John Vachon's America Photographs And Letters From The Depression To World War II:

John Vachon's America John Vachon, 2003-12-12 From 1936 to 1943 John Vachon traveled across America as part of the Farm Security Administration photography project documenting the desperate world of the Great Depression and also the efforts at resistance from strikes to stoic determination This collection the first to feature Vachon's work offers a stirring and elegant record of this extraordinary photographer's vision and of America's land and people as the country moved from the depths of the Depression to the dramatic mobilization for World War II Vachon's portraits of white and black Americans are among the most affecting that FSA photographers produced and his portrayals of the American landscape from rural scenes to small towns and urban centers present a remarkable visual account of these pivotal years in a style that is transitional from Walker Evans to Robert Frank Vachon nurtured a lifelong ambition to be a writer and the intimate and revealing letters he wrote from the field to his wife back home reflect vividly on American conditions on movies and jazz on landscape and on his job fulfilling the directives from Washington to capture the heart of America Together these letters and photographs along with journal entries and other writings by Vachon constitute a multifaceted biography of this remarkable photographer and a unique look at the years he captured in such unforgettable images Marilyn, August 1953 John Vachon, Brian Wallis, 2010-01-01 Accompanied by original essays and facsimiles of handwritten letters by Vachon presents dozens of candid photographs taken by the Look magazine photographer of Marilyn Monroe in the Canadian Rockies in 1953

Humanitarian Photography Heide Fehrenbach, Davide Rodogno, 2015-02-23 This book investigates the historical evolution of humanitarian photography the mobilization of photography in the service of humanitarian initiatives across state boundaries Maryland in Black and White Constance B. Schulz, 2013-10-15 These photographs reveal places we know but scarcely recognize and give us another look at the people of the greatest generation American Photography Miles Orvell, 2003 150 years of American photography come alive in this exciting new book placing it in its cultural context for the first time Orvell examines this fascinating subject through a wide range of well known and less well known images He ranges from portraiture and landscape photography family albums and memory and analyses the particularly American way in which American photographers have viewed the world around them Orvell combines a clear overview of the changing nature of photographic thinking and practice in this period with an exploration of key concepts The result is the first coherent history of American photography which examines issues such as the nature of photographic exploitation experimental techniques the power of the photograph to shock and whether we should subscribe to the notion of a visual history To the City Julia L. Foulkes, 2011 In the 1930s and 1940s as the United States moved from a rural to an urban nation the pull of the city was irrepressible This book showcases over 100 photographs from the Farm Security Administration FSA project along with extracts from the Works Progress Administration WPA guidebooks to convey the detail of that transformation Democratic Art Sharon Ann Musher, 2015-05-04 At its height in 1935 the New Deal devoted roughly 27 million 320 million today to supporting tens of thousands of needy writers dancers actors musicians and visual artists who created over 100 000 workbooks murals plays concertsthat were performed for or otherwise imbibed by millions of Americans But why did the government get so involved with the arts in the first place Musher addresses this question and many others by exploring the political and aesthetic concerns of the 1930s as well as the range of responsesfrom politicians intellectuals artists and taxpayersto the idea of active government involvement in the arts In the process she raises vital questions about the roles that the arts should play in contemporary society

Public Space and the Ideology of Place in American Culture Miles Orvell,Jeffrey L. Meikle,2009 We typically take public space for granted as if it has continuously been there yet public space has always been the expression of the will of some agency person or institution who names the space gives it purpose and monitors its existence And often its use has been contested These new essays written for this volume approach public space through several key questions Who has the right to define public space How do such places generate and sustain symbolic meaning Is public space unchanging or is it subject to our subjective perception Do we given the public nature of public space have the right to subvert it These eighteen essays including several case studies offer convincing evidence of a spatial turn in American studies They argue for a re visioning of American culture as a history of place making and the instantiation of meaning in structures boundaries and spatial configurations Chronologically the subjects range from Pierre L Enfant s initial majestic conceptualization of Washington D C to the post modern realization that public space in the U S is increasingly a matter of waste Topics range from parks to cities to small towns from open air museums to airports encompassing the commercial marketing of place as well as the subversion and re possession of public space by the disenfranchised Ultimately public space is variously imagined as the site of social and political contestation and of aesthetic change

Hard Luck Blues Rich Remsberg,2024-04-22 Showcasing American music and music making during the Great Depression Hard Luck Blues presents more than two hundred photographs created by the New Deal s Farm Security Administration photography program With an appreciation for the amateur and the local FSA photographers depicted a range of musicians sharing the regular music of everyday life from informal songs in migrant work camps farmers homes barn dances and on street corners to organized performances at church revivals dance halls and community festivals Captured across the nation from the northeast to the southwest the images document the last generation of musicians who learned to play without the influence of recorded sound as well as some of the pioneers of Chicago s R B scene and the first years of amplified instruments The best visual representation of American roots music performance during the Depression era Hard Luck Blues features photographs by Jack Delano Dorothea Lange Russell Lee Arthur Rothstein Ben Shahn Marion Post Wolcott and others Photographer and image researcher Rich Remsberg breathes life into the images by providing contextual details about the persons and events captured in some cases drawing on interviews with the photographers subjects Also included are a foreword by author Nicholas Dawidoff and an afterword by music historian Henry Sapoznik

Published in association with the Library of Congress      Pictorial Cultures and Political Iconographies Udo J.

