Islam and Postcolonial Discourse Esra Mirze Santesso, James McClung, 2017-01-27 Largely though not exclusively as a legacy of the 2001 attack on the World Trade Center Islamic faith has become synonymous in many corners of the media and academia with violence which many believe to be its primary mode of expression The absence of a sophisticated recognition of the wide range of Islamic subjectivities within contemporary culture has created a void in which misinterpretations and hostilities thrive Responding to the growing importance of religion specifically Islam as a cultural signifier in the formation of a postcolonial self this multidisciplinary collection is organized around contested terms such as secularism Islamopolitics female identity and Islamophobia The overarching goal of the contributors is to facilitate a deeper understanding of the full range of experiences within Islam as well as the figure of the Muslim thus enabling a new set of questions about religion s role in shaping postcolonial identity

Islam and Secularism in Post-Colonial Thought Hadi Enayat, 2017-06-30 This book is a theoretically and historically informed exploration of secularism in Muslim contexts It does this through a critical assessment of an influential tradition of thinking about Islam and secularism derived from the work of anthropologist Talal Asad and his followers The study employs the tools of comparative historical sociology and sociology of knowledge to engage with the assumptions of Asadian theory Ultimately Enayat argues against nativist assertions drawn from the experience of Western modernity and provides a qualified defense of secularism

Muslim American Hyphenations Mahwash Shoaib, 2021-05-19 The essays in Muslim American Hyphenations Cultural Production and Hybridity in the Twenty first Century contest the lack of nuance in the public debates about American Islam and reclaim a self determined identity by twenty first century Muslim American writers artists and performers Muslim American Hyphenations covers a wide spectrum of cultural representation based upon a shared religion that encompasses multiethnic and polylinguistic communities in the American landscape challenging both the sacred secular binary and the confines of multiculturalism The contributors to this volume explore the codes of belonging in different American spheres from transnational and local negotiations of immigrant and domestic Muslim Americans with nation race class and gender to the performance of faith in the creative manifestations of these identities In their analyses these scholars propose that Muslim American cultural productions provide an alternative space of dissensus and the utopian potentiality of connections with other minoritarian communities

Islamophobia and the Novel

Peter Morey,2018-08-14 In an era of rampant Islamophobia what do literary representations of Muslims and anti Muslim bigotry tell us about changing concepts of cultural difference In Islamophobia and the Novel Peter Morey analyzes how recent works of fiction have framed and responded to the rise of anti Muslim prejudice showing how their portrayals of Muslims both reflect and refute the ideological preoccupations of media and politicians in the post 9 11 West Islamophobia and the Novel discusses novels embodying a range of positions from the avowedly secular to the religious and from texts that appear to underwrite Western assumptions of cultural superiority to those that recognize and critique neoimperial impulses Morey offers nuanced readings of works by John Updike Ian McEwan Hanif Kureishi Monica Ali Mohsin Hamid John le Carr Khaled Hosseini Azar Nafisi and other writers emphasizing the demands of the literary marketplace for representations of Muslims He explores how depictions of Muslim experience have challenged liberal assumptions regarding the novel s potential for empathy and its ability to encompass a variety of voices Morey argues for a greater degree of critical self consciousness in our understanding of writing by and about Muslims in contrast to both exclusionary nationalism and the fetishization of difference Contemporary literature s capacity to unveil the conflicted nature of anti Muslim bigotry expands our range of resources to combat Islamophobia This in turn might contribute to Islamophobia s eventual dismantling under Islamic laws and customs Considerable literature on the entanglements of Islam and secularism has been produced in the post 9 11 decade and a large proportion of it deals with the Woman Question Many commentators critique the secular and Western feminism and the racialising backlash that accompanied the occupation of Muslim countries during the War on Terror military campaign launched by the U S government after the September 11 attacks in 2001 Implicit in many of these critical works is the suggestion that it is Western secular feminism that is the motivating driver and permanent collaborator along with other feminists secularists and human rights activists in Muslim countries that sustains the West's actual and metaphorical war on Islam and Muslims The book addresses this post 9 11 critical trope and its implications for women's movements in Muslim contexts The relevance of secular feminist activism is illustrated with reference to some of the nation wide working class women's movements that have surged throughout Pakistan under religious militancy polio vaccinators health workers politicians peasants and artists have been directly targeted even assassinated for their service and commitment to liberal ideals Afiya Zia contends that Muslim women's piety is no threat against the dominant political patriarchy but their secular autonomy promises transformative changes for the population at large and thereby effectively challenges Muslim male dominance This book is essential reading for those interested in understanding the limits of Muslim women's piety and the potential in their pursuit for secular autonomy and liberal freedoms Making Sense of
