Girls Mary Stewart Atwell, 2012-10-16 Struggling with limited prospects in a small Appalachian town where frustrated teen girls act out by setting arson fires Kate pursues the education that she hopes will enable her escape and explosively clashes with friends from different cultural backgrounds before resolving to find herself

Half Moon Bay

Alice LaPlante, 2019-07-02 An eerie tense and finely written novel Readers will grip their chairs SFGate.com as they try to unravel this tale of psychological suspense from the award winning New York Times bestselling author of Turn of Mind Jane loses everything when her teenage daughter is killed in a senseless accident Devastated she manages to make one tiny stab at a new life she moves from San Francisco to the seaside town of Half Moon Bay Jane is inconsolable and yet as the months go by she is able to cobble together some version of a job of friends of the possibility of peace And then children begin to disappear And soon Jane sees her own pain reflected in all the parents in the town She wonders if she will be able to live through the aching loss the fear all around her And as the disappearances continue she begins to see that what her neighbors are wondering is if it is Jane herself who has unleashed the horror of loss Alice LaPlante's well crafted novel of psychological suspense is a chilling story about a mother haunted by her past a brooding suspense novel dark starkly beautiful LaPlante uses a seductively dangerous landscape to mirror her heroine's inner life Kirkus Reviews Alzheimer's Disease in Contemporary U.S. Fiction Cristina Garrigós, 2021-07-28 This volume seeks to bring readers to a deeper understanding of contemporary cultural and social configurations of Alzheimer's disease by analyzing 21st century U.S. novels in which the disease plays a key narrative role Via analysis of selected works Garrigós considers how the erasure of memory in a person with Alzheimer's affects our idea of the identity of that person and their sense of belonging to a group Starting out from three different types of memory individual social and cultural the study focuses on the narrative strategies that authors use to configure how the disease is perceived and represented This study is significant not only because of what the texts reveal about those with Alzheimer's but also for what they say about us about the authors and readers who are producing and consuming these texts about how we see this disease and what our attitudes to it say about contemporary U.S. society A
