When We Talk About Cities (And Love) Andy Merrifield, 2018-11-01 In often dreamlike peregrinations around his home towns of Liverpool London and New York Andy Merrifield reflects on what cities mean to us and how they shape the way we think As he wanders Merrifield's reveries circle questions Can we talk about cities in the absolute discovering their essence beneath the particulars Is it possible truly to love or hate a city to experience it carnally or viscerally Might we find true love in the city Merrifield does find love in the city with his future wife whom he takes on a date to see his hero Spalding Gray's It's a Slippery Slope at London's South Bank and soon after moves in with to a tiny place in Bloomsbury where they celebrate the brilliance of new romance by painting the walls turquoise and gold And for the fellow urbanist Marshall Berman another working class boy who went up to Oxford Berman takes Merrifield under his wing and shows him the thrills available in Dostoevsky and Marx over cups of coffee in ordinary cafes on New York City's Upper West Side The mood music to these love affairs is provided by a rich repertoire of intellectuals from Jane Jacobs to Mike Davis from Louis Malle to Walter Benjamin John Lennon a pupil like Merrifield at Quarry Bank school in Liverpool enters the story so too the novelist and critic John Berger And providing tonality throughout is the stripped down razor honed talk about love in the stories of Raymond Carver Andy Merrifield is the author of ten books including works on urbanism and social theory such as The New Urban Question and Magical Marxism biographies of Henri Lefebvre Guy Debord and John Berger a popular travelogue The Wisdom of Donkeys and a manifesto for liberated living The Amateur His journalism has appeared in the Nation Harper's Adbusters New Left Review Dissent the Brooklyn Rail and Radical Philosophy Changing the Way We Teach Sally Barr Ebest, 2005 Changing the Way We Teach Writing and Resistance in the Training of Teaching Assistants draws on eighteen case studies to illustrate the critical role writing plays in overcoming graduate student resistance to instruction facilitating change and developing professional identity Sally Barr Ebest argues that teaching assistants in English must be actively engaged in the theory and practice underlying composition pedagogy in order to better understand how to alter the way they teach and why such change is necessary In illustrating the potential for change when the paradigm shift in composition is applied to graduate education Ebest considers recent discussions of composition pedagogy post secondary teaching theories cognitive social cognitive and educational psychology and issues of gender voice and writing Stemming from research conducted over a five year period this volume explores how a cross section of teaching assistants responded to pedagogy as students and how their acceptance of pedagogy affected their performance as instructors Investigating reasons behind manifestations of resistance and necessary elements for overcoming it Ebest finds that engagement in composition strategies reflective writing journaling drafting and active learning and restoration of feelings of self efficacy are the primary factors that facilitate change Concerned with gender as it relates to personal construct Changing the Way We Teach traces the influence of familial expectations and the effects of literacy experiences on students and draws correlations between feminist and composition pedagogy Ebest asserts that the phenomena contributing to the development of a strong unified voice in women self knowledge empathy positive role models and mentors should be essential elements of a constructivist graduate curriculum To understand composition pedagogy and to convince students of its values Ebest holds that educators must embrace it themselves and trace the effects through active research By providing graduate students with pedagogical sites for research and reflection faculty enable them to express their anger or fear study its sources and quite often write their way to a new understanding

What We Talk About When We Talk About Love Raymond Carver,2016-01-28 This powerful collection of stories set in the mid West among the lonely men and women who drink fish and play cards to ease the passing of time was the first by Raymond Carver to be published in the UK With its spare colloquial narration and razor sharp sense of how people really communicate the collection was to become one of the most influential literary works of the 1980s

Raymond Carver's Short Fiction in the History of Black Humor Jingqiong Zhou,2006 This first book length study on the black humor in Raymond Carver s work includes valuable interpretations of Carver s aesthetics as well as the psycho social implications of his short fiction The presence of an indeterminate menace in the oppressive situations of black humor in Carver as compared to a European tradition of existentialist writing and his American predecessors including Twain Heller Barth and others is mitigated through humor so it is not dominant As a result a subtle promise emerges in the characters lives

