Ai Weiwei Spatial Matters Art Architecture And Activism:

Ai Weiwei: Spatial Matters Ai Weiwei, 2014-04-04 A richly illustrated exploration of Ai Weiwei's installation and architecture projects focusing on the artist's use of space. Outspoken, provocative and prolific, the artist Ai Weiwei is an international phenomenon. In recent years, he has produced an astonishingly varied body of work while continuing his role as activist, provocateur and conscience of a nation. Ai Weiwei is under city arrest in Beijing after an 81-day imprisonment; he is accused of tax evasion, but many suspect he is being punished for his political activism, including his exposure of shoddy school building practices that led to the deaths of thousands of children in the 2008 Sichuan earthquake. In 2009, he was badly beaten by the police during his earthquake investigations. Ai Weiwei's work reflects his multiple artistic identities as conceptual artist, architect, filmmaker, designer, curator, writer and publisher. This monumental volume, developed in association with the artist, draws on the full breadth of Ai Weiwei's architectural installation and activist work, with a focus on his use of space. It documents a huge range of international projects with drawings, plans and photographs of finished work. It also includes excerpts from Ai Weiwei's famous blog, shut down by Chinese authorities in 2009, in which he offers pithy and scathing commentary on the world around him. Essays by leading critics and art historians and interviews with the artist drawing out his central concerns accompany the 450 beautifully reproduced color illustrations of his work. Landscape

Theory in Design Susan Herrington, 2016-12-08 Phenomenology, Materiality, Cybernetics, Palimpsest, Cyborgs, Landscape, Urbanism, Typology, Semiotics. Deconstruction, the minefield of theoretical ideas that students must navigate today, can be utterly confusing, and how do these theories translate to the design studio? Landscape Theory in Design introduces theoretical ideas to students without the use of jargon or an assumption of extensive knowledge in other fields, and in doing so, links these ideas to the processes of design. In five thematic chapters, Susan Herrington explains the theoretic groundings of the theory of philosophy, why it matters to design, an example of the theory in a work of landscape architecture from the twentieth and twenty-first centuries, debates surrounding the theory, particularly as they elaborate modern and postmodern thought, and primary readings that can be read as companions to her text. An extensive glossary of theoretical terms also adds a vital contribution to students' comprehension of theories relevant to the design of landscapes and gardens. Covering the design of over 40 landscape architects, architects and designers in 111 distinct projects from 20 different countries, Landscape Theory in Design is essential reading for any student of the landscape. Culture on Two Wheels Jeremy

Withers, Daniel P. Shea, 2016-07-01 Bicycles have more cultural identities than many realize, functioning not only as literal vehicles in a text but also as vehicles for that text's themes, ideas and critiques. In the late nineteenth century, the bicycle was seen as a way for the wealthy urban elite to reconnect with nature and for women to gain a measure of personal freedom, while during World War II it became a utilitarian tool of the French Resistance, and in the 1970s, China stood for wealth and modernization. Lately, it has functioned variously as the favored ideological steed of environmentalists, a means of community