Hebel, Christoph Wagner, 2011 The pictorial turn in the humanities and social sciences has emphasized the political power of images and the extent to which historical political social and cultural processes and practices are shaped visually The volume gathers original articles by visual culture studies experts in the fields of Art History American Studies History and Political Science from Europe and the United States The collection explores the political function and cultural impact of images and how political iconographies interpret norms of actions support ideological formations and enhance moral concepts Visual rhetorics are understood as active players in the construction and contestation of the political realm and public space Individual essays address concepts and theories for a politics of art and perception investigate nationalist forms of political representation on both sides of the Atlantic and interpret the iconographic repertoires of specific cultures and political systems from the eighteenth century to the immediate present      Flash! Kate Flint, 2017 A lively history of flash photography from the nineteenth century to the present that covers diverse topics like race poverty and the paparazzi It surveys the work of professionals and amateurs news hounds and art photographers and photographers of crime and wildlife to highlight the role of flash in popular culture literature and film      FSA Gilles Mora, Beverly W. Brannan, 2006-10 For this remarkable volume Mora and Brannan immersed themselves in the vast archive at the Library of Congress and emerged with unknown treasures There is a new view of the achievement of the FSA photographers the most comprehensive in print that gives them their due as the creators of a new American photographic vision      Picturing Migrants James R.

Swensen, 2015-10 As time passes personal memories of the Great Depression die with those who lived through the desperate 1930s In the absence of firsthand knowledge John Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath and the photographs produced for the New Deal's Farm Security Administration FSA now provide most of the images that come to mind when we think of the 1930s That novel and those photographs as this book shows share a history Fully exploring this complex connection for the first time Picturing Migrants offers new insight into Steinbeck's novel and the FSA's photography and into the circumstances that have made them enduring icons of the Depression Looking at the work of Dorothea Lange Horace Bristol Arthur Rothstein and Russell Lee it is easy to imagine that these images came straight out of the pages of The Grapes of Wrath This should be no surprise James R Swensen tells us because Steinbeck explicitly turned to photographs of the period to create his visceral narrative of hope and loss among Okie migrants in search of a better life in California When the novel became an instant best seller upon its release in April 1939 some dismissed its imagery as pure fantasy Lee knew better and traveled to Oklahoma for proof The documentary pictures he produced are nothing short of a photographic illustration of the hard lives and desperate reality that Steinbeck so vividly portrayed In Picturing Migrants Swensen sets these lesser known images alongside the more familiar work of Lange and others giving us a clearer understanding of the FSA's work to publicize the plight of the migrant in the wake of the novel and John Ford's award winning film adaptation A new perspective on an era whose hardships and lessons resonate to this day Picturing Migrants lets us see as never before how a novel and a series of documentary photographs have kept the Great Depression unforgettably real for generation after generation     American Photojournalism Claude Hubert Cookman, 2009 The traditional approach to studying American photojournalism explains the what and who of photojournalism what events and developments occurred what notable images were taken and who took them Without neglecting those concerns American Photojournalism emphasizes the why     Picturing a Nation: The Great Depression's Finest Photographers Introduce America to Itself Martin W. Sandler, 2021-11-23 A National Book Award winner mines photographic gold to show and tell the story of the Great Depression In an exquisitely curated volume of 140 full color and black and white photographs Martin W Sandler unpacks the United States Farm Security Administration's sweeping visual record of the Great Depression In 1935 with the nation bent under unprecedented unemployment and economic hardship the FSA sent ten photographers including Walker Evans Dorothea Lange and Gordon Parks on the road trip of a lifetime The images they logged revealed the daily lives of Southern sharecroppers Dust Bowl farmers in the Midwest Western migrant workers and families scraping by in Northeast cities Using their cameras as weapons against poverty and racism and in service of hope courage and human dignity these talented photographers created not only a collective work of art but a national treasure Grouped into four geographical regions and locked in focus by rich historical commentary these images many now iconic are history at its most powerful and immediate Extensive back matter includes photographer profiles and a bibliography     Umbrella , 2004     Artexhibitions Curatorial Assistance, Inc, 2004 Catalog of exhibitions available for rental from Curatorial Assistance Inc     Montana , 2004     ARTnews , 2003     Mixed messages Catherine Gander, Sarah Garland, 2016-09-01 Offering a major contribution to the field of American culture and aesthetics in an interdisciplinary frame this collection assembles the cutting edge research of renowned and emerging scholars in literature and the visual arts with a foreword by Miles Orvell The volume represents the first of its kind an intervention in current interdisciplinary approaches to the intersections of the written word and the visual image that moves beyond standard theoretical approaches to consider the written and visual artwork in embodied cognitive and experiential terms Tracing a strong lineage of pragmatism romanticism surrealism and dada in American intermedial works through the nineteenth century to the present day the editors and authors of this volume chart a new and vital methodology for the study and appreciation of the correspondences between visual and verbal practices
