More than 50 years ago I witnessed the miraculous therapeutic power of penicillin when I was a student at the Tohoku University Medical School's Department of Bacteriology in Sendai Japan. The late Dr Kondo was a graduate student in the department at that time and developed the first crude penicillin preparation in Japan which was applied with dramatic results in two patients. Although there was patient family consent at that time ethics committees randomization mutagenesis tests distribution studies purity criteria and pharmacokinetics were not yet in existence. Today regulatory procedures have complicated the whole drug approval process. For example any new antibiotics that have been proven effective in laboratory studies against gram negative bacteria as might exist in deadly plague bacteria must still undergo a long and enormously costly regulatory process before they can be introduced to benefit society and before government insurance can be applied Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America National Academy of Sciences (U.S.),1976 Network World ,1994-09-19 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations.
