Adult apprenticeships Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2012-05-17 The Department for Business Innovation and Skills works with the Skills Funding Agency the Agency and the National Apprenticeship Service the Service to deliver the Apprenticeship Programme Adult apprentices represented 325 500 or 71% of the 457 200 apprentices who started their apprenticeship in the 2010 11 academic year During the 2010 11 financial year the Department spent 451 million on adult

apprenticeships The Programme has been a success more than quadrupling the number of adult apprenticeships in the four years to 2010 11 and the proportion of adult apprentices successfully completing their apprenticeship has also risen from around a third in 2004 05 to over three quarters in 2010 11 Further work however needs to be done to maximise its impacts The Department should improve its understanding of which apprenticeships offer the biggest returns The Service should give both employers and individuals better information about the benefits arising from different types of apprenticeship as well as about the quality of the many training providers The Service should do more to increase the number of employers offering apprenticeships and to increase the proportion of advanced skill level apprenticeships achieved moving England closer to the levels delivered in other European countries Importantly around one in five apprenticeships lasted for six months or less The Service accepts concern that apprenticeships lasting for such a short period are of no proper benefit to either individuals or employers The Service says it is tackling the problem but it needs to do more to guarantee the length and quality of training especially the off the job training apprentices receive

Handbook of Corporate University Development Geoff Peters, 2017-11-28 From the moment the first corporate university CU was created and the term was coined the central metaphor of university has proved a double edged sword The emphasis on university has been a driving force in moving companies beyond a restricted and siloed approach to training to a central vision for learning within the organization On the other hand there have been failures and many corporate universities have struggled to bring a business rigour to learning or to align their development with the key business and financial drivers of the organization Handbook of Corporate University Development draws on experience from around the world to provide anyone responsible for strategy and learning at senior levels in government education and business with a picture of current best practice The Handbook is not a prescriptive how to rather an exploration of key issues such as Who owns a corporate university initiative How is the funding managed How is the CU aligned with business strategy How do CU directors and project managers deploy resources How do they deal with suppliers How do they report and measure CU performance What are the processes and technologies needed to provide and support different forms of learning How can you blend different media How do you assess what learning has taken place What are the future prospects and potential for corporate universities It is time for the corporate university to demonstrate how business rigour handled deftly and with strong and perceptive leadership can revolutionize learning both inside and outside the organization Handbook of Corporate University Development is an important catalyst towards this process
