Fundamentals of Plan Making Edward J. Jepson, Jr., Jerry Weitz, 2020-12-14 Urban and regional planning programs aspire to prepare practitioners to write and implement comprehensive plans Yet academic planning programs often place greater emphasis on theory than practice To help address this gap Fundamentals of Plan Making gives planning students an understanding of research and methods of analysis that apply to comprehensive planning Its informative text and examples will help students develop familiarity with various data sources and acquire the knowledge and ability to conduct basic planning analyses such as population projections housing needs assessments development impact analyses and land use plans Students will also learn how to implement the various citizen participation methods used by planners and develop an appreciation of the values and roles of practicing planners In this revised second edition Edward Jepson and Jerry Weitz bring their extensive experience as practicing planners and teaching faculty to give planning students the practical hands on tools they need to create and implement real plans and policies With an entirely new census data set expanded discussions of sustainability and other topics as well as new online resources including a companion website the book is now more accessible and more informative and its updated chapters on transportation housing environment economic development and other core planning elements also make it a handy reference for planning practitioners Planning in the USA J. Routledge Handbook of University-Community Partnerships in Planning Education Megan E. Heim LaFrombois, Jay Mittal, 2023-10-11 This handbook explores two guiding questions how can university community partnerships in planning education work and how can they be transformative University community partnerships often referred to as service learning or community engaged teaching and learning are traditionally based on a collaborative relationship between an academic partner and a community based partner in which students from the academic partner work within the community on a project Transformational approaches to university community partnerships are approaches that develop and sustain mutually beneficial collaborations where knowledge is co created and new ways of knowing and doing are discovered This edited volume examines a variety of university community partnerships in planning education from a number of different perspectives with a focus on transformative models The authors explore broader theoretical issues including topics relating to pedagogy planning theory and curriculum along with more practical topics relating to best practices logistics institutional support outcome measures and the various forms these partnerships can take all through an array of case studies The authors which include academics professional practitioners academic practitioners and students bring an incredible depth and breadth of knowledge and
