Postcolonial Global Justice Shuk Ying Chan, 2025-08-19 A new account of global justice that recovers anticolonial thought for resisting a neocolonial age Politicians and activists today turn to the language of decolonization to call attention to such issues as cultural and linguistic decline exploitative foreign investment and global institutions dominated by superpowers But does anticolonial thought really provide a model for reimagining world politics The history of decolonization has not resulted in the liberating transformations that many envisioned In Postcolonial Global Justice Shuk Ying Chan proposes a new account of postcolonial global justice centered around the value of social equality Drawing on the thought of Aimé Césaire Frantz Fanon Kwame Nkrumah and Jawaharlal Nehru Chan argues that a central theme in anticolonial thought is the rejection of hierarchy and the embrace of equality These ideas from decolonization she suggests give us tools for critiquing contemporary global hierarchies and for rejecting postcolonial nationalism more concerned with policing its citizens than promoting their freedom and equality Following the wave of postcolonial state founding in the twentieth century many in the West saw decolonization as largely accomplished and yet global politics continue to feature hierarchies that resemble colonial relations Chan investigates these new and persistent colonial hierarchies across three areas of contemporary world politics international investment cultural imperialism and global governance Exploring the changes needed to move toward a new more equal postcolonial world order Chan offers a vision of global justice rooted in the unrealized egalitarian aspirations of anticolonial thinker activists prompting us to rethink what decolonization may mean today

The Reeducation of Race Sonali Thakkar, 2023-11-28 World War II produced a fundamental shift in modern racial discourse In the postwar period racism was situated for the first time at the center of international political life and race status as conceptual common sense and a justification for colonial rule was challenged with new intensity In response to this crisis of race the UN and UNESCO initiated a project of racial reeducation This global antiracist campaign was framed by the persecution of Europe's Jews and anchored by UNESCO's epochal 1950 Statement on Race which redefined the race concept and canonized the midcentury liberal antiracist consensus that continues to shape our present In this book Sonali Thakkar tells the story of how UNESCO's race project directly influenced anticolonial thought and made Jewish difference and the Holocaust enduring preoccupations for anticolonial and postcolonial writers Drawing on UNESCO's rich archival resources and shifting between the scientific social scientific literary and cultural Thakkar offers new readings of a varied collection of texts from the postcolonial Jewish and Black diasporic traditions Anticolonial thought and postcolonial literature critically recast liberal scientific antiracism Thakkar argues and the concepts central to this new moral economy were the medium for postcolonialism's engagement with Jewishness By recovering these connections she shows how the midcentury crisis of racial meaning shaped the kinds of solidarities between racialized subjects that are thinkable today Africana Critical Theory Reiland Rabaka, 2009-01-01 Africana Critical Theory innovatively identifies and analyzes continental and diasporan African contributions to classical and contemporary critical theory through the works of W E B Du Bois C L R James Aimé Césaire Leopold Senghor Frantz Fanon and Amílcar Cabral Diversity and Decolonization in German Studies Regine Criser, Ervin Malakaj, 2020-02-13 This book presents an approach to transform German Studies by augmenting its core values with a social justice mission rooted in Cultural Studies German Studies is approaching a pivotal moment On the one hand the discipline is shrinking as programs face budget cuts This enrollment decline is immediately tied to the effects following a debilitating scrutiny the discipline has received as a result of its perceived worth in light of local regional and national pressures to articulate the value of the humanities in the language of student professionalization On the other hand German Studies struggles to articulate how the study of cultural social and political developments in the German speaking world can serve increasingly heterogeneous student learners This book addresses this tension through questions of access to German Studies as they relate to student outreach and program advocacy alongside pedagogical models Caryl Phillips Bénédicte Ledent, 2002-05-03 This examination of Caryl Phillips novels ranges from the Final Passage to The Nature of Blood and considers them in relation to his plays and essays Starting with a textual analysis of his fiction it examines how it charts a diasporic awareness Transformations in Africana Studies Adebayo Oyeibade, 2023-02-07 This book introduces readers to the rich discipline of Africana Studies reflecting on how it has developed over the last fifty years as an intellectual enterprise for knowledge production about Africa and the African diaspora The African world has always had a wealth of indigenous knowledge systems but for the greater part of the scholarly history hegemonic Western epistemologies have denied the authenticity of African indigenous ways of knowing The post colonial era has seen steady and deliberate efforts to expand the frontiers of knowledge about black people and their societies and to Africanize such bodies of knowledge in all fields of human endeavor This book reflects on how the multidisciplinary discipline of Africana Studies has transformed and reinvented itself as it has sought to advance knowledge about the African world The contributors consider the foundations of the discipline its key theories and methods of knowledge production and how it interacts with popular culture Women s Studies and other area studies such as Ethnic and Afro Latinx Studies Bringing together rich insights from across history religion literature art sociology and philosophy this book will be an important read for students and researchers of Africa and Africana Studies