bonding and aesthetic self expression in hip hop and the ride of choice for bike messenger idolizing urban hipsters Culture on Two Wheels analyzes the shifting cultural significance of the bicycle by examining its appearances in literary musical and cinematic works spanning three continents and more than 125 years of history Bringing together essays by a variety of cyclists and scholars with myriad angles of approach this collection highlights the bicycle's flexibility as a signifier and analyzes the appearance of bicycles in canonical and well known texts such as Samuel Beckett's modernist novel Molloy the Oscar winning film Breaking Away and various Stephen King novels and stories as well as in lesser known but equally significant texts such as the celebrated Russian director Andrei Tarkovsky's film Sacrifice and Elizabeth Robins Pennell's nineteenth century travelogue A Canterbury Pilgrimage the latter of which traces the route of Chaucer's pilgrims via bicycle Listen to an interview with the author The Politics of Compassion Bin Xu, 2017-08-22 The 2008 Sichuan earthquake killed 87 000 people and left 5 million homeless In response to the devastation an unprecedented wave of volunteers and civic associations streamed into Sichuan to offer help The Politics of Compassion examines how civically engaged citizens acted on the ground how they understood the meaning of their actions and how the political climate shaped their actions and understandings Using extensive data from interviews observations and textual materials Bin Xu shows that the large scale civic engagement was not just a natural outpouring of compassion but also a complex social process both enabled and constrained by the authoritarian political context While volunteers expressed their sympathy toward the affected people's suffering many avoided explicitly talking about the causes of the suffering particularly in the case of the collapse of thousands of schools Xu shows that this silence and apathy is explained by a general inability to discuss politically sensitive issues while living in a repressive state This book is a powerful account of how the widespread death and suffering caused by the earthquake illuminates the moral political dilemma faced by Chinese citizens and provides a window into the world of civic engagement in contemporary China Recovery from Disaster Ian Davis, David Alexander, 2015-08-20 Disasters can dominate newspaper headlines and fill our TV screens with relief appeals but the complex long term challenge of recovery providing shelter rebuilding safe dwellings restoring livelihoods and shattered lives generally fails to attract the attention of the public and most agencies On average 650 disasters occur each year They affect more than 200 million people and cause 166 trillion of damage Climate change population growth and urbanisation are likely to intensify further the impact of natural disasters and add to reconstruction needs Recovery from Disaster explores the field and provides a concise comprehensive source of knowledge for academics planners architects engineers construction managers relief and development officials and reconstruction planners involved with all sectors of recovery including shelter and rebuilding With almost 80 years of first hand experience of disaster recovery between them Ian Davis an architect and David Alexander a geographer draw substantially from first hand experiences in a variety of recovery situations in China Haiti Italy Japan New Zealand Pakistan the Philippines and the USA The volume is further enriched by two important and unique features 21 models of disaster recovery are presented seven of which were specifically developed for the book The second feature is a survey of expert opinion about the nature of effective disaster recovery the first of its kind More than 50 responses are provided in full along with an analysis that integrates them with the theories that underpin them By providing a framework and models for future study and applications Davis and Alexander seek both to advance the field and to provide a much needed reference work for decision makers With a broad perspective derived from the authors roles held as university professors researchers trainers consultants NGO directors and advisors to governments and UN agencies this comprehensive guide will be invaluable for practitioners and students of disaster management

Transformative Jars Anna Grasskamp, Anne Gerritsen, 2022-12-29 The term jar refers to any man made shape with the capacity to enclose something Few objects are as universal and multi functional as a jar and this book shows that jars are part of human experience throughout time and space regardless of whether they contain food or drink matter or a void life giving medicine or the ashes of the deceased As ubiquitous as such containers storage vessels and urns might be Transformative Jars addresses a scholarly absence by bringing together an interdisciplinary team of scholars to offer non archaeological perspectives The contributors to this volume understand jars not only as household utensils or evidence of human civilizations but also as artefacts in their own right Asian jars are culturally and aesthetically defined crafted goods and as objects charged with spiritual meanings and ritual significance Transformative Jars situates Asian jars in a global context and focus on relationships between the filling emptying and re filling of jars with a variety of contents through time and throughout space in relation to the charging and re charging of these objects with different sets of meanings Detailed analysis of a broad range of objects shows jars to be transcultural containers that mediate between content and environment exterior worlds and interior enclosures local and global this worldly and other worldly realms By looking at jars as things in the hands of makers users and collectors this book presents these objects as agents of change in cultures of craftsmanship and consumption

Structures and Architecture Paulo J. Cruz, 2016-10-14 Although the disciplines of architecture and structural engineering have both experienced their own historical development their interaction has resulted in many fascinating and delightful structures To take this interaction to a higher level there is a need to stimulate the inventive and creative design of architectural structures and to persuade architects and structural engineers to further collaborate in this process exploiting together new concepts applications and challenges This set of book of abstracts and full paper searchable CD ROM presents selected papers presented at the 3rd International Conference on Structures and Architecture Conference ICSA2016 organized by the School of Architecture of the University of Minho Guimar es Portugal July 2016 to promote the synergy in the collaboration between the disciplines of architecture and structural engineering

Monumental cares Mechtild Widrich, 2023-01-31 Monumental cares rethinks monument debates site specificity and art activism in light of problems that strike us as monumental or overwhelming such as war migration and the climate crisis The book shows how artists address these issues from Chicago and Berlin to Oslo

Bucharest and Hong Kong in media ranging from marble and glass to postcards graffiti and re enactment A multidirectional theory of site does justice to specific places but also to how far away audiences see them What emerges is a new ethics of care in public art combined with a passionate engagement with reality harking back to the realist aesthetics of the nineteenth century Familiar questions can be answered anew what to do with monuments particularly when they are the products of terror and require removal modification or recontextualisation And can art address the monumental concerns of our present