What We Talk About When We Talk About Rape Sohaila Abdulali,2018-10-25 Thoughtful provocative and intelligent this game changing book looks at sexual assault and the global discourse on rape from the viewpoint of a survivor writer counsellor and activist Sohaila Abdulali was the first Indian rape survivor to speak out about her experience Gang raped as a teenager in Mumbai and indignant at the deafening silence on the issue in India she wrote an article for a women s magazine questioning how we perceive rape and rape victims Thirty years later she saw the story go viral in the wake of the fatal 2012 Delhi rape and the global outcry that followed Drawing on three decades of grappling with the issue personally and professionally and on her work with hundreds of other survivors she explores what we think about rape and what we say She also explores what we don't say and asks pertinent questions about who gets raped and who rapes about consent and desire about redemption and revenge and about how we raise our sons Most importantly she asks does rape always have to be a life defining event or is it possible to recover joy Spirits Hovering Over the Ashes H. L. Hix,1995-05-04 This book explores the consequences of postmodern theory and answers the question What did postmodern theory begin A Thinking Person's Guide to Love H.R.H. Prince Ghazi bin Muhammad,2023-07-01 In this book over 50 years in the making the author surveys and sums up the world's understanding of love in all its aspects over the last 3000 years in order to show the stages of love and of falling in love and why how when and where they occur Thumps - Reviews and Essays 2016 Manuel Augusto Antão,2018-03-13 Book Reviews and Essays Comprises everything I wrote on my blog over 2016 Of Love and Paris John Baxter,2023-09-01 The French may not have invented love but they perfected it and the laboratory in which they did so was Paris James Joyce called the city a lamp for lovers hung in the wood of the world From the Middle Ages Paris has drawn those who wish to experience the limits of love intellectual spiritual carnal In Of Love and Paris John Baxter turns the spotlight on some of them from the medieval troubadours who seduced court ladies with flowery verse to Man Ray whose camera conferred immortality on his lover and model Kiki and Serge Gainsbourg and Jane Birkin who turned their moans of sexual pleasure into music The grandes horizontales of the belle époque accomplished technicians of eroticism who drew the rich and powerful of both sexes to Paris had their modern incarnation in Gala who left the bed she shared with poet Paul Iruard and painter Max Ernst to seduce the young Salvador Dalí Love in Paris however can take unexpected forms Was the devotion to Marcel Proust of his housekeeper Cécile Albaret any less passionate than that of Anne Desclos to Jean Paulhan for whom she composed the strangest love letter any man ever received the notorious novel Story of O the predecessor of Fifty Shades of Grey Love has a multitude of faces and some of the most mysterious and surprising are unveiled in Of Love and Paris On the Borders of Convention Aleksandra Nikčević Batrićević,2010-05-11 The research presented in this book is authored by scholars coming from as distant regions as South Africa the United States of America Great Britain France Italy Belarus the Balkans Needless to say that one of the good things about this international cooperation is that owing to their different socio cultural backgrounds these scholars have contributed to producing an extremely varied picture of ways of approaching the challenge of a changing world The papers on literature and culture collected in this book contribute a further element of rigour into the discussion of numerous and always varying and changing borders of convention in a literary text literary genre and literary theory as well as in general culture and everyday paths of life Starting with oral cultures over the classic literary masters modernist and postmodernist textual and theoretical phenomena the twentieth century flouting of numerous social and gender convention through painting film dance contemporary music as well as graffiti We have sought to stress that what is most noticeable from the evidence of their studies is that scholars today concern these issues through a dynamic global process and beyond any preconceived design or any strict set of theoretical prescriptions which would otherwise lead them to ignore the ever shifting borders in literature and culture as well as in global socio cultural reality in general The variety and complexity of these essays offer fresh views to the problem posed in the title of the book Therefore we trust that they will stimulate intellectual confrontation and circulation of ideas within the field of literature and cultural studies

Scenes of Intimacy

Global Perspectives on Critical Architecture Gevork Hartoonian,2016-03-03 Judging from the debates taking place in both education and practice it appears that architecture is deeply in crisis New design and production techniques together with the globalization of capital and even skilled labour have reduced architecture to a commodified object its aesthetic qualities tapping into the current pervasive desire for the spectacular These developments have changed the architect's role in the design and production processes of architecture Moreover critical architectural theories including those of Breton Heidegger and Benjamin which explored the concepts of technology modernism labour and capital and how technology informed the cultural along with later theories from the 1960s which focused more on the architect's theorization of his/her own design strategies seem increasingly irrelevant In an age of digital reproduction and commodification these theoretical approaches need to be reassessed Bringing together essays and interviews from leading scholars such as Kenneth Frampton Peggy Deamer Bernard Tschumi Donald Kunze and Marco Biraghi this volume investigates and critically addresses various dimensions of the present crisis of architecture It poses questions such as Is architecture a conservative cultural product servicing a given producer consumer system Should architecture's affiliative ties with capitalism be subjected to a measure of criticism that can be expanded to the entirety of the cultural realm Is architecture's infusion into the cultural the reason for the visibility of architecture today What room does the city leave for architecture beyond the present delirium of spectacle Should the thematic of various New Left criticisms of capitalism be taken as the premise of architectural criticism Or alternatively putting the notion of criticality aside is it enough to confine criticism to the production of insightful and pleasurable texts

Reputation Gloria Origgi,2017-11-27 A compelling exploration of how reputation affects every aspect of contemporary life Reputation touches almost everything guiding our behavior and choices in countless ways But it is also shrouded in mystery Why is it so powerful when the criteria by which people and things are defined as good or bad often appear to be arbitrary Why do we care so much about how others see us that we may even do irrational and harmful things to try to influence their opinion In this engaging book Gloria Origgi draws on philosophy social psychology sociology economics literature and history to offer an illuminating account of an important yet oddly neglected subject Origgi examines the influence of the Internet and social media as well as the countless ranking systems that characterize modern society and contribute to the creation of formal and informal reputations in our social relations in business in politics in academia and even in wine She highlights the importance of reputation to the effective functioning of the economy and e commerce Origgi also discusses the existential significance of our obsession with reputation concluding that an awareness of the relationship between our reputation and our actions empowers us to better understand who we are and why we do what we do Compellingly written and filled with surprising insights Reputation pins down an elusive subject that affects everyone
