and the 'Invention' of Opera F. Kersten, 2013-04-18 Intended for scholars in the fields of philosophy history of science and music this book examines the legacy of the historical coincidence of the emergence of science and opera in the early modern period But instead of regarding them as finished products or examining their genesis or common ground or parallel ideas opera and science are explored by a phenomenology of the formulations of consciousness Gurwitsch as compossible tasks to be accomplished in common Schutz which share an ideal possibility or essence Husserl Although the ideas of Galileo and Monteverdi form the parameters of the domain of phenomenological clarification the scope of discussion extends from Classical ideas of science and music down to the beginning of the nineteenth century but always with reference to the experience of sharing the sociality of a common world from which they are drawn Plessner and to which those ideas have given shape meaning and even substance At the same time this approach provides a non historicist alternative to understanding the arts and science of the modern period by critically clarifying the idea of whether their compossibility can rest on any other formulation of consciousness China and Its Others James St. André, Hsiao-yen Peng, 2012-01 This volume brings together some of the latest research by scholars from the UK Taiwan and Hong Kong to examine a variety of issues relating to the history of translation between China and Europe aimed at increasing dialogue between Chinese studies and translation studies Covering the nineteenth century to the present the essays tackle a number of important issues including the role of relay translation hybridity and transculturation methods for the incorporation of foreign words and concepts the problems entailed by the importation of foreign paradigms and epistemes the role of public institutions the issue of agency and the role of metaphors to conceptualize translation By examining the dissemination of certain key terms from the West to the East often through pivotal languages and by laying bare the transformation of knowledge conveyed through these terms the essays go well beyond the difference and similarity comparison model in the investigation of East West relations demonstrating that transcultural hybridity is a more meaningful topic to pursue Moreover they demonstrate how the translator always working simultaneously under several domestic and foreign institutions needs to resort to selection deletion and compromise in other words personal free choice when negotiating among institutional powers Himalaya

Context and Culture in Language Teaching Claire Kramsch,1993-06-17 This book takes cultural knowledge in language learning not only as a necessary aspect of communicative competence but as an educational objective in its own right If the aim of foreign language education is to foster cross cultural awareness and self realization language pedagogy needs to come to grips with a range of fundamental issues what do we mean by cultural context Can discourse practices be taught like rules of grammar What role does literature play in the development of second language literacy How can learners acquire both an insider's and an outsider's understanding of the foreign culture as expressed through its language. By exploring these and other issues, the book can help language teachers reflect on their profession and place it within its larger societal and educational context. In turn, they can help learners become not only skilful users of the language but also active architects of a new cross-cultural world order.

Big Tradition and Chinese Mythological Studies Jiansheng Hu, 2020-08-11 This book focuses on reinterpreting mythical China from the perspective of the cultural theory of big tradition. It is divided into two parts: the first explains the theoretical development and features of the Chinese version of big tradition, identifying the differences between the Eastern and Western cultural traditions, big tradition and great tradition. The second part then reinterprets the core values and mythical ideas of Chinese civilization and traditional culture from the perspective of big tradition. Moving beyond the small tradition of text centrism and using new methods and materials, the book reveals the original meaning and the cultural coding function of big tradition during the preliterate period. Drawing on integrated evidence from literature handed down from ancient times, oral and intangible cultural heritage, tangible culture, cross-cultures, image culture, and unearthed documents, the book interprets Chinese cultural traditions and spiritual values from local archaeological, experiential, and survival perspectives to help readers better understand the mythical codes and genes of early Chinese culture.

□□□ Modern Chinese for Heritage Beginners Yan Liu, Jingjing Ji, Grace Wu, Min-Min Liang, 2023-04-21 Modern Chinese for Heritage Beginners aims to serve as a stepping stone for Chinese heritage language learners' future Chinese learning, inspiring them to reflect on their identities, learn Chinese American history, and embrace their cultural heritage. The book starts with talking about individuals and families and then expands to the Chinese and Asian American communities in the U.S. and eventually to the entire American society, all from the unique perspective of Chinese American students. Taking a macro approach that builds learners' literacy skills on their initial abilities in speaking and listening, each lesson starts with listening and speaking activities and then moves to reading and writing. The content complexity and language difficulty are balanced to present rich content that matches students' critical thinking abilities in a language appropriate for their literacy level. Lively and humorous language makes the book a joy to read. Each lesson has a conversation and an essay to expose students to informal and formal registers. Moreover, authentic tasks are designed to facilitate students' language output following the three modes of communication promoted by the American Council on Teaching Foreign Languages: interpersonal, interpretive, and presentational. This theme-based Chinese textbook is written for high school and college-level Chinese heritage language learners.
