We Were Not The Savages, First Nations History, 4th ed. Daniel N. Paul, 2022-09-30T00:00:00Z The title of this book We Were Not the Savages speaks to the truth of what happened when Europeans invaded Mi kmaq lands in the 17th century Prior to the European invasion the Mi kmaq lived healthy lives and for thousands of years had lived in harmony with nature in the land they called Mi kma ki This book sets the record straight When the Europeans arrived they were welcomed and sustained by the Mi kmaq Over the next three centuries their language their culture their way of life were systematically ravaged by the newcomers to whom they had extended human kindness The murderous savagery of British scalp proclamations starvation malnutrition and Canada's Indian residential and day schools all but wiped out the Mi kmaq Yet the Mi kmaq survived and today stand defending the land the water and nature's bounty from the European way of life which threatens the natural world we live in and need to survive Since the first edition was published in 1993 Daniel Paul's ongoing research confronts the mainstream record of Canadian settler colonialism and reveals that the mistreatment of Indigenous Peoples is not confined to the past In this 4th edition the author shares his research which catalogues not only the historical tragedy but the ongoing attempts to silence the Mi kmaq and other Indigenous Peoples Paul's work continues to give the Mi kmaq a voice that must be heard Tradition, Solidarity and Empowerment: The Native Discourse in Canada Steffi Retzlaff, 2012-01-31 This study represents a significant step towards understanding an important social phenomenon in Canada at the end of the twentieth and beginning of the twenty first century Throughout much of the twentieth century the life of virtually all Aboriginal people had been marked by a set of policies directed from Ottawa These had contributed to undermining both their traditional cultures and also the familial bonds vital for the development of a positive self image and a healthy relationship with other members of society as also with society as a whole The negative impact of such policies is now very widely recognised and documented The study does not set out to shed further light on this set of causes and effects What it does do successfully is investigate a number of the linguistic strategies based partly on aboriginal discursive models partly on positive presentation of a range of topics handled very differently in Euro Canadian media and partly on the propagation and consistent use of key items of terminology some of which have begun to enter at least some of the Euro Canadian media and strands of political discourse Prof Robert Gould Carleton University Ottawa The analytical framework employed in this study is Critical Discourse Analysis CDA CDA is said to focus on relevant social cultural and political problems and processes Accordingly its task is both deconstructive and constructive However the emphasis of research in CDA is mainly on problems and the deconstructive moment which aims at revealing hidden and not so hidden linguistic strategies and how dominant discourses are appropriated or naturalized The analysis presented in this book runs counter to this generally employed CDA practice It pays attention to constructive moments The focus is on counter discourses as they are used by Aboriginal people in Canada to resist ingrained hegemonic practices to build and develop new power relations as well as social and political identities MultiCultural Review ,2003 Civil Society and Social Movements in Food System Governance Peter Andrée, Jill K. Clark, Charles Z. Levkoe, Kristen Lowitt, 2019-01-30 This book offers insights into the governance of contemporary food systems and their ongoing transformation by social movements As global food systems face multiple threats and challenges there is an opportunity for social movements and civil society to play a more active role in building social justice and ecological sustainability Drawing on case studies from Canada the United States Europe and New Zealand this edited collection showcases promising ways forward for civil society actors to engage in governance The authors address topics including the variety of forms that governance engagement takes from multi stakeholderism to co governance to polycentrism self governance the values and power dynamics that underpin these different types of governance processes effective approaches for achieving desired values and goals and the broader relationships and networks that may be activated to support change By examining and comparing a variety of governance innovations at a range of scales the book offers insights for those considering contemporary food systems and their ongoing transformation It is suitable for food studies students and researchers within geography environmental studies anthropology policy studies planning health sciences and sociology and will also be of interest to policy makers and civil society organisations with a focus on food systems The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.tandfebooks.com/doi/view/10.4324/9780429503597> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
