CONTROLS

Gasoline Supply Valve

The gasoline supply valve is located under the gas tank. Gasoline to carburetor is shut off when handle is in horizontal position. Turning the handle down to vertical position turns on main gasoline supply; turning handle up to vertical position turns on reserve supply. Valve should always be closed when engine is not running.

Use a good quality "Premium" grade leaded gasoline. If "Premium" grade is not available, "Regular" grade may be used temporarily.

Do not use unleaded gasoline grades such as "No-Lead."

Do not operate the motorcycle with the fuel valve in the "Reserve" position after refueling to always maintain reserve fuel supply.

Ignition-Light Key Switch

Electrical circuits are controlled by a key operated switch (3, figure 2 or 4) located below seat on left side of motorcycle. From OFF vertical position, there are two positions