Forms of Fanonism Reiland Rabaka, 2010-03-08 When Frantz Fanon s critiques of racism sexism colonialism capitalism and humanism are brought into the ever widening orbit of Africana critical theory something unprecedented in the annals of Africana intellectual history happens five distinct forms of Fanonism emerge Forms of Fanonism Frantz Fanon s Critical Theory and the Dialectics of Decolonization is discursively distinguished from other engagements of Fanon s thought and texts insofar as it is the first study to consciously examine his contributions to Africana Studies and critical theory or rather the Africana tradition of critical theory Forms of Fanonism identifies and intensely analyzes Fanon s contributions to the deconstruction and reconstruction of Africana Studies radical politics and critical social theory In highlighting his unique solutions to the problems of racism sexism colonialism capitalism and humanism five distinct forms of Fanonism materialize These five forms of Fanonism allow contemporary critical theorists to innovatively explore the ways in which his thought and texts can be dialectically put to use in relieving the wretched experience of this generation s wretched of the earth Critics can also apply these forms to deconstruct and reconstruct Africana Studies radical politics and critical social theory using their anti imperialist interests Throughout Forms of Fanonism Reiland Rabaka critically dialogues with Fanon incessantly asking his corpus critical questions and seeking from it crucial answers This book in short solemnly keeps with Fanon s own predilection for connecting critical theory to revolutionary praxis by utilizing his thought and texts as paradigms and points of departure to deepen and develop the Africana tradition of critical theory

The Face of the Other in Anglo-American Literature Marija Knežević, 2011-09-22 If we have established that our approach to the phenomena that are other to us is always a matter of semiosis and that even in an attempt to naturalize phenomenology like the one made by Maurice Merleau Ponty who points to the corporeity of consciousness as much as an intentionality of the body it appears that our most negligible movements present our cultural being or habituality of Iris Young Throwing Like a Girl 1990 2005 However many thinkers have claimed for example the novelist D H Lawrence or philosopher Luce Irigaray that we know by touch and intuition The papers collected in this book examine our approach to these issues in an essentially post theory world particularly enquiring if twentieth century theory has left us clear directions of where we are supposed to be looking for new ways of understanding and representing the phenomenological The way the Other exists in the consciousness that as Hegel said always pursues its death becomes especially interesting in the context of the development of Anglo American studies in the post postmodern world which sees the West as a changeable cultural and geographical concept that incorporates a multiplicity of others Yet at the same time a number of contemporary Anglo American writers insists on the prolonged effects of colonialism in the modern world in which outbursts of violence and hatred aimed at the Other prove that the modern world still cannot approach the Other without bigotry Constructing the Nation Mariana Ortega, Linda Martín Alcoff, 2009-10-23 Philosophers and social theorists of color examine how racism can creep into defensive forms of nationalism Postcolonial Encounters in International Relations Alina Sajed, 2013-07-18 Postcolonial Encounters in International Relations examines the social and cultural aspects of the political violence that underpinned the French colonial project in the Maghreb and the multi layered postcolonial realities that ensued This book explores the reality of the lives of North African migrants in postcolonial France with a particular focus on their access to political entitlements such as citizenship and rights This reality is complicated even further by complex practices of memory undertaken by Franco Maghrebian intellectuals who negotiate in their writings between the violent memory of the French colonial project in the Maghreb and the contemporary conundrums of postcolonial migration The book pursues thus the politics of post colonial memory by tracing its representations in literary political and visual narratives belonging to various Franco Maghrebian intellectuals who see themselves as living and writing between France and the Maghreb By adopting a postcolonial perspective a perspective quite marginal in International Relations the book investigates a different international relations which emerges via narratives of migration A postcolonial standpoint is instrumental in understanding the relations between class gender and race which interrogate and reflect more generally on the shared post colonial violence between North Africa and France and on the politics of mediating violence through complex practices of memory

Off Center Masao Miyoshi, 1991 In this provocative study Miyoshi deliberately adopts an off center perspective one that restores the historical asymmetry of encounters between Japan and the United States from Commodore Perry to Douglas MacArthur to investigate the blindness that has characterized relations between the two cultures Journal of African Literature and Culture JALC-ALJ , Glissant and the Middle Passage John E. Drabinski, 2019-06-11 A reevaluation of douard Glissant that centers on the catastrophe of the Middle Passage and creates deep original theories of trauma and Caribbeanness While philosophy has undertaken the work of accounting for Europe s traumatic history the field has not shown the same attention to the catastrophe known as the Middle Passage It is a history that requires its own ideas that emerge organically from the societies that experienced the Middle Passage and its consequences firsthand Glissant and the Middle Passage offers a new important approach to this neglected calamity by examining the thought of douard Glissant particularly his development of Caribbeanness as a critical concept rooted in the experience of the slave trade and its aftermath in colonialism In dialogue with key theorists of catastrophe and trauma including Aim C saire Frantz Fanon George Lamming Gilles Deleuze F lix Guattari Derek Walcott as well as key figures in Holocaust studies Glissant and the Middle Passage hones a sharp sense of the specifically Caribbean varieties of loss developing them into a transformative philosophical idea Using the Plantation as a critical concept John E Drabinski creolizes notions of rhizome and nomad examining what kinds of aesthetics grow from these roots and offering reconsiderations of what constitutes intellectual work and cultural production Glissant and the Middle Passage establishes Glissant's proper place as a key theorist of ruin catastrophe abyss and memory Identifying his insistence on memories and histories tied to place as the crucial geography at the heart of his work this book imparts an innovative new response to the specific historical experiences of the Middle Passage
